OBITUARIES.

Louisiana Conference.

JOSEPH GOULD was born in the parish of La Fourche, Louisiana, in 1824, and died in New Orleans, March 1, 1886. He was converted to God just before the late civil war. He early felt the call to preach the Gospel, and was licensed to preach, soon after his conversion, by Father Green. By close application he secured a ready and available knowledge of the sacred Scriptures, and became a successful preacher and pastor. Born in slavery, when freed, he used his newly acquired liberty to prepare himself as best he could for the work of the ministry. He was one of the pioneer preachers of our work in the South. He was admitted on trial in the Mississippi Mission Conference, Dec. 15, 1866, and was ordained to deacon's orders by Bishop Ames the following year. January 30, 1870, he was ordained an elder by Bishop Scott. During the years of his ministry he served with much success the Jefferson Circuit, Ross Chapel, First Street Church, Wesley Chapel, Simpson Chapel, four years a presiding elder of the Baton Rouge District, and closed his active ministry after spending the years 1881–82 at Simpson Church. January, 1883, he was granted a certificate of location at his own request by Bishop Hurst. This relation he continued to hold until January, 1886, when he was readmitted and granted a supernumerary relation. He died in great peace at his home in New Orleans.

Saint John's River Conference.

CHARLES L. HANLON came to us a stranger, and remained but a short time. He was a native of Ohio. His scholastic attainments were many. Most of his ministerial labors were among the Baptists, and he came to Florida as a Baptist minister. Finally his thoughts turned again to the Church of his fathers and the Church of his early choice. Finding an open door he at once entered, and with "a glad heart and willing mind," took upon himself our ordination vows and entered the field again as an itinerant minister. During the latter part of the year 1885 Brother Hanlon was employed as a supply on the Sharon Circuit of Indian River Mission. At the last Quarterly Conference of that year he was received as a local preacher and recommended to the Florida Annual Conference for the recognition of his orders as an elder and for admission into the traveling connection. These recommendations were duly honored by the Annual Conference, and he was appointed to the Indian River Mission. But God had appointed him to a higher mission, and took him away at the end of the first quarter. On leaving us he returned to Ohio, and died soon after. He died well, for he had lived well—a humble, trusting child of God; and we here inscribe to his memory "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." He was a man of a sound mind and a matured judgment. His mind was not brilliant, but practical; not very active, but steady and constant in the methods of its work. He was eminently a safe man, prudent and careful at every step. His affable manners and amiable disposition secured him friends wherever he went. As a preacher, he was above mediocrity. His sermons were plain and practical, evincing careful thought rather than thorough investigation. They were full of Christ and of practical piety, "warning every man and teaching every man." He was a good preacher and an earnest, faithful, holy man of God.

South Carolina Conference.

PATRICK FAIR was born in Greenville County in 1848, and passed from earth to glory at Seneca City, Sept. 9, 1886. He passed out of time into eternity in his thirty-eighth year. He was admitted to the South Carolina Conference on probation at Sumter, Jan. 22, 1877, and appointed to the Soluda Circuit. During the session of the Conference at Columbia, 1878, he was assigned to the Saint Mark's Circuit again with Brother Gray, and in 1879 to Ninety-Six. In 1880 he was ordained, and was appointed to Edgefield. In 1881 to Seneca; in 1882 to Westminster; 1883-85, to Cowpens Circuit, and last year he was appointed to the Gammon School of Theology by Bishop Andrews. There he was looked upon as a Christian gentleman and a good student. He leaves a good Christian character behind him. Our brother has fallen, but he died a triumphant death.

ROBERT G. CLINTON was born in York County, 1854, and died on his field of labor at Welford, on Oct. 10, 1886. He joined the traveling connection during the Conference at Anderson, Jan. 1886, and was appointed to Welford Circuit. Thus early in the great work of his Master has he fallen and gone to his long home, to await the general call of the long roll.

WILLIAM S. HARRIS was born in Lexington County, S. C., 1852, and died in holy, triumphant faith February 4, 1886. His early educational advantages were quite limited, but by dint of earnest perseverance he mastered, unassisted, the three R's, and afterward became a student at Claflin University. He led his class in the Conference course of studies. He was licensed local preacher in 1875, and was admitted into the traveling connection on trial in 1883. He served the Pineville Circuit acceptably for three years. He was ordained deacon in 1885, and at his death was eligible to the eldership. Last year he was appointed to Elizabeth Charge; but he is not, for the Lord took him.

GEORGE F. FREEMAN died at his native home, Saint Stephen's, Berkeley County, June 16, 1886, in the fifty-sixth year of his age. He was a local preacher for fifteen years, and was admitted on trial at the session of 1886. He did faithful and acceptable work for the Master, and was highly esteemed for his Christian character. He was appointed to the Eutawville Circuit, seventeen miles distant from his home, and after laboring five days in the week for the support of his family, he would walk to his appointment on Saturday and deliver the Word of Life to the people.

THOMAS WRIGHT was born at Yorkville, S. C., about fifty years ago, and departed this life at Orangeburg, Nov. 5, 1886. He joined the South Carolina Conference in its earliest incipiency at Camden, at the Conference held by Bishop Janes in 1869, and was ordained deacon at the same Conference. He was appointed to the Yorkville Charge, where he labored for three years. In 1870 he was ordained elder. Brother Wright was a faithful worker for his Master. He was in labors abundant up to the time of his death. In 1884, at the Sumter Conference, age had begun to tell on him, and he was placed on the superannuated list. A good man has fallen, and the South Carolina Conference has lost a faithful soldier. But he is not dead; he sleepeth, to awake at the call of the general roll.

VINCENT H. BULKLEY was born on Sullivan's Island, S. C., May 25, 1835, and died at Camden, S. C., Oct. 18, 1886. He was converted in "Old Trinity Basement," Charleston, in 1852. He was joined in marriage in Greenville, Dec. 24, 1859, to Miss D. E. Wilson. He joined the Annual Conference on trial in 1866, and was admitted into full connection in 1869. His first appointment was at Greenville District. He then served the charge at Columbia, where he organized a Church and erected a chapel mainly with his own hands. As presiding elder he did heroic work on the Saluda and Columbia Districts during eight years. At the expiration of his terms as presiding elder he was returned to the pastorate, and served two years at Orangeburg Station, where he remodeled and re-fitted the parsonage and church; two years at Sumter, whose rostrum and pulpit bear the impress of his mechanical genius, and at Camden, where he was closing out the second year of a successful ministry when he received his final appointment at God's right hand. He was honored by being chosen by the Board of Bishops a representative to the Ecumenical Conference of Methodism, held in London, England. To speak of him as he was is to praise him; to describe his daily walk and conversation, as he lived and moved and had his being, is his highest eulogy. Simplicity, purity, and earnestness were his chief attributes; guileless and unaffected as a child, he was wise with more than worldly wisdom.

HENRY CARDOZO was born in Charleston, S. C., Sept. 1, 1830, and died at Columbia, S. C., Feb. 21, 1886, soon after the adjournment of the Conference held at Anderson Court-house. He united with the Church in early life. In 1858 he removed to Cleveland, O., on account of the oppressive laws of South Carolina, where he remained until the close of the late war, and returned to South Carolina in 1868, and reunited with Centenary Church. He was licensed local preacher while residing at Camden, S. C.; was elected lay delegate to the General Conference of 1872; was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes in the year 1870, and elder by Bishop Haven in 1874. He entered the South Carolina Conference held at Camden in the year 1876, and was appointed to Columbia Station, filling that appointment for three successive years. In 1880 he took a certificate of location, and, with his family, removed West, in order, as he stated, to educate his children where there is less prejudice against color. While out West he had charge of the Methodist missions at Topeka, Kan., and Los Angeles, Cal. He, with his family, removed to Cincinnati, O., and was placed in charge of Seventh Street Church for two years. He returned to South Carolina in the latter part of 1882, and supplied the Church at Cheraw for three months. In 1883 he re-entered the South Carolina Conference, and was appointed to Old Bethel, Charleston, S. C., and was reappointed for three years, where he served the Church faithfully as a Christian gentleman and a model pastor. At the Conference held at Anderson Court-house in 1886 he was a second time appointed to Columbia Station, Wesley Church. He died in great peace on the holy Sabbath in the fifty-fifth year of his age. During the days of "reconstruction" he served the State in the capacity of auditor of Kershaw County from 1868 to 1870, and senator from the same county in the Legislature of the State from 1870 to 1874.

Arkansas Conference.

JOHN C. BLANTON was born, 1842, in Carroll County, Ark., and died Sept. 3, 1886, at Ellsworth, Ark. He was converted in 1872, and joined the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. He was married to Miss Etta Elkins in 1870. In 1881 he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was licensed to preach, and admitted into the Arkansas Conference on trial. He served the Church two years. Brother Blanton was a faithful and earnest preacher. He leaves a wife and four small children.

Virginia Conference.

JAMES MURRAY was born in Newtown, Worcester County, Md., on Aug. 11, 1814, and died April 26, 1886, in the same town in which he was born, now called Roanoke City. He was converted to God when he was a young man, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He became a member of the Virginia Conference in 1870, and that year traveled on Middlebrook Circuit; in 1871 on the Moore Circuit, 1872 on Herndon and Fairfax County; in 1874 he was stationed at Old Point, Va.; he afterward traveled a short time on Fairfax Circuit, where his health failed, and he retired to his home at Roanoke City, where he died. He was a man of strong faith, and was truly loyal to the Church of his choice, to his country, and his God. He was much beloved by his brethren. He passed away in the triumphs of faith.

ANDREW W. BOONE was born in Franklin County, Va., Sept. 3, 1830. He was converted in 1858, Soon after he joined the Church he was licensed as a local preacher, and served as a supply one or two years in the bounds of the Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He was received into the Methodist Episcopal Church by the Floyd Quarterly Conference, E. P. Phelps presiding. In December, 1868, he was admitted on trial in the traveling connection in our Conference at its first session held in Alexandria, Va., March, 1869. His first appointment was at Christiansburg and Roanoke Circuit, where he was instrumental, under God, in winning many souls to Christ. He was subsequently appointed as follows: Floyd Circuit, Fincastle and Salem, Roanoke, Franklin, Auburn, Pulaski and West Floyd, Floyd, Grayson, Franklin, Auburn. In 1883, because of failing health, he asked for and obtained a supernumerary relation. During this year of rest his health improved so that at the Conference of 1884 he was made effective, and appointed to the Floyd Circuit. At the Conference of 1885 he was returned to Floyd. During this year his health again gave way, and not being able to attend the last session of our Conference he asked, through his presiding elder, a supernumerary relation, which was granted. About the first of last August he was confined to his bed, and after a few weeks of severe suffering, on Sept. 4, 1886, at his home near Locust Grove, in Floyd County, Va., he calmly and peacefully fell asleep in Jesus; so that we may truthfully say our dear brother and fellow-laborer in the cause of Christ is not dead, but sleepeth.

Missouri Conference.

W. D. LEE was born in Carroll County, O., Jan. 27, 1828. He united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in his eighteenth year. He moved to De Kalb County, Mo., in 1865, and organized a class of twelve persons at Maysville, Mo. Brother Lee was licensed to preach in 1869, and was admitted on trial in the Missouri Conference in 1870. He was appointed to the Gentryville Circuit, and returned to the same charge in 1871. He was admitted into full connection in 1872 and appointed to the Saint Joseph Circuit, to which he was returned in 1873. In 1874 he was granted a supernumerary relation, which, owing to failing health, was soon changed to a superannuated relation. He died Nov. 21, 1886. Brother Lee was faithful to God and the Church of his choice, safe in counsel, and a true friend of the itinerant.

FRANCIS S. CORRAN was born Oct. 22, 1850, in Dorchester County, Md., and died Oct. 23, 1886, in Green Castle, Mo. He was converted in 1867, and at once joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. In the spring of 1872 he came to Knox County, Mo., and engaged actively in Church work. Feeling it to be his duty to preach the Gospel, he determined to prepare himself by attending college, toiling with his own hands to secure means to pay his way at Lewis College, Glasgow, Mo., where he was graduated in 1880. He was at once employed by the presiding elder of Kansas City District. He joined the Saint Louis Conference in 1881, and was appointed as follows. Belton and Lee Summit Charge, Eighteenth Street, Kansas City, and Centerview. In 1884 he was transferred to the Missouri Conference, and appointed to the Carrollton Circuit, and returned in 1885; in 1886 to Green City and Green Castle. On Oct. 23 of the same year he was transferred to heaven by the chief Shepherd and Bishop of our souls. The Church militant has lost a faithful servant, the wife an affectionate husband. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Andrews in 1883, and elder by Bishop Fowler in 1885. He was married to Miss Servilla J. House, of Belton, Mo., Nov. 1, 1882. She was a faithful and self-sacrificing wife.

Baltimore Conference.

James H. Brown, senior member of the Baltimore Conference, has fallen. He was born at Mount Vernon Furnace, Lancaster County, Pa., Aug. 20, 1807. His early boyhood was sanctified under the prayers and instruction of his godly mother, and the deathless principles of piety were most readily received in his heart. At a camp-meeting on old Shrewsbury grounds, Sept. 5, 1826, he, being powerfully wrought upon of the Spirit, prostrated himself before God at the altar. Two weeks afterward, alone, and at night, while reading his Bible—his mother's parting gift—there came what he terms the positive evidence of salvation. Light streamed down upon his upturned face, and he shouted aloud the praises of God. In the spring of 1829 he joined the Baltimore Conference, and, with Samuel Ellis, was appointed to Bellefonte. He served the following circuits: Lycoming, Sunbury, and Liberty; when he was appointed to City Station, Baltimore. Brother Brown was assigned to the sixth district, and succeeded Dr. Sargent. In 1834 he was placed in the fifth, or Oldtown District of the same charge, and in 1835 was sent to Fredericksburg, Va. In 1836 his appointment was West Baltimore, comprising then Summerfield and Whatcoat chapels; 1837 Gettysburg Circuit, where, on Feb. 26, he was united in marriage to his beloved companion, Miss Ann Maria Hines. He was appointed to Shippensburg Station, Frederick City, Md.; Montgomery, Ebenezer Station, Washington, D. C.; Chambersburg, Pa.; Staunton, Va.; Baltimore City Station, Carlisle Station, Pa.; Lewistown, Wesley Chapel, Washington, D. C., where he was instrumental in beginning the formation of the society which afterward became the present flourishing Waugh Station. In 1855–56 he was stationed at Martinsburg, Va. In 1857, the Conference dividing, and the East Baltimore Conference being formed, he fell into the latter division, and was sent to East Baltimore Station. In 1859 he was placed in charge of Whatcoat Station. At the Conference of 1860 he was elected a delegate to the General Conference at Buffalo, N. Y. In 1861 his relation was changed to supernumerary. Thenceforward his was a roving commission—free to preach wherever his services were required. For a while after the war he taught a class of colored ministers. With his wife he had for some three or four summers visited Ocean Grove. In 1883 he became convinced he had looked the last upon the ocean until he should behold that other ruddy sea shining in beauty before the throne of the great God. On Nov. 7, 1883, the companion of forty-seven years left him for the better country. The shadows quickly came upon Brother Brown. He grew weary. He spent the hours looking out into the West, whither his heart had long wandered. There was a calm looking for of release: he beckoned the messenger dimly discerned in the distance bearing from the King the order for his discharge. Then it was that God gently loosed the golden cord, and the weary, white-haired pilgrim fell asleep, March 15, 1886.

Thomas Reese Marsh was born in Baltimore County, Md., on Jan. 29, 1855, and died at Mount Savage, Md., on Jan. 10, 1887, in the thirty-second year of his age. His early life was spent upon the farm, and such were the circumstances of his home that he was precluded from school privileges save in the winter months. Under a system of nine months' work and three months' schooling progress in knowledge must necessarily have been very slow. When fourteen years of age he gave his heart to God and professed saving faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and then united with the Methodist Episcopal Church on Hereford Circuit. In March, 1881, he was received on trial into the Baltimore Conference at Martinsburg, W. Va., and stationed at Old Town, where he had already served as a supply. In 1882–84 he was appointed to Elk Garden, in 1885–86 to Rawlings. A vacancy having occurred at Mount Savage, he was transferred from Rawlings to that station by the presiding elder. Brother Marsh removed to Mount Savage in the month of Nov. 1886. Within three weeks he had visited and introduced himself to all the families of his new charge, and had endeared himself to all the people. This three weeks' work was all that he was permitted to accomplish at Mount Savage, for he was taken sick, as he supposed, with a slight cold; it developed into a slow type of typhoid fever. Although carefully nursed, and receiving the very best of medical attention, it was impossible to arrest the progress of the disease. As a preacher Brother Marsh was a careful sermonizer, and those who sat under his ministry were edified, and provoked to increased spiritual life. He had numerous seals to his ministry. As a pastor he visited from house to house, and possibly in this line attained the greatest measure of his success. As to his own personal experience, it was always clear and spiritual. He seemed ever to have been with Christ and to have learned of him. He could consistently say to his people, "Follow me as I follow Christ."

Jeremiah Wesley Cullum was born in East Baltimore Feb. 18, 1808, and died at his residence, 167 North Stricken Street, on April 30, 1886, in the seventy-ninth year of his age. When but eight years of age, in a Sabbath school at Powhattan, Baltimore County, he was led to Christ. In 1832 he was admitted into the Baltimore Conference and sent to Christiansburg Circuit in Virginia. It was the universal custom then to change a young man every year. In 1833 he went to Franklin Circuit. The next year to Huntersville Circuit, in the mountains of Pocahontas County, Va. Here he would preach, eat, and sleep in the same room. In 1835 he went to Craig's Creek Mission, in 1836 to Monroe Circuit, in 1837 to Lost River Mission, in 1838 to South Branch. He was now married to Miss Margaret Blair of Augusta County, Va. Then, but more so now, a premium was given to young men to marry by providing better fields of labor. His appointments were now of a better class, with the opportunity of more culture. In 1839–40 he went to Moorefield Circuit, Virginia. In 1841 to that Maryland paradise for preachers, Hartford County. In 1842–43 to Baltimore, at Sharp Street and Asbury, containing some of the best and most cultured of our colored members. In 1847 his health failed, and he took a superannuated relation for one year, after which he received the following appointments: Dallas Street Station, Castle Fin Circuit, Montgomery, and Boonsborough. In 1856 he was appointed Agent of the Maryland Colonization Society, in which he served well. The next year he was supernumerary. In 1860 he was reappointed to the agency, and served one year. The war came when that organization had served its day and finished its work. He was then superannuated for four years. Regaining his health somewhat, and loving his Master's work, he was made supernumerary for the following six years. A vacancy occurring in Columbia Avenue Station he served it for a portion of a year very acceptably. In 1870 he was early sent to Liberty Circuit, Brother Feelenmyer's health having failed, and was reappointed in 1871. Then to Hempstead Circuit for three years, when in 1875 he took his last supernumerary relation, and in 1882 was superannuated until his death. His second marriage was to Mrs. Esther Bickerton, daughter of the late Rev. Thomas Freeman, so well known as an active missionary in Baltimore city. His wife survived him some two months, and joined him in the heavenly kingdom. As a preacher Dr. Cullum was without pretense. Humble in spirit, simple in manners, sound in doctrine and practice, and experimental in the application of truth. He was thoroughly Methodistic in his pulpit ministrations. If we were required to sum up his character in one word the selection would be purity. His piety never failed to impress the people of every charge he served and was itself a ministration which blessed the Church, for the promotion of whose welfare he consecrated all the powers with which he was endowed. For such a man to die was more than gain. When the summons came it found him ready.

New Jersey Conference.

Gildon Elvin was born in Toynton All Saints, Lincolnshire, England, Oct. 8, 1856, and died at Pennsgrove, N. J., Jan. 10, 1887, aged thirty years. When he was twelve years old his mother removed from England to America and settled at Gloucester City, removing from thence in 1871 to Haddonfield, N. J., where he lived, working at his trade as a blacksmith. In January, 1877, while residing in Haddonfield, he was hopefully converted to God. He had been seeking the Lord for some time, and was attending an early morning meeting when he felt the great change. His conversion was so clear as to leave no room for doubt in his mind, and was a subject of great consolation to him in his subsequent Christian life. In the following year, 1878, Rev. J. H. Mickle, impressed with his consistent Christian character, licensed him an exhorter, and in the following year he was granted a local preacher's license and sent to supply the Church at Cross Keys, N. J. Here he was eminently successful. His sermons were earnest and pointed appeals to believers to consecrate themselves more fully to the Master, and to unbelievers to accept Christ and be saved. As a result of his ministry here, the Church was much quickened, and forty-four souls were converted and added to the Church. In 1881 and again in 1882 he was employed as supply for the Church at Hamilton Square, New Jersey. There two years were pleasantly and profitably spent. Looking forward now to the regular ministry as the work the Master had for him to do, he was earnest and constant in his preparation therefor. In the spring of 1883 he was admitted on trial in the New Jersey Conference. He was appointed to Windsor, and returned in 1884. His two years in this charge were attended with considerable success. In March, 1885, he was admitted into full connection in the New Jersey Conference, and ordained deacon. Bishop Warren appointed him as the first pastor of Saint Paul's, Pennsgrove, a new Church organized a few months previous. Here he was remarkably successful. He worked diligently, visited the people, and preached to them, and before the Conference year closed one hundred had been hopefully converted to God and added to the Church. It was a year never to be forgotten in the coming history of this young and earnest society. In 1886 Brother Elvin was returned to Saint Paul's, Pennsgrove, by Bishop Hurst. He continued abundant in labors until the latter part of December, when he was stricken down by disease. His illness speedily assumed a dangerous form. He said that he felt assured of his salvation, and was convinced of the reality of his faith. On Monday morning, Jan. 10, he quietly passed away. His funeral was held in Saint Paul's church on Thursday, Jan. 13. He was interred in the church lot, where a loving people propose to erect a suitable monument to his memory.

Edmund W. Woodward was born Feb. 10, 1845, in Navesink, Monmouth County, N. J. He was converted to God in 1863. He was licensed to exhort in Sept. 1873, and in December of the same year was licensed as a local preacher. He served the charge at Granville two years as a supply, first under the presiding elder, afterward under the Rev. J. B. Graw, D.D. He was admitted on trial in the New Jersey Conference in 1876, and was received into full connection in 1878. The following charges were assigned him: Granville, Point Pleasant and Herbertville, Point Pleasant, Herbertville and Cedar Bridge, Point Pleasant and Cedar Bridge, Goodluck and Bayville, Saint John's, Keyport, and Cranbury. In Cranbury he met his death, which was very peaceful. It was on the Sabbath, well toward sunset, Oct. 3, 1886, that his soul passed from earth. His sickness, although painful and distressing, was greatly comforted by the thoughtful kindness of his own people and of the people of all the other churches. Brother Woodward more than once made grateful reference to this, and remarked that to him it was an evidence that God had in a measure accompanied his efforts in preaching to the people. His departure was triumphant.

John S. Gaskill was born near Bridgeport, Gloucester County, N. J., July 23, 1839. At the age of twenty-three he was awakened, and was hopefully converted to God at a camp-meeting held at Pennsgrove, N. J., Aug. 18, 1862, and soon after received on probation in the Methodist Episcopal Church. In the spring of 1867 Rev. A. E. Ballard, presiding elder of the Bridgeton District, called upon him to go to Hancock's Bridge as supply. Here his work was eminently satisfactory, and being recommended by his Quarterly Conference and the presiding elder, he was received, in the spring of 1868, on trial in the New Jersey Conference, and returned to Hancock's Bridge, to which Quinton was subsequently added. This charge he served three years. In 1870 he was admitted into full connection, ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson, and sent to Pittsgrove Circuit. While stationed here he was united in marriage to Miss Emma Hackett, of Quinton. In 1871 he was sent to Roadstown, and in 1872 was ordained elder by Bishop Ames, and returned to Roadstown, remaining three years in that charge. In 1874–76 he was stationed at Smith's Landing. In 1877 he was sent to Trinity Church, Millville, a new organization, of which he was the first pastor. Here his work was arduous. Many things were to be done to properly fit the new Church for the largest usefulness in a small town where there were already two large and well-appointed churches. But our brother was emphatically the man for the occasion. In 1880 he was sent to Union, or Fifth Street Church, Camden. Here his labors were abundant and his success equally so. During his three years' pastorate the old church edifice was demolished, and a new and beautiful one of increased dimensions erected. In 1833 he was sent to Asbury Park, where he remained two years, when, in 1885, greatly to the regret of his people, Bishop Warren appointed him to the Camden District. He entered upon the work of the district with the same earnestness which had characterized his previous ministry. His perceptions were clear and his views intelligent, and we doubt not that had his life been spared to the district and the work, the two remaining years of his term would have exhibited great results of his wise supervision. The ministerial and official brethren of Camden District will bear testimony to his efficiency as presiding elder, and to the uniform courtesy and kindliness which marked his official intercourse with them. But the work of the district was too much for his frail body, though at first he seemed to improve under it. Shortly after the Conference of 1866 his health began to decline, and it was evident that he could not long bear up under the burdens upon him. He was stricken with paralysis on Monday, Feb. 21, and was for a time unconscious, but ultimately recovered so far as to recognize his family, the physician, and the friends about him, though he was unable to converse intelligibly with them. He lingered in this condition for some days, fully conscious that the end was at hand. But his faith was not shaken. We cannot doubt that he was fully prepared for the change which awaited him. The following day, March 1, 1887, about half-past three o'clock in the afternoon, he passed quietly away to his rest. Brother Gaskill's ministry was a brief one when measured by years, but if the measurement of life be deeds, not years, his life was a long one, and crowned with success.

Samuel S. Belville died after a brief illness July 10, 1886, in his seventy-first year. He was the great-grandson of that flaming herald of the cross, Benjamin Abbott, and the place of Brother Belville's birth is Salem, N. J., within a few rods of the grave of Abbott. He was converted in Philadelphia in 1836 under the ministry of John L. Grant, an eminent Presbyterian clergyman, whose Church he joined. He removed to Cincinnati in 1854, and immediately united with the Methodist Episcopal Church there. He received an exhorter's licence Sept. 4, 1854. During the following year he was granted a local preacher's license, and was admitted on trial by the Kentucky Conference in 1856. His first appointment was Maysville, Ky. His subsequent fields in Kentucky Conference were: Main Street, Covington, Dayton and Newport, Germantown Circuit, Asbury and Alexandria, Dayton, Main Street, Covington, Dayton, Asbury and Alexandria, and Main Street, Covington. Thus in twenty years' connection with the Kentucky Conference he served but five charges, an average of four years in each charge. These years included the dark days of the rebellion. On the border line, with a secession sentiment strongly against him, he stood up for the Union with a heroism that often imperiled his life. Referring to these times in after years, he said to the writer, "I stood firmly at my post in defense of my country, but with advancing years my heart grew weary in the conflict, and my thoughts turned to the home of my childhood." Without any special solicitation on his part an opportunity offered him a transfer to New Jersey Conference in 1875, where he filled acceptably the following appointments: Auburn, Smith's Landing, Mullica Hill, Mantua, and Winslow, where, after three months of an unusually popular ministry, he ceased at once to work and live. Brother Belville's conversion was powerful, his experience clear. He was a most consistent and conscientious Christian. His call to the ministry was unmistakable. He was intensely in earnest to win souls; his preaching was thoroughly evangelistic and practical. As a pastor he was eminently successful, winning especially the young. His death was peaceful. His disease (paralysis) prevented much expression in his last hours, but his few utterances were eminently clear and satisfactory as to victory over death.

Joseph Atwood, son of Anthony and Hannah Atwood, and brother of the venerable Anthony Atwood, of the Philadelphia Conference, was born near the village of Tuckerton, Burlington County, N. J., April 22, 1804. He was converted at the age of eighteen. For six years following, Brother Atwood lived a faithful and devoted life, exercising in public as he had opportunity, when his labors were recognized by Rev. Bartholomew Weed, who licensed him to exhort, and four years later the presiding elder, Rev. Henry White, signed the license which the Quarterly Conference had accorded him. For two years he traveled Tuckerton Circuit. At the expiration of this time he was admitted on trial in the New Jersey Annual Conference at its first session, held in Newark in 1837. His first appointment from the Conference was Freehold Circuit. At the close of his two years' term in this field he was sent, in 1839, to Tuckahoe, N. J. In 1841–42 he served Bargaintown Circuit. This charge was followed, in 1843, by one on Gloucester Circuit, and in 1845 by Swedesborough. In 1847 he went to Pittstown Station, and in 1849 to Cumberland Circuit. This was a year in which the cholera was prevalent, and both his wife and himself were prostrated by it. He recovered, but his beloved companion sunk under the disease and died. After his recovery he labored more earnestly than ever, and four hundred and fifty souls professed conversion before he left the charge. This was followed, in 1851, by Sharptown and Woodstown. The next year, 1852, Sharptown was made a station, which he served for that year, and was then, in 1853, appointed to Alloway Station. In 1855 he was appointed to Blackwoodtown. He was next, in 1857, sent to Gloucester City, where he was prostrated with typhoid fever, and for three months was unable to labor, but recovered, and did faithful work during the rest of his time there. He next went, in 1859, to South River. In 1860 he was made tract agent for the Conference. He continued in this work but one year, when he was stationed in 1861 at Long Branch. This was followed in 1863 by Tom's River, after which he was sent, in 1864, to Medford and Vincentown. At this latter place a large debt was cancelled, and in one of the pages of his reminiscences he remarks, "I believe I was never at a place where I found a debt on the church but I had it paid off before I left." He was next appointed, in 1866, to Groveville and Hamilton Square; after this, in 1868, to Warren Street, Trenton, which was his last appointment in the regular work. He moved to the city of Bridgeton, where he married and resided for several years, honored and respected both by the Church and community. He afterward spent a year at Ocean Grove, and shortly after that located in Camden, where he remained until his decease. This occurred suddenly, about four o'clock, Dec. 18, 1886, and in a manner which precluded any special testimony. He suddenly became unconscious, and remained so until God took him, but he needed no avouchment of his experience at that time. His whole life had been such a testimony, and it could not have been strengthened by dying statements. He had illustrated his faith by works which followed it, and his praise is in all the churches served by him. His position as a supernumerary was filled with earnest labor for souls, both in and out of the Church, and in private intercourse with the people there was always a word for Jesus. His funeral services were held in Third Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Camden, Dec. 22, 1886, in the presence of a large congregation. His remains were taken to Tuckerton for interment, there to wait the summons of the Saviour he served for his resurrection unto life in the great day of the Lord.

Central Pennsylvania Conference.

Justus A. Melick was born of pious Methodist parents, in Light Street, Columbia County, Pa., March 7, 1823, and thus at his death had completed, by a few weeks, sixty-three years of earthly pilgrimage. It was possibly in his twentieth year that he received the assurance of his acceptance as a child of God. This so changed the current of his thought that he carefully surrendered his cherished life plans—in the profession of law—and gave himself wholly to the ministry of reconciliation to which he now felt himself called of God. In 1848, with twenty-four other young men, he was admitted on trial in the Baltimore Conference. In 1850, at Alexandria, Va., he was received into full connection in the Conference, and ordained deacon by Bishop Morris, and in 1852, at Cumberland, Md., was ordained elder by Bishop Janes. His first appointment was Bellefonte Circuit. His subsequent fields of labor were as follows: Clearfield, Lycoming, Berwick, Luzerne, Lock Haven, Great Island, Manor Hill, Birmingham, Woodbury, Williamsburg, Newberry, Bloomsburg, Jersey Shore, Hollidaysburg, Saint Paul's, Harrisburg. Here, in the second year of his pastorate, his health began to fail, and at the Williamsport Conference, in 1877, he became supernumerary, and a year later, "settling down into the most sorrowful conviction of a Methodist preacher—work done," superannuated. Brother Melick was twice married. The wife of his early manhood was Miss Emeline E. Patchin, of Clearfield County, Pa., to whom he was united in holy bonds Oct. 28, 1851, and who shared for eleven years the toils and privations of his early itinerancy. She died in 1862, leaving him with three little children. His second marriage was in 1867 to Miss Emily Dunmire, who, by "her faithful and motherly care of the children, now grown to a beautiful, active Christian manhood and womanhood, has shown her eminent fitness for the delicate and responsible trust." His long illness and severe bodily afflictions were borne with great patience and Christian fortitude. "His faith in the Saviour never failed nor wavered." Once, as if fearing that he might be over-sanguine of his future bliss, he requested those at his bedside to pray for him, but immediately there came to him such a manifestation of divine love that he exclaimed, "O I did not know that God loved me so much!" As the end drew near he invoked God's blessing upon his loved ones, counseled them to lead upright lives, and to meet him in heaven. It was Sunday evening, his last on earth. To his beloved companion he said, "I'll spend this one with you, then to-morrow"—but the sentence remains unfinished.

John F. Craig was born in Montour Co., Pa., August, 1826, and died in Douglas Co., Mo., Oct. 30, 1886, aged sixty years. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at the age of seventeen years. He was admitted to the East Baltimore Conference in 1858 and appointed to Newberry. The following is a list of his subsequent appointments: Bellefonte Circuit, Caledonia, Shippen, Penn's Valley, New Washington, Phillipsburg, Sinnemahoning and Westport, Rainsburg, Snydertown, Treverton, Port Matilda, Cogan Valley, Liberty Valley, Benton, Snow Shoe, Martinsburg, Pleasant Gap, and Congress Hill. In 1881, on account of failing health, he asked for a supernumerary relation, and a short time after moved to Missouri. In 1882–84 he served as a supply on the Ava Circuit, Saint Louis Conference, with great acceptability, and many souls were converted. In 1885 he supplied Ash Grove Circuit. On account of some throat trouble he took no regular work the past year, but preached as frequently as health would permit. During the month of October he was attacked with typhoid-malaria, and after an illness of eighteen days passed peacefully over into the rest that remaineth to the people of God. Brother Craig was one of the best of men, pure in heart and holy in life. He was a good and faithful preacher.

William Gwynn, a devoted servant of God, and faithful minister of Jesus Christ, entered into rest Jan. 26, 1887, from his home at Wrightsville, Pa. He was born August 22, 1823, in the now historic town of Gettysburg, Pa. When but nine years of age he embraced religion, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He faithfully held on his way, and by his unaffected devotion and untiring zeal for God so impressed the society with which he was connected that ere he had attained his seventeenth year he was called to exercise his "gifts and grace" in public prayer and exhortation. In 1842, at the age of nineteen, he became a probationer in the Baltimore Conference, and on March 17, 1844, he received deacons' orders. In 1848 he was elected to elders' orders. The fields of toil and conflict assigned him, where, as "a good soldier of Christ" he did valiant service, are as follows: Westmoreland, Va.; Frostburg, Md.; Huntingdon, Shirleysburg, Luzerne, Bloomingdale, Sunbury, Wrightsville, Carlisle, York Springs, Hartford, Md.; Mission to the Colored People, Allegheny, Md.; Kishacoquillas, McVeytown, Williamsburg, Manor Hill, Warrior's Mark, Milesburg, Martinsburg, Shewsburg, McVeytown and Granville, and Airville. All these appointments were circuits, some of which, especially in the earlier years of his itinerancy, were extensive, mountainous and sparsely settled. At the close of each year he would come to the seat of the Conference session rejoicing that God had enabled him to triumph in garnering a rich harvest of souls for the blessed Saviour. On his death-bed he said, "I have served the Church in the work of the ministry for forty-four consecutive years, and have seen over forty-four hundred converted to God, and I feel I have not lived in vain; that is about all the legacy I have to leave to my children." Probably the most prominent characteristic of our late fellow-laborer was his success as a revivalist. He had the zeal, the unction, the revival spirit in an eminent degree. Extensive revivals of religion almost uniformly attended his labors wherever his lot was cast. "He was," says one who knew him well, "almost perfect—childlike in his simplicity, guileless, modest, unobtrusive, genial, honest, and true." As a Christian he was sincere, genuine, thorough, exemplifying in his life the principles and enjoying in his experience the blessings of the gospel he so faithfully preached. As a preacher he was earnest, practical, and at times overwhelming. He believed his message, and his utterances were with power. His ministrations in the pulpit glowed with truth and carried conviction to many hearts. His life was crowned with domestic felicity. He was married in June, 1854, to Miss Matilda Beverson, of Wrightsville, Pa. He was a Christian husband and father, and in his home was the "church of the household." His beloved companion died at McVeytown May 28, 1883. Five daughters and one son, who is a member of the New Jersey Conference, survive him. He died as he had lived—in the Lord. His health failing in the fall of 1885, he retired from active work, expecting that by rest and recuperation he might at the succeeding Conference again go to the front; but finding himself unfitted for service, he took a supernumerary relation and removed with his family to Wrightsville. Here he lived about nine months, at times suffering great pain, but bearing it with patience and resignation.

Thomas Osbourn Clees was born at Pennville, near Muncy, Lycoming County, Pa., Nov. 16, 1839. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Feb. 1856. March 11, 1868, he entered the East Baltimore Conference and, at the close of his school, April 1 following, he entered upon his duties as junior preacher on the Watsontown Charge. In 1869–70 he was appointed to Washingtonville Circuit. He married, Nov. 10, 1870, Miss Amanda M. Andrews. From 1871 to 1885 he was appointed as follows: Treverton Circuit, Elysburg Circuit, Buckhorn Circuit, Orangeville Circuit, Selinsgrove, and Town Hill. His own record informs us that in Feb., 1883, he was sorely afflicted with nervous dyspepsia and spasms of the abdomen. In six months this affliction reduced his weight from one hundred and forty to ninety-eight pounds. In the spring of 1886 he asked and received a supernumerary relation, and moved to Montandon, Pa., where he died Feb.

18, 1887. He passed from among us as one for whom Christ had become the Way, the Truth, and the Life. With that part of our Conference that is making up a company on the other side of death's river Brother Clees has gone to suffer and to die no more forever.

Wilmington Conference.

Elon Jones Way, M.D., was born in Kennett Square, Chester County, Pa., July 3, 1811, and died at his home, 19 South Broadway, Baltimore, Md., July 5, 1886, having just entered upon his seventy-sixth year. In the spring of 1840 he joined the Philadelphia Conference on trial, and began the life of a Methodist itinerant. His appointments were as follows: Naswadux and Indian Town Mission, Snow Hill Circuit, Salisbury, Georgetown, Del.; Northampton, Va.; Dorchester Circuit, Church Creek, Milford, Del. In 1848, on account of feeble health, he was granted a supernumerary relation, but was subsequently employed as junior preacher on Denton Circuit. In 1849 he was employed on Easton Circuit, and on Talbot in 1850. He was made effective in 1851, and put in charge of Delaware City, where he remained two years. He was then appointed to Elkton, Md.; Mariner's Bethel, Philadelphia; Bristol, Pa.; Sanctuary, Philadelphia; and Delaware City. In 1863 he was appointed chaplain in the United States Army, and stationed at Fort Delaware, where he remained until the close of the war. In 1866 he took a supernumerary relation and retired to private life, making his home in Delaware City. In 1868, when the Wilmington Conference was organized, he became a member of that body. In 1869 he removed to Baltimore, and engaged in the practice of medicine, in which he continued until his death. He took a superannuated relation in 1879. Dr. Way was married three times. His first wife was Elizabeth Walters, of Delaware, his second wife was Mary A. Rowen, of Maryland, his third wife was Mrs. Mary F. Robinson, of Delaware City, who survives him. Brother Way was a preacher of no mean ability, often rising to heights of great eloquence and power. Although physically frail he was a speaker of great energy and effectiveness. He was always clear, strong, and logical, and a deep spiritual unction marked his sermons and moved his hearers. In character he was plain and unassuming, detesting frauds of all kinds. In his intercourse with men he was frank and open, and did not hesitate to administer reproof when it was deserved. He had also a warm, genial nature, that went out in tender sympathy to the sorrowing. His patients used to say, "Dr. Way is a good physician for both soul and body." On June 30 he went to see one of his patients and was taken violently ill. A physician was summoned, and his case found to be beyond medical skill. A severe attack of paralysis had done its work. He lingered until the following Monday morning and then passed quietly and peacefully to his heavenly rest.

Valentine Gray was born in Chester County, Pa., March 26, 1815, and died at the Gap, Lancaster County, Pa., on Friday, Jan. 21, at two o'clock A. M., 1887. He was converted on Sept. 11, 1834, at a camp-meeting held in his native county, and soon after became convinced that it was his duty to preach the "unsearchable riches of Christ." On Feb. 3, 1838, he was licensed to preach. During the ensuing year he preached ninety-nine sermons, averaging nearly two a Sabbath. In the spring of the year 1839 he was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference. His first appointment in the Conference was to Dauphin Circuit, which then embraced parts of Dauphin, Lancaster, and Lebanon Counties. In 1840 to Strasburg Circuit. In 1841 admitted to membership in the Conference and ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh, and appointed to serve a small place in Kensington, Philadelphia, called "Melody," where he remained only a few months, as the place was unable to sustain itself, and by the advice of the presiding elder its members were disbanded. In 1842 he was sent to Parrish Street Church, a small frame building in Philadelphia, since absorbed by Sanctuary and Twelfth Street Churches. In September of that year, 1842, he was married to Miss Sarah Taylor, youngest daughter of Francis Taylor, of Lancaster County, Pa. At the Conference held in 1843 he was ordained elder by Bishop Morris, and appointed to Snow Hill Circuit, with Jonas Bissey as preacher in charge. In 1844 Snow Hill Circuit was divided, and he was appointed to the upper end, called Berlin. In 1845 to Northampton Circuit, Virginia, to which he was returned in 1846, but owing to the bitter hostility to the preachers of the Philadelphia Conference, growing out of the slavery agitation and resulting in the division of the Church only two years before, he was removed in July to Laurel Circuit, to which he was returned in 1847. He was then appointed to Halifax Circuit, Pa.; Richmond, Lehman's Chapel and Fairview, Strasburg Circuit, Dauphin Circuit, Mariner's Bethel, Philadelphia; Springfield, Pa.; Pottstown Circuit, Birdsborough, Cochranville, and Zion Circuit. At the General Conference in May, 1868, the Philadelphia Conference was divided by State lines, and the Wilmington Conference formed of the peninsula. Brother Gray, being on this side of the line, became a member of the Wilmington Conference and served the following appointments: Chester Circuit, Pa.; Christiana Circuit, Del.; Marydel Circuit, Queenstown Circuit, Barrett's Chapel and Milford Neck. In 1876 he was married to Miss Sarah Livingston, of Pennsylvania, who survives him. In 1877–78 he was appointed to Ellendale Circuit, then to Millsborough Circuit, and in 1881, at the Conference held in Lewes, Del., on account of impaired health he felt compelled to ask for a superannuated relation. He was a Methodist of the old type—intensely loyal to our Discipline, doctrines, and usages. He believed in the time-honored class-meeting as great means of grace, and every-where urged attendance upon it. His style of preaching was that of the fathers, intensely Biblical, sound in doctrine, earnest in manner, practical in its application. Brother Gray was four times married; his last wife, one daughter and son—the Rev. R. T. Gray, Secretary of the Philadelphia Conference—are left to mourn their loss.

A. W. Milby was born Sept. 15, 1815, at Milton, Del., and died June 13, 1886, at Harrington, Del. He was graduated from college in 1839, and on Dec. 5, 1841, was licensed as an exhorter by Rev. Joseph Castle in the old Union Church, Philadelphia. He joined the Philadelphia Conference in 1842, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris April 7, 1844. He was ordained elder by Bishop Hedding April 5, 1846. On Nov. 11, 1847, he was married to Rebecca Levis. The first two years of his ministerial life were spent on Springfield Circuit and New Holland Mission. Then came many years of faithful and laborious service. The Churches he served were Haddington, two years; New Castle, two years: Elkton, one year; Georgetown, two years; Laurel, two years; Quantico, two years; Princess Anne, two years; Talbot, two years; Manayunk, two years; Reading, two years; Sanctuary, Philadelphia, two years. At the close of his pastorate at Sanctuary he withdrew from the Conference. After an absence of a year and a half he returned and served the Church at Roxborough. From Roxborough he went to Frederica, where he remained for three years. He was pastor at Chestertown three years; Laurel, one year; Brandywine, one year; Centerville, one year; Harrington, three years; Denton, two years; Felton, one year. At the Conference of 1883 he was appointed by Bishop Simpson as presiding elder of Dover District, and had just entered upon the fourth year of service in that office when his Master called him "up higher."

From the beginning to the end his life was true, upright, and faithful, a life upon which it is a pleasure to dwell. His character and influence teach us the beauty and power of truth and righteousness. His purity of heart and generous devotion to others won our admiration and love. No man had more the courage of his opinions than he. What his mind thought, that his tongue uttered. His truthfulness was perfect, and if he believed a thing no mortal power could keep him from expressing it. He was a faithful student and profound scholar. He never stopped until he had mastered the subject in hand. He built from the bottom and always builded well. His faith was implicit. He knew his God as he knew the "tranquil beauty of the stars or the meridian splendor of the sun." He had no fear of death. A laggard, if you please, in the race for reputation and wealth, he had gained a richer inheritance, and, dying, left the partner of his life and home "dowered with the fragrance of an exemplary life, and his children rich in the patrimony of his stainless name."

William J. O'Neill was born at Lisburne, a small town near Belfast, in Ireland, 1832. He entered Conference in 1859, and was sent as junior preacher, first, to Smyrna Circuit, and afterward to Denton and Talbot Circuits. In Feb. 1862, he was appointed chaplain of the One Hundred and Eighteenth Pennsylvania Regiment, and served in that capacity until the spring of 1865, when the army was disbanded. In that year he was sent as junior preacher to Greensborough Circuit. In Feb., 1866, he was married to Miss Mary A. Chickering, then a teacher in Saint Michael's, Talbot County, Md., and was sent to Cambridge Circuit. His successive appointments were: Greensborough Circuit, Kent Island, Suddlersville, Snow Hill, Federalsburg, Gumborough, Rising Sun, Millington, Frankford, Princess Anne, and Church Hill. He was a man who made and held friends by his personal magnetism and by the sterling qualities of his character. As a preacher he was clear, strong, logical, always fervent, and often eloquent. His individuality was marked, and he was courageously loyal to his convictions of right. At the close of his third year at Church Hill he was attacked by that terrible disease, typhoid fever, and after forty-four days of intense suffering, he sweetly fell asleep in Jesus on the night of March 9, 1887.

Isaiah Johnson was a gentle-minded, honest Christian, who did his best to preach the Gospel effectively, and attain a good report among men. He was born in the State of New Jersey on Sept. 1, 1854, and died in Bridgeville, Del., March 4, 1887. I quote from an obituary in the Peninsular News of March 12, as follows: "His parents removed to the State of Delaware while he was yet a child, and located near Smyrna, where he spent his boyhood on a farm. While yet a child he evinced a desire for books, but his opportunities were limited to the advantages of the district school, except two or three years at the Smyrna Academy. He was converted early, and at the age of twenty-one he taught school and began to preach. In 1879 he married Miss Mollie Pierce, daughter of Henry J. Pierce, of Milford, Del. In 1881 he was admitted on trial in the Wilmington Conference, and sent to Milford Neck; in 1882 he served Ellendale; in 1883–84, Annanessex; in 1885, Appoquinimink; in 1886 he took a supernumerary relation, but filled out part of Brother Muchmore's time at Bridgeville, from which place he went to test the 'grand secret.'"

Washington Conference.

Henry R. Elbert died in great peace at his home in Washington, D. C., Feb. 23, 1887. He sustained the relation of a superannuated preacher to the Conference, and was one of the best known and beloved ministers in its bounds. He filled all the positions of honor in the Church of his choice, which was Asbury Station, Baltimore, as steward, trustee, class-leader, superintendent of the Sunday-school, local preacher, all of which he faithfully and acceptably filled. He was the first pastor appointed to Asbury, Baltimore, at the organization of the Washington Conference. He also was pastor at Annapolis, Georgetown, Alexandria, Shepherdstown, Charlestown, Hagerstown, Asbury Mission, Washington. In all he was beloved and revered as a man of God. He was an able expounder of the word of God, a diligent pastor, and a loving husband.

Alexander N. Kennedy departed this life in Northern Neck, Va., where he had gone to visit his former parishioners. He was born in Maryland, and at the time of his death was in his seventy-third year. He filled the following appointments, where he did good service for the Lord: Westminster, Williamsport, Martinsburg, Winchester, Harrisonburg, Lynchburg Station, Northern Neck, and Severn Circuit.

Newark Conference.

Bromwell Andrew was born in Talbot County, on the eastern shore of Maryland, June 12, 1798, and died at Navesink, N. J., April 29, 1886. At the age of twenty he was converted. In 1829 he was admitted on trial into the Philadelphia Conference. His first Conference appointment was Milford and Stroudsburg Mission. Specially inclined toward mission work, he found here an ample field for his peculiar talents and ardent zeal. The circuit extended from Delaware Water Gap to Lackawaxen, and from Carpenter's Point to Monticello, embracing parts of the three States of New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. It included twenty-six preaching places; he sometimes traveled twenty miles without seeing a house. His subsequent appointments were: Talbot Circuit, Md.; Newton, N. J.; Stroudsburg, Pa.; Mauch Chunck, Milford Circuit, Rome and Wantage, N. Y.; New Prospect, Tom's River, Freehold, Allentown, Keyport, Cape May, Bargaintown, Gloucester, Glassborough and Woodbury, Bridgeport Circuit. Time would fail to tell of the earnest labors, the many sacrifices, the remarkable successes which make up the history of these years. In the spring of 1853, in consequence of failing health, he retired from active work. During the course of this year he removed to Navesink, N. J., where, with the exception of a few years passed in Jersey City, he resided until his death. Brother Andrew was an "old-fashioned" Methodist preacher. Of a thoughtful, analytical mind, large, warm heart, powerful voice, and above all a stirring religious experience, the multitudes heard him gladly and were moved by his word. His power as a speaker was specially manifest in exhortation. This was particularly noticeable at camp-meetings. When after the sermon he would rise to speak there was usually a stir in the camp; saints shouted and sinners cried to God for mercy. The personal character of Bromwell Andrew was beyond reproach. His walk of nearly sixty years as a Christian minister was consistent and blameless. It was his supreme desire, his constant study, to "show himself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." On Nov. 19, 1835, he was united in marriage to Miss Maria J. Gardner, of Orange County, N. Y. The happy union thus formed continued fifty full years, their golden wedding having been celebrated a few months before his death. Next to his God he loved his family. His last appearance at Conference was at Port Jervis, eight years ago. It was the fiftieth year of his admission into the ministry. The thrilling address which he made on the occasion is not yet forgotten. It was fitting that, in speaking his last words to his brethren, God permitted his venerable servant to come back to the scenes of his earliest toils and triumphs. Increasing infirmities neither clouded his mind nor weakened his faith. Just as the morning was dawning the weary pilgrim of eighty-eight winters quietly slept in Jesus. She who has shared with him the burdens and joys of the itinerancy for more than half a century and seven children—five sons and two daughters—are left to revere his memory and mourn his loss.

JOHN FAULL, who died at Sergeantsville on Friday, Feb. 4, 1887, was born in Cornwall, England, Dec. 6, 1820. In 1849 he came to New York city, expecting to locate in Canada. Upon request of the presiding elder he accepted work in Franklin. In 1850 he was admitted to the ministry in the New Jersey Conference. In 1852 he was sent to Irvington, where he met Miss Susie Hedden, to whom he was married the following spring. In 1855 he was appointed to Boonton, where all the circumstances seemed to betoken a total failure. Nevertheless a most remarkable religious awakening took place; the whole community was moved, and the work continued throughout the winter. More than three hundred persons professed conversion. The following is the list of Mr. Faull's appointments: Rockaway, Irvington, Passaic, Boonton, Newton, Tranquility, Port Jervis, N. Y.; Wantage and Deckertown. Chaplain in United States Army, Fredon, Myrtle Grove, Franklin Furnace, South Market Street, Newark; Somerville, High Bridge and Lebanon, Asbury and Travisville, Staten Island, Parsippany and Whippany, Flanders and Drakestown, Sergeantsville and Kingwood. Mr. Faull also saw military service. In 1862, while pastor at Deckertown, he was unanimously requested to become chaplain of the Twenty-seventh New Jersey Infantry. He retained this position for nine months, when the regiment was mustered out. He was immediately chosen chaplain of the Thirty-third New Jersey Volunteers, and remained with that regiment until the close of the war. For almost two years of this time he was also a regular correspondent of the New York Times, under the nom de plume of "Epsilon." Exposure in the army had rendered him subject to attacks of bronchitis. In consequence of a heavy cold this disease fastened upon him permanently. He was prostrated and was confined to his room for more than two months. On Jan. 16, 1887, he was stricken with paralysis. Because of this complication of diseases but little hope of his recovery was entertained, and he continued to grow weaker until he passed away. As a preacher he was clear and ever ready; as a man his social qualities made him acceptable in any circle. Unpretentious himself, he was a hater of all shams; possessed of a sweet Christian spirit, to know him was to love him. Accepting with simple faith the divine realities of the Gospel, he instinctively impressed his acquaintances as one who had sat at the feet of the Master, and was now putting into practice the philanthropy taught by the Sermon on the Mount.

Philadelphia Conference.

SAMUEL R. GILLINGHAM was born near Lumberville, Bucks County, Pa., Dec. 6, 1822. He was "born again" in the same county and State in 1839. When he was only one year a member of the Church he was appointed a class-leader. He received his license as an exhorter at Bordentown, N. J., March 18, 1843. In 1846 he entered the itinerant ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church under the presiding elder. In 1848 he was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Annual Conference. Thus commenced his great life-work, which ceased only with the failing powers of his body. His appointments were: Springfield, Radnor, Marietta, Frederica, Zion, Dauphin, Phœnixville, Lehman's Chapel, South Easton, Fulton, Chester Circuit, Denton, Saint George's, Halifax, Newtown, Tobyhanna, Bustleton and Doylestown. His ministerial career was a success. As a preacher Brother Gillingham was clear, earnest, and instructive. His congregations were interested and profited. By his exposition and application of the word to the heart and conscience, his preaching was made the power of God unto salvation. As a minister of the Lord Jesus Christ he exemplified the fidelity becoming his high calling. As a Christian he illustrated the purity of the Christian religion. In him was found the guilelessness of a child and the faithfulness of a saint. As a man he was honorable, just, and conscientious. He impressed those around him that he was to be respected and trusted. He was careful of the character and feelings of his brethren. He was of a cheerful spirit, which was rarely ruffled; grateful for the smallest favors; forgave all injuries, intentional or otherwise. Viewed in those domestic relations which enrich and adorn the domestic circle, he was all that could be desired; he was the kind husband and the anxious father. In the heart, burdened with care, there was an inner sanctuary. Those dependent upon him found in him shelter and safety. Brother Gillingham died in Washington, D. C., Thursday evening, Jan. 20, 1887. His devoted wife, ever kind and true, was with him through his last suffering, and saw the end. "Jesus is with me; I am not afraid to die." These were among his last words. Though the words are few, they tell the full story of his final triumph.

JOSEPH GREGG was born in Connellsville, Fayette County, Pa., Sept. 20, 1820, and died in the city of Reading Jan 23, 1887. In his diary he states, "I was born again by grace through faith in the Lord Jesus, by the power of his Spirit, July, 1841, on Sabbath morning, while hearing the Gospel preached by Rev. Thomas Love, who was a Presbyterian divine, whose ministry the students attended." Not being able to receive the doctrines of Calvinism, he sought and obtained shortly after his conversion membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Asbury, Wilmington. He was received on trial into the Philadelphia Conference March, 1851, and appointed to Smyrna Circuit. His subsequent appointments were Talbot Circuit, Sudlersville, Kent Circuit, Smyrna, Vernon Mission, Williamsville Circuit, Pitman, Philadelphia, Darby, Ridge Avenue, Harrisburg; Marietta, Second Street, Philadelphia; South Philadelphia Mission, Bainbridge, Mount Nebo, Enterprise Circuit, Franklinville, Cochranville and Friendship, Berrysburg, and Cressona. He took a supernumerary relation in the spring of 1883, and selected as his home, in which to spend the evening of life, the city of Reading. Brother Gregg was a good man, full of faith and zeal. He was greatly beloved by the people whom he served in his different fields of labor, and specially revered because of his saintly life. He was a man of prayer. As a result he witnessed and led extensive revivals of religion. His preaching was plain, scriptural, and earnest. Brother Gregg was twice married, first in 1856, to Miss Alice Shields, of West Chester, who died three years after, leaving one child, who still survives him, and who, with loving devotion watched at her father's dying bed. His second marriage was in 1865, to Miss Julia Righter, of Columbia, who also preceded him into heaven. In the summer of 1886 he was brought very low with typhoid fever, from which he never fully recovered. Learning of the serious illness of his brother, Rev. J. C. Gregg, he felt an earnest desire to visit him. Though advised differently, he resolved to make the effort. The labor of the journey and the sight of his brother's sufferings overcame him, and he was taken with hemorrhages and came home to die. His sickness was only of five days' duration.

JOHN CHANDLER GREGG was born in Fayette County, Pa., in 1828, and closed his earthly pilgrimage at his home at Thorndale, Chester County, Pa., on Saturday evening, Feb. 5, 1887. For several years his health was impaired. In the spring 1853 he was employed by the presiding elder, and sent to Greensborough Circuit. In 1854 he was sent to Accomac Circuit. In 1855 he was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference and was appointed to Berlin Circuit, Worcester County, Md. In 1857 he was received into full connection in the Philadelphia Conference and was ordained deacon; and elder in 1859. His appointments subsequently were Wicanisco, Hummelstown Circuit and Bainbridge. At this period the war broke out. The deceased was always outspoken in his opposition to slavery, and the outbreaking of the slaveholders' rebellion found him a staunch unionist. He resigned his charge and entered the Union army as chaplain of the One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Regiment of Pennsylvania. He was a most faithful chaplain and rendered valuable and efficient service, administering to the sick, wounded, and dying. He was brave and courageous, facing danger and death in assisting to carry the wounded from the battlefield. His term as chaplain having expired shortly after, in 1864, President Lincoln nominated him for the position of hospital chaplain, which was confirmed by the Senate. He was ordered to report for duty, and was sent to New Orleans and attached to Saint James's Hospital. While in service here he was taken sick with fever, from the effects of which he never fully recovered. In July, 1865, he left New Orleans on a furlough, and shortly afterward he received an honorable discharge from the service. After the war he again entered the regular work of the ministry, though obliged at intervals to rest on account of broken health. His appointments during the later years were: Montgomery Square, Guthrieville, Tannersville, New London Circuit, Saint Paul's, Lancaster City, Mount Carmel, Messiah, Pitman, Bethany, Philadelphia; Saint Paul's Circuit, Berks County and Thorndale Circuit, Chester County. In Feb. 20, 1866, he was united in marriage with Mary E. Brison. As a Christian the deceased was consistent and faithful, never compromising his religious principles and character whether in the army or the regular work of the itinerancy. As a minister of religion he was original, earnest, faithful, and efficient. His preaching, if not eloquent, was practical, pointed, and direct. He was successful as a revivalist; gracious revivals were usually promoted in the charges he served. He was a good financier, and marvelously successful in financiering embarrassed Churches out of their difficulties. He could raise money where others had failed, through his energy and indomitable persistence. In this department of Church work his services were desired and sought after.

William Cooper, D.D., was born in Caroline County, Md., on May 31, 1804, and from his quiet home on Lansdowne Avenue, West Philadelphia, on Feb. 19, 1887, he departed for his home in heaven. In his early youth he removed to Smyrna, Del., for the purpose of fitting himself for secular business. While there, on Feb. 20, 1824, he experienced that mysterious and sacred change of heart, known in the Holy Scriptures as the new birth. He became a child of God, an inheritor of the kingdom. Almost simultaneously with this divine renewal of his nature came the thought, and afterward the settled conviction, that God had called him to the office and work of the Christian ministry. In the spring of 1828 he was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference. In 1833, in consequence of severe illness, he asked for and obtained a supernumerary relation. His health being restored, in 1836, he reentered the pastoral work, in which he continued until 1873, when he again became supernumerary. In 1881 the Conference gave him a superannuated relation, which he retained until his death. Brother Cooper was twice married; his first wife was Miss Laurena Clark, of Chester County. On Sept. 16, 1862, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary H. Morgan, who survives him. Brother Cooper was a man of excellent natural endowments. He always had something to say that was worth hearing, and he said it well. His knowledge was extensive and accurate, and always available. All of his utterances bore the stamp of his own individuality. He was a careful reader of choice authors on a great variety of subjects, as the condition and marginal notes in the books of his large and well-selected library will prove. He was not only a critical reader, he was a deep thinker. He was a worker in the mine, a searcher for the pure gold of truth. He was a close observer of men and of events, and thus gained a vast amount of useful, practical knowledge. He was a man of profound convictions, and therefore a positive man. He possessed high moral courage. He was a comforter to the sorrowing, and a helper to all who desired a better and purer life. His preaching was clear, strong, evangelistic, and successful. He grew even in old age; never, perhaps, during his long ministry of sixty years, did he preach with more clearness and beauty, with more unction and power, than during the last year of his life. Perhaps it was because he experienced more and more the preciousness of the Gospel, perhaps because he felt that he was nearing home. In recognition of his ability Dickinson College conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Kansas Conference.

J. W. Clock was born in New York city Oct. 2, 1811, and died at Saint Mary's, Kan., April 2, 1886. He was converted near Ithaca, N. Y., in 1831, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was licensed to exhort Aug. 15, 1834, and received license to preach in 1836. He was eminently useful and effective as a local preacher, and in the year 1841 he was ordained local deacon by Bishop Roberts, and received into the Erie Conference at Warren, O. He was ordained elder by Bishop Soule at Fredonia, N. Y., Aug. 6, 1843. Remained in that Conference for some years, and then removed to Indiana, then to Iowa, but located and removed to Kansas. He was admitted into the Kansas Conference in 1870. In 1871 he was appointed agent of Baker University, and worked nobly and with a good degree of success. Brother Clock attended Gainsville Academy in Orleans County, N. Y., and was a student of Garrett Biblical Institute for a short time. He was one of the most cheerful men the writer ever met. His spirit of cheerfulness was contagious, and even in his last sickness he was joyous and happy. He anticipated heaven in his experience till he entered into the fullness of its glory.

John J. Thompson was born in Butler County, O., June 5, 1827, and died at Topeka, Kan., Sept. 7, 1886. He entered the Cincinnati Conference in 1850. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes in 1842, and elder by Bishop Scott in 1854. For twenty years he preached the Gospel in the State of Ohio, filling many important charges with great acceptability. He was transferred to Kansas in 1870, and stationed at Leavenworth City, where he remained for three years, and then took charge of the First Methodist Episcopal Church at Topeka. Here he labored earnestly for nearly three years, until he was appointed presiding elder of Leavenworth District to fill a vacancy made by transfer of Rev. J. Boynton. In 1877 he was appointed district superintendent of the American Bible Society for Kansas, in which capacity he did faithful and efficient work until failing health compelled him to retire from active service.

George W. Miller was born at Three Springs, Huntington County, Pa., April 19, 1850, and died of inflammation of the bowels in Tuscarora, Nev., June 12, 1886. He was converted, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, when about nineteen years of age. He entered the Kansas Conference on trial in 1876, and was received into full connection in 1878. He served the following charges in the Kansas Conference: Hamlin, Muscotah and Hamlin, Muscotah, Blue Rapids and Irving. In 1884 he was appointed to Good Hope Circuit until March, 1885, at which time he was appointed to Tuscarora, Nevada Mission, which he served with great acceptability until his death. He was sick only four days.

Saint Louis Conference.

JOHN W. TALLY was born in Georgia Oct. 16, 1811, and died May 26, 1886. He professed religion while still a youth. He was licensed to preach, and admitted into the South Carolina Conference in 1828. At the organization of the Georgia Conference in 1831 he became a member of that Conference, and in 1833 was appointed presiding elder of the Florida District. He remained in the Church, South, when that Church was organized, and was a prominent member of the Alabama Conference. He was a preacher of marked ability, and his name is still remembered in the places of his early ministry. In 1866, at the reorganization of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the South, he became a member of the Georgia Mission Conference, and the year after was transferred to the Alabama Mission Conference, and made presiding elder of the Talladega District. He was a delegate to the General Conference of 1868, and admitted with the other delegates of the Southern Mission Conferences. His health failing, he came North, first to Wisconsin; but in 1873 was transferred to the Saint Louis Conference, and served Gainesville in 1873–74, and West Plains in 1875–76. At the following Conference he became a superannuate, and resided three years at Dalton, Ga., for the education of his son. In 1881 he removed to Pulaski County, Ark., where his son soon after died. Here Brother Tally continued to reside to the time of his death. He died of dropsy.

RICHARD RANDOLPH PIERCE was born in Friendship, N. Y., in 1832, and was killed by the cable cars in Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 27, 1886. No data earlier than his nineteenth year are at hand for a biography. In that year he married Mrs. Mary McKasson. He sought and gained admission into the Missouri and Arkansas Conference at its session held in Louisiana in 1866. In due time he was ordained deacon and admitted into full connection, which was followed by his ordination as elder in due time. He filled the following appointments: Franklin, Simpson Chapel, Saint Louis; Little Rock, Rolla, Neosho, Holden, Clinton, Independence, Trinity, Saint Louis; Pleasant Hill and Butler. In 1870, after he had been one year in Little Rock, he did not take an appointment, on account of failing health. Part of the year he spent in Indiana in recuperating, but before its close he was employed in mission work in Saint Louis, occupying Mozart Hall. During his second year at Trinity he was transferred to the Illinois Conference, but was retransferred to the Saint Louis Conference in 1874. On April 6, 1880, Brother Pierce married for his second wife, Mrs. Caroline Ostrom, in Clinton, Mo., who was to him a congenial and devoted wife. He gave to her his care, confidence, and affection. They walked life's way together for six happy years. Suddenly, terribly, he was stricken from her. She had been in feeble health for many weeks, and he had been very anxious for her. On Monday morning he said good-by and left her to attend his District Conference. He spent Tuesday and until noon of Wednesday in the Conference, and took an active part in its discussions. Anxious about his sick wife, he would have gone home that night, but some matter called him to Kansas City in the afternoon, where, in getting from a cable car, he was thrown beneath the wheels, and instantly killed. From that fearful stroke many friends feared the worst to the feeble wife, but their tender care and the grace of God bore her through that awful hour. His funeral was largely attended at Butler, and the services were conducted by eight of his ministerial brethren, delegated for the purpose by the District Conference.

Central Missouri Conference.

W. O. LYNCH was born in 1851 in the State of Georgia. He made a profession of religion in early life, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was appointed presiding elder in 1877 in the Alabama Conference, and in 1879 was transferred to the Kansas Conference, where he served as presiding elder one year, after which he was released so that he could attend one of our schools. In 1886 he was transferred to the Missouri Conference, and was appointed to take charge of the Church at Louisiana, Mo. On Aug. 26, 1886, he was transferred, in the full triumph of a Christian's faith, to his mansion in his Father's house.

New York East Conference.

BENJAMIN PILSBURY was born at Boscawen, N. H., Oct. 25, 1824. He was converted April 15, 1842, and was at once received into the Church by the Rev. Charles Adams, D.D., then pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Wilbraham and principal of the academy. The desire to become a minister of Christ now filled his soul. In 1843 he entered Wesleyan University, and graduated in 1847, having in 1844 been licensed to exhort by the Rev. Joseph Holdich, D.D., pastor of the College Church at Middletown, and licensed to preach under the Rev. Bartholomew Creagh, presiding elder of the Hartford District. During his last year in college he supplied the pulpit at Rocky Hill, under the presiding elder. The following three years he was a member of the Yale Theological Seminary, from which he graduated in 1850. During these three years he was pastor of our Church at Westville, the first year by appointment of the presiding elder. Joining the New York Conference in 1848, the year before its division assigned him to the New York East Conference, he was ordained deacon in due course by Bishop Janes, at New Haven, May 26, 1850, and elder by Bishop Waugh, at Hartford, April 13, 1852. On April 24, 1848, he was married to Miss Hannah Maria Chandler, who was his faithful helper to the end of his ministry, and till within a year of the close of his life. Brother Pilsbury's professional life was spent as follows: Pastor in Rocky Hill, Westville, Guilford, New Britain, Waterbury, Seventh Street, New York; Hempstead, Rye, Saint John's Street, New Haven; South Third Street, Brooklyn; presiding elder of Long Island South District, pastor in West Winsted, Watertown; presiding elder of New Haven District, and pastor in Danbury, Stratford, Woodbury, Durham and Forestville. The greatest visible success of his pastoral career was at Hempstead, when one hundred and sixty persons professed conversion in a few weeks, and the membership of the Church was nearly doubled. The honorary degree of D.D. was conferred upon him in 1875 by the East Tennessee Wesleyan University. A reticent man whose inner life none but those of his own household knew, he; manly and true, deservedly trusted as a counselor, and of such quality in the care of the churches and their pastors that he was chosen a second time to that responsible work. To know him well was to love him. He delighted in books, and preferred those which tax the logical faculties rather than those which stimulate the imagination. He pored over the theological masters of both Old and New England, but did not rest in the results of their thinking of others. His views were molded by long and careful reflection. In preparing his sermons he would often sit and think for hours together. The quality of his preaching his excellent appointments bear sufficient testimony.

Robert Roden was born April 28, 1842, and died at Philadelphia, Pa., March 20, 1887. When almost twenty-two years of age he was converted in Thirty-seventh church, New York city, in the revival which occurred under the pastorate of Rev. W. H. Boole. Immediately he began to labor for the salvation of souls, and seemed to be especially adapted to mission work in the city, where he labored with considerable success for several years. He entered the Conference as a probationer in 1872, and received the following appointments: Water Street, New York; Wesley Chapel, New York City Mission, Hunting Ridge and Great Hill, Georgetown and Zion Hill, Westbrook and Saybrook, Bloomfield and West Hartford, Newtown and Southville, Orient, L. I. In 1884 he took a supernumerary relation. In this he was conscientious, believing he could be more useful in this relation than in the regular work. Last fall, while engaged in Christian work in Philadelphia, he was prostrated by illness, which resulted finally in death. As a preacher, Brother Roden was instructive. Sinners were converted and believers sanctified under his ministry. He made many warm friends, who revere his memory. As a pastor he was kind, sympathetic, and self-denying. As a husband and father he was a model of sweetness of temper and affectionate devotion. He was pre-eminently a man of prayer, a devout student of the word of God, and spent much time in meditation. He was exceeding y conscientious, honorable in his business transactions, and none ever doubted the sincerity of his motives. Brother Roden was for several years a firm believer in and a zealous advocate of divine healing.

Samuel Ferguson Johnson began his earthly existence on June 2, 1828, and passed on to the heavenly life April 24, 1886, in the fifty-eighth year of his age. He was born in the town of Hempstead, N. Y., and died at Rockville Center, N. Y., only a few miles from the place of his birth. In the spring of 1852 he joined the New York East Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames, in 1854, and elder by Bishop Scott, in 1856. His appointments as a member of the Conference were as follows: Amagansett, Riverhead and Jamesport, Cutchogue, Huntington, West Hampton and Moriches, Stepney, Ridgefield, West Goshen and Cornwall Center, Southbury and South Britain, Amityville Circuit, East Norwich, Far Rockaway, Foster's Meadow and Woodsburg, Roslyn and Searington, Oyster Bay, Flatlands, L. I.; Stony Brook, supernumerary. In the spring of 1884, after thirty-two years of effective service, he was persuaded by his friends to take a superannuated relation, and to seek by rest in another climate to build up the wasting energies of the body. He went with Mrs. Johnson to Drayton, Dakota, where their two younger sons are residing. But health and strength did not assure him that it would be wise to resume the labor and care of a pastoral charge, and the relation of a superannuate was continued. During the year 1885 he was in increasing feebleness. Repeated hemorrhages, the result of a cancerous condition of the stomach, greatly prostrated him, and sometimes brought him to the very border of the river of death, and in the springtime, when nature was reviving into beauty and life, his Master bade him come over where everlasting spring abides.

Nathanael Mead, at the age of seventy-seven, after a ministry of fifty years, passed over the mystical boundary and appeared before his Master. It was on November 1, 1886, as the leaves were falling and nature was beautiful in the bright colors of the changing year, that he was transferred from the fellowship of the saints on earth to the fellowship of the just made perfect. Brother Mead joined the old New York Conference in 1835. On the division of the Conference, in 1848, he was assigned to this Conference, and stationed in the Seventh Street Church, New York. In 1875, after forty-one years of service as an effective preacher, he entered the ranks of the superannuates. He was born in the town of Saugerties, on the Hudson, Ulster County, N. Y., on July 9, 1809. The following is the list of his appointments: Patchogue, L. I.; Bridgehampton, Haddam, Ct.; Newtown and Stepney, Birmingham, supernumerary, Canaan, New Concord, Seventh Street, New York; Ridgefield, Waterbury, Meriden, Missionary at the Five Points, New York city; Tuckahoe, again at the Five Points, Second Church, Norwalk; East Bridgeport, presiding elder, Bridgeport District, Rye, Roxbury. In 1875 he retired from the effective ranks and settled at Stamford. He was a member of the General Conference of 1868, which met at Chicago. Such is the record as found in the Conference Minutes. Tedious and uninteresting it may seem to some, but as the concentric rings on the oak tell of years of conflict, of growth, of sunlight, and of storm, so these brief annals in the Minutes tell of heroic service, of patient endurance, of prayer, of sacrifice and toil; they also tell a tale of joy, of abounding consolations and gathered harvests. Brother Mead was a man who grew to the very last, and never was so large and noble as at the end. A sense of duty and love of truth kept him a perpetual student. It is said that William Pitt died of old age at forty-six years; Brother Mead died young at seventy-seven. The beauty and freshness of his spirit, the energy of his intellect, and the ardor of his curiosity were unabated, and the companionship of his friends was a joy to him to the last. A beautiful characteristic of Brother Mead was his absolute candor as an investigator. He had no subterfuges. There were no evasions, lest he should fall upon unwelcome truths. He had unbounded confidence in truth, and believed that when he had found it he was near God. He was a wise presiding elder. His preachers trusted him and loved him, and if there were no false hopes before Conference there were no heart burnings after Conference. Such was Nathanael Mead—a man of a well-rounded, harmonious, and beautiful nature. The elements were kindly mixed in him. Strong and yet gentle, fixed in his opinions and yet liberal, of faultless integrity and yet charitable, of strictest orthodoxy and yet tolerant, he grew old, but was always young.

Edmund Ogden Bates was born in Peekskill, Westchester County, N. Y., June 21, 1808, and died in Brooklyn, N. Y., May 8, 1886, aged nearly seventy-eight years. Brother Bates was received on probation in the New York Conference, at New York, in May, 1837, and, two years later, into full connection. He was ordained deacon in Brooklyn, May 19, 1839, and elder in New York May 23, 1841, Bishop Hedding presiding on both occasions. He was first appointed to Woodbury, Conn., as junior preacher. His succeeding appointments were: North Madison, West Hampton, Huntington and North Hempstead, Huntington, New Utrecht and Fort Hamilton, North Hempstead, Rockaway, Huntington, East Bridgeport, William Street Bethel, Brooklyn; Chaplain Seamen's Friend Society. At the division of the New York Conference, in 1848, he was assigned to the New York East Conference, of which he remained, through life, a loyal and useful member. On Dec. 8, 1828, he was married to Miss Charlotte Bishop. As a preacher Brother Bates was plain, practical, zealous, and successful—so earnest and sympathetic a speaker that his audiences were frequently moved to tears both by his prayers and his sermons, and his ministrations at his every appointment were accompanied by signal revivals of religion. In pastoral work he excelled, discharging every duty with rigid conscientiousness and sincere devotion. During the seven years of his labor at the William Street Bethel, in Brooklyn, which had become a mission station, Brother Bates's work among the seamen and boatmen attracted the attention of the American Seamen's Friend Society, and induced its officers to petition the New York East Conference to appoint him one of their chaplains. The request was granted, and in the spring of 1862, after having given twenty-five years of faithful and effective work to the itinerancy, our brother was appointed to that other field of Christian labor for which he proved himself so eminently fitted. His heart had always been strongly drawn toward sailors, and he developed remarkable tact and success in his dealings with them. That he might have a place of worship to which to invite the sailors, boatmen, and poor people with whom his labors brought him in contact, he himself collected funds with which to erect a chapel in Van Brunt Street, South Brooklyn. Here he gathered a Sunday-school, held weekly evening services, and preached twice on the Sabbath. He always gave generously, often supplying from his own resources the current deficiencies in his church. He was wholly engrossed in his work. By the Seamen's Friend Society his labors were thoroughly appreciated, and the Society was convinced that it could scarcely dispense with his skillful management of the Loan Library or his successful ministrations among the sailors who throng this port. At his death, in an obituary published in the Sailor's Magazine, occur these beautiful words: "All who knew Father Bates, especially those who daily saw his goings in and out, saw all his zealous labors, performed, from the beginning, and increasingly, with a genuine humility and patience, and with such flavor of his Master's love for souls as made him in every place and season the unmistakable Christian disciple and gentleman. The value of such men to the world they live in is priceless; the legacy they leave behind them outruns estimation." During the Conference of April, 1886, Brother Bates received his twenty-fifth appointment as Chaplain to the American Seamen's Friend Society; but his earthly labors were ended. He was taken with a chill the day he left Conference. He reached home feeling ill, and soon retired to that chamber whence, after five weeks of illness, his spirit received its summons to an immortal home. The Rev. Dr. George E. Reed, of Hanson Place Church, visited Brother Bates frequently during his illness, and says: "These visits have an abiding place in my memory. Though weak and worn, Brother Bates was in thought still absorbed in the work to which he had given all the latter years of his valuable life. Many were the interesting incidents he told me of manifold and blessed results brought about by the reading of the religious books with which, through his efforts, so many ships had been provided. Once he granted me the contents of a letter, just received, in which occurred the following eulogium: 'Many in New York, where you reside, may not know you, neither have acquaintance with your work; but rest assured, dear sir, that on the Pacific coast, from San Francisco to Cape Horn, among men who go down to the sea in ships, there is no name more loved and honored than that of Chaplain Bates.' Expressions of this kind were constantly coming to the sick chamber, gladdening the heart of the grand old veteran, and making him to rejoice that he had not run in vain, neither labored in vain. And another thought that gave him joy was the number of souls given him by the great Head of the Church as the seals of his earlier ministry, one thousand of whom he had followed up, and whose after history he knew. Never shall I forget the face—shining like that of an angel—of the dear old man as he talked of these things of the kingdom. A pure, blameless man was he, devoted to Christ, absorbed in his work, holy in walk and conversation. One of his last requests was that his beloved wife might be transferred to the religious care of Brother William B. Dayton, one of the class-leaders of Hanson Place Church."

New York Conference.

John Campbell was born of Protestant parents in Clones, Ireland, July 5, 1816, and died in Jersey City, August 5, 1886. He was brought up in the Established Church of England; was converted at the age of sixteen, and commenced preaching at nineteen among the Wesleyans. He came to Canada in 1841; was influenced by circumstances to proceed to New York, where he preached his first sermon in America in John Street Church; studied some time in Amenia Seminary; was received into the New York Conference in 1842. In 1845 he was married to Miss Mary A. Norton, of Litchfield, Conn., who, with a son and two daughters, survives him. His appointments in their order were: Amenia, Dutchess, Laphams, Stockport, Mellenville, Greenburg, and Cold Spring. Toward the close of his term in this charge his health utterly broke down, and under the presiding elder he resigned it to a supply for the balance of the year. In all these charges he left a record of success as a true and faithful minister of our Lord Jesus Christ, winning many precious souls to the Saviour. He was among the first to project the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church in Jersey City. He gave his heart and hand to the work, and his means, according to his ability, were at the command of the Church in achieving this object. His example and persistent and prudent labors contributed largely to the completion of the grand enterprise. In May, 1869, under many discouragements, he commenced his labors as librarian of the Five Points Mission, not changing his residence. Under his wise management it soon became an eminent success. Its printed catalogue of books, embracing many standard authors and a vast compass of subjects, now numbers 1,366 works, and was nearly all secured by his direct influence, besides the daily and weekly papers. He was a good judge of books and men, and a competent critic of both. In the preface to the third volume of Stevens's History of Methodism honorable mention is made of him in these words: "I am indebted to the Rev. John Campbell for important documents relating to Irish Methodism." His mind was richly stored with choice literary gems, culled from many authors. He abounded in anecdote, but all his conversation was marked by chasteness and refinement. He always enjoyed a good laugh, but never at the painful expense of another. In his family, in the Church, in the community he was a gentleman of the simplest and noblest type.

W. H. Ferris, D.D., was born at North Castle, Westchester County, N. Y., Feb. 18, 1815. He entered the ministry in 1843, and was at once remarked by the leaders of the Conference of that day as a young man of rare promise. His tall, lithe, but well-built frame, erect and firm, as one who feels the certainty of the ground on which he treads; his marked eagle cast of countenance, the deep overshadowing brow, underneath which nestled an eye of keenest penetration; his clear, rich-toned voice; his remarkable use of good, strong Saxon speech and ready comprehension of his subject, gave him everywhere a foremost position in debate and leadership among his fellows. On the great public questions which agitated his generation he was a ready champion. He was loyal first to God and to his sacred calling, and next to his country and her highest interests. The Minutes of the Conference give his successive appointments in the following order: Hartford, Winsted, Salisbury, Sullivan Street, New York; Poughkeepsie, Washington Street; Poughkeepsie, Hedding Church; Sullivan Street, New York; Rhinebeck, City Mission, New York; Sing Sing and Croton, presiding elder Newburg District, Tarrytown, presiding elder New York District, Bedford Street, New York; Brewster's Station, Cannon Street, Poughkeepsie; Thirtieth Street, New York; Asbury, New York; Matteawan, New York. As a presiding elder he exhibited great ability in the administration of his duties. As a theologian, he was rigidly orthodox, and was satisfied to be known as "earnestly contending for the faith once delivered to the saints." Yet he was a candid inquirer into all the new phases of progress in religious thought and doctrine. In biblical exposition he delighted, and especially in the interpretation of the prophets. As a preacher, he was forceful and often eloquently persuasive and convincing. In the earlier years of his ministry he was very successful in revival efforts, but his chief excellency was in the pastorate. His knowledge of men and of Church discipline made his government as safe as it was firm, while his usually courteous demeanor and strong social qualities won the esteem of his congregations and of the community. He was closing the third year of his appointment at Matteawan, N. Y., which had been most signally efficient, not only in the general advancement of the Church of which he was pastor, but also in raising the moral tone of the population about him, and in his persistent energy as President of the Law and Order League of that busy manufacturing town. On the night of Feb. 9, 1887, after a day of usual pastoral work, and some special domestic provision in which he was interested, he complained of pain in the upper region of the chest, from which, after some applications, he was relieved. Expressing himself better, he turned on his right side, placing his right hand under his head and his left on his breast, and in the quiet of the night "he was not, for God took him." In this peaceful posture his dear wife, at four o'clock the next morning, found all that remained of him. Verily "our breath is in our nostrils." Dr. Ferris was twice married. His first wife was Miss Eliza Green, of New Castle, Westchester County, N. Y.; his second wife was Miss Henrietta Holmes, of New York. His funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Matteawan, N. Y., and he was buried in the family plot at Sing Sing, N. Y.

James Wright Smith was born at Durham, N. Y., Aug. 31, 1825, and died at Carthage Landing, Sept. 22, 1886. He was the youngest son of Rev. Bela Smith, a member of the Conference from 1807 to 1847, and brother of Thomas B. Smith, also an honored member of the Conference. In 1849 he was admitted on trial in the New York Conference, and, with the exception of four years of impaired health, continued in its effective ranks until the day of his death. His appointments were as follows: Franklin, Lexington, Jefferson, Windham, Davenport, Hartsville, Rossville and Pleasant Valley, Shrub Oaks, Malden and Asbury, Chatham Four Corners, Port Ewen, Gardnertown and Little Britain, Canaan and Richmond, Poughquag, Carthage, and New Hamburg. In 1850 he married Miss Mary H. Pierson. Brother Smith was a man of rare excellence, in whom many graces blended most beautifully. Great gentleness, combined with real force of character, gave him deep though quiet influence. Modesty, with a fine courteousness, won and held hosts of friends in all his charges. His care of the poor and his unremitting attention to the sick and bereaved added greatly to the effectiveness of these qualities. The only enemies he ever had were made such by his zeal in the temperance cause.

M. Van Deusen died at Flushing, Genesee County, Mich., March 27, 1887. In relation to the life-work and closing hours of Brother Van Deusen no information has been received concerning the time or place of his birth, nor the period of his conversion or the precise time when he felt moved by the Holy Ghost to assume the obligations and responsibilities of a Christian minister. The scene of his ministry is embraced in the following charges: Bloomville and Walton, Deposit, Charlotte, Lenox, Pine Plains, Sugar Loaf, Middletown, Milton and Marlborough, Fishkill, Fishkill West, Rondout, Matteawan, Shrub Oak, Carmel, Johnsville, North Newburg, Goshen, Modena, Montgomery, and North Newburg. At the Conference of 1869 he was made supernumerary, in which relation he continued until 1873, when he became superannuated, and continued thus until called to his reward above. The circumstances and some of the incidents connected with the closing hours of his life are furnished us by the Rev. John Trout, the pastor of the Flushing Methodist Episcopal Church, Michigan, who, in a letter to Dr. E. S. Osbon, says: "As I have before notified you, our dear Brother Van Deusen died in peace on Sunday morning, March 27, at twenty minutes past three. He was taken severely ill on the night of Monday, March 21, and suffered much physical distress from that time until a few days before his departure. His mind was remarkably clear and his confidence in Christ unshaken all through his illness, and he has doubtless gone from the sacred associations he loved so well here to the solemn troops and sweet societies of the upper sanctuary. On Sunday morning, March 20, he kindly assisted me in the public service, and, while we were all impressed by what seemed an unusual tenderness and far-off look in his spirit and words, we did not think then that his next Sabbath would be spent with the glorified of the Church of our dear Lord in heaven. Brother Van Deusen was a good, true, reliable, pure-minded, and godly man. He was an agreeable companion, kind and affectionate in his intercourse with his brethren, a warm, earnest, and effective preacher of the 'glorious Gospel of the beloved God,' and has gone away from our midst with a character unblemished, a reputation untarnished, which is as precious ointment poured forth."

George Woodworth died at the parsonage in Gardnertown, Orange County, N. Y., Nov. 29, 1886. He was born in Middletown, Vt., Jan. 30, 1826, and converted at twenty-one. He was married Oct. 24, 1850, to Miss Sarah Greene, of Troy, N. Y., who was an efficient helpmeet in his work. He joined New York Conference in 1857, and served the following charges: Windham, Cairo, Gilboa, Bloomville, Eminence, Ashland, Summit, Jefferson, Dormansville, East Jewett, Mongaup Valley, Downesville and Gardnertown, and Little Britain. In most of his charges he was blessed with powerful revivals. His preaching was direct, clear, and pre-eminently evangelical. While in his study and work he kept to the "old paths," and reverenced the Methodist fathers, he did not believe the "golden age" was in the past. He was extremely modest and diffident, and accepted his appointments without a murmur, though some of them were very trying. His experience was rich and deep. Often when alone with God in meditation and prayer he would shout forth his joy. As he neared life's close his family observed that for several weeks at the family altar his access to God was marvelous. Sometimes he would remark, before there were any symptoms of sickness, "O it is glorious to die! it is glorious to die!" His illness was brief but severe. He died as he had prayed he might. He was literally worn out. Not many weeks before his death his invalid daughter was riding with him, and urged him to ask for a superannuated relation at the next session of Conference. He said he would pray over it, and what the Lord directed he would do, but he would prefer "to die in the harness" and "cease at once to work and live." He was out of his pulpit but one Sabbath before his prayer was realized.

Wyoming Conference.

Abel Parker died at his home in Wyoming, Pa., Sept. 24, 1886, in the seventy-sixth year of his age. He was born in Kingston, Pa. At twenty years of age he joined the Wyoming Conference and was assigned to a circuit. In the earlier years of his ministry he was a vigorous and eloquent preacher, and had few, if any, superiors in the Conference. He was peculiarly sympathetic, was well educated, well read, a forcible and entertaining speaker and had the happy faculty of talking to those whom he addressed, fitting his discourses to their requirements and always saying something eminently suitable to the occasion. About thirty years ago, while stationed at Honesdale, he was severely afflicted with minister's sore throat, but subsequently partially recovered, and was enabled to serve through his appointment there and take another charge at Carbondale, which he served one year, when he retired from the active ministry. He was twice married, and leaves four children—two sons and two daughters—all married but one. He awaits that glorious resurrection which was to him the dearest hope and theme of his ministry.

Silas Barner was born in Cobleskill, N. Y., Aug. 28, 1807, and died at Rome, Pa., April 23, 1886, aged seventy-eight years. Brother Barner was converted in early life, and became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. May 3, 1831, on Sharon Circuit, Oneida Conference, he received license to preach. After exercising his gifts as a local preacher for fourteen years, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding. About 1849 he removed to Rome, Pa. For some four years subsequently, under the direction of the presiding elder, he served charges in the vicinity of his home. In 1855 he was received on trial in the Wyoming Conference, and two years later into full connection. After joining the Conference he served the following charges: Rome, Dundaff, Beach Pond, Sanford, Damascus, Lanesborough, Page Brook, Harpersville, Orwell, Auburn, Hornbrook, and West Danby. Many of the preachers yet living remember the sweet and heavenly spirit always exhibited by him at home and abroad. At the close of his term at West Danby, advancing years and failing health compelled him to retire from the active ranks. After his superannuation, until his death, he resided near Rome, Pa. The years of his retirement were marked by much suffering. Only occasionally could he preach or even be present at public worship. But in his home and amid his suffering he was ripening for the garner of God. As a preacher, Brother Barner was far above mediocrity. He was deeply versed in the Scriptures. More than ever, after being laid aside from active work, he studied and memorized its pages. He was well acquainted with our standard authors in theology, and was eminently sound in Christian doctrine. On all his charges he was well received and deservedly popular. His companion, who survives him, shared with him all the toils and privations of his long itinerant life, and is left in loneliness by his death.

Henry Brownscombe died suddenly, almost without a moment's warning, in the early morn of April 30, 1886, at his home in Wilkesbarre, Pa. Brother Brownscomb was born in Bridgrule, Cornwall County, Eng., Aug. 18, 1817. In Sept., 1841, he was received on trial in the Oneida Conference. His first appointment was at Springville, Pa., as junior preacher, and his last to the financial agency of the centennial fund. During the forty-five years of his service in the itinerancy he served sixteen different charges, three of them the second time. He was also presiding elder of the Wyalusing District for one term, and at the Conference held at Waverly, N. Y., in the spring of 1864, was elected delegate to the following General Conference. He was a true man in all the varied relations of life. He was a diligent student, as the large and well-selected library which he has left clearly proves. Beginning his work in the early years of life, when the opportunities for a thorough classical training were not what they are to-day, he sought to make the most of every facility offered him, and at once began a thorough course of study in theology and general literature, by which he attained an honorable position among the readers and thinkers in the school of Christian thought. He was a faithful, earnest, thoroughly consecrated preacher of the Gospel of our Lord. In many of the appointments which he served he was blessed with revivals, more or less extensive, and always did solid, substantial work, winning the hearts of the people, so that he was greatly loved and esteemed by them. The companion of his early years still waits on the shores of time.

Noah Shaw DeWitt was born in Broome County, N. Y., Dec. 10, 1818, and died in Danby, Tompkins County, N. Y., June 2, 1886. His work for Christ commenced with his conversion, and in 1843, having dismissed all other matters of business, he united with the old Oneida Conference, and for more than forty-three years he has done faithful and heroic work for the Master. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding, in 1846, and elder by Bishop Janes, 1848. He served the following charges: Montrose, Leraysville, Brooklyn, Orwell, Lanesborough, Conklin, Newark, Nichols, Barton, Union, Hawley, Bethany, Mount Pleasant, Beach Pond, Castle Creek, South Danby, Little Meadows, Flemingville, North Barton, Rome, and Dandy. He preached three times on Sabbath, organized a Sabbath-school, prayed with a sick man, and led a prayer meeting in the evening. On Monday he was planning, with other members of the official board, for a new parsonage. Tuesday he wrote part of the obituary notice of Rev. Silas Barner; went to a neighboring city to meet his daughter, and the next day, returning just at the close of a beautiful summer day, as the cars rolled into the depot near his home, he stepped into a chariot on entirely another line, and, with angelic escorts, was taken to the bosom of the Father.

James Ryder was of English birth, having been born in Grantham, Lincolnshire, in 1849. Converted while a youth, he united with the Wesleyan Methodists and became a local preacher. He came to America in 1872, and identified himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church. His gifts and graces soon won for him the esteem and confidence of the ministry. He heard and heeded the voice of God and the Church, and offered himself to the work of the ministry, and was admitted on trial into our Church in 1874, and stationed at Spencer, N. Y. Here he remained the full term, as also at Fly Creek, Bainbridge and Unadilla. In 1878 he was united in marriage with Miss Thena Butts, of Spencer, who, with two bright children, mourn to-day the loss of a loving husband and father. He possessed the elements of success, and has left substantial evidences on all the charges he so faithfully served. His early advantages—a liberal education, a well-stored mind, and a thorough Christian training—had prepared him for the work of the ministry. In all the relations of the Christian minister he was a workman who needed not to be ashamed. As a preacher, he was pleasing in manner and correct in matter. His vivid imagination, retentive memory, combined with a flow of language seldom equaled, made him justly popular, while his religious nature, so pure and spiritual, gave an unction and power to his sermons that moved all hearts. His ministry was honored of God in the salvation of souls. His great work on the Unadilla Charge was the erection of their new and elegant church, which stands to-day as his monument and an honor to Methodism. As a friend, minister and layman believed in his veracity, and enjoyed his confidence. He was warm-hearted, generous, and guileless. At the Conference of 1885 he was appointed to Athens, Pa., an important station. He entered upon his labors with characteristic devotion and energy, but his physical powers failed him. His system, so overtaxed on his previous charge, yielded to the pressure of new duties, and at the close of the year he was compelled to ask for a supernumerary relation, that he might secure a much-needed rest. On the afternoon of June 12, 1886, at a time when symptoms seemed encouraging, and his friends were sanguine of recovery, the lamp of life was extinguished.

ERASTUS SMITH passed to the life beyond from Normal, Ill., Feb. 27, 1885, in the seventy-sixth year of his age and the fifty-fourth of his ministry. A letter written to his children not long since contains the following: "I was happily converted to God in New York, my native State, May 28, 1826. In 1831 I was sent out to preach upon a circuit. In 1832 I joined the Oneida Annual Conference, and was stationed at Bethany, Pa. In 1833 I was sent to Pittston Circuit, on which we had not then a church, but now fourteen Methodist preachers find work and support where I received but one hundred dollars, but," he continues, "I was abundantly repaid, for there I met and married, Oct. 14, 1334, Miss Clarissa Landon." She survives him. For nearly thirty years he endured the blessed toil of an itinerant, then, his health failing, he took a superannuated relation to the Wyoming Conference, and, removing to Illinois, continued to serve the Church that he loved as "supply," whenever he was able to do so, and thus filled several stations in the Rock River Conference. The last fifteen years of his life he devoted to the circulation of the blessed Bible, as agent of the American Bible Society. He was a loyal Methodist minister. For fifty-three years his name was called in Annual Conference, and always the reply was recorded, "Nothing against him." In the autumn of 1884, realizing that for him the activities of life were nearly ended, he adjusted his earthly affairs and removed to Normal, where, at the home of his third daughter, Mrs. F. C. Hathaway, the golden wedding was celebrated. From this time his health rapidly declined until his life peacefully closed.

ISAAC PRATT TOWNER was born at Rome, Bradford County, Pa., Dec. 26, 1822, and died in West Nicholson, Wyoming County, Pa., March 18, 1887. Brother Towner was converted when but fourteen years of age. In 1856 he became a member of the Wyoming Annual Conference, and continued in that relation until his death, a period of thirty-one years. During his ministry he served the following charges in the order named: Little Meadows, Litchfield, Mehoopany, Wyalusing, Fairdale, Union, Sanford, Harpersville, Windsor, McDonough, Hales Eddy, Herrick Center, Dalesville, Union and West Nicholson. While on the Wyalusing Charge his health failed, and for four years he held the supernumerary relation. In the death of Brother Towner the Conference has lost one of its most faithful laborers. No sacrifice was too great for him to make for the Church of his choice, or the work of his Saviour. Being a good financier he was instrumental in building six new churches, and in the purchase of three parsonages, besides repairing many others. He had a sharp and rugged mind, clear conceptions of right, an inflexible will, great fervency of spirit, untiring energy, and a tender heart. He was sound in doctrine, straightforward, practical, and spiritual. On every charge he served there were souls saved, and on some charges there were extensive revivals of religion. During the last year of his life about one hundred souls were brought to Christ. He was in the midst of a gracious revival when taken sick. On the last Sabbath he lived, March 13, he preached three times, and at the evening service he made most wonderful appeals to sinners, such as those who heard him had rarely heard before. He went home from that service in a chill, which developed a severe case of pneumonia, from which he died on the following Friday morning. His personal religious experience was clear and confiding. During the Sunday night in which he was taken sick he talked much of the revival, and prayed that God would save all the people in that community.

Troy Conference.

ERASTUS WENTWORTH was born in Stonington, Conn., Aug. 5, 1813, and died at Sandy Hill, N. Y., May 25, 1886. In 1841 he joined Black River Conference. In the same year he was transferred to Troy Conference, and was appointed to Troy Conference Academy at Poultney, Vt., as teacher. In 1846 he was elected president of McKendree College, at Lebanon, Ill. In this relation he was very successful. After serving here for four years he resigned. He was then called to Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., as Professor of Natural Sciences. In 1854 he was appointed missionary to China, and was stationed at Foochow, where he remained until 1862. These eight years were filled with personal blessing, and were of great benefit to the mission. On his return he was appointed to North Second Street Church, Troy, N. Y. In 1865–67 he served State Street, Troy. In 1868–70 he was appointed to Pittsfield, Mass. In 1871–72 he was stationed at Amsterdam, N. Y. At the General Conference in 1872 he was elected to the editorship of the Ladies' Repository, then published at Cincinnati. In the conduct of this monthly Dr. Wentworth found large room for his genius. At the close of this period he received a supernumerary relation, and lived in Troy two years, after which he was made effective, and preached two years at Fort Edward, N. Y., when he again received a supernumerary relation, and retired to Sandy Hill, where, with his family and sisters, he passed the remaining years of his earthly life. In 1876 he was appointed one of a committee of fifteen to revise the Hymnal, for which work he was admirably fitted. We owe him a large debt of gratitude for the abundant labors of love he bestowed upon the poetry and music of that book. Dr. Wentworth was three times married—first in 1839, to Miss Mary De Kalb, who died in 1852. In 1854 he married Miss Anna M. Lewis, of West Chester, Pa., who went with him to China in that year, and died there in 1855. In 1859 he was married to Miss P. E. Potter, who was then a missionary to China, and by whom he had eight children. She died in Cincinnati in 1874. Dr. Wentworth was happy in his home relations, and was held in great respect and tender love by his children, whom he made his friends. His sickness followed a service which he performed at Amsterdam on Easter Day. He was very ill the next day, but had sufficient strength to perform the marriage service for a friend on the Wednesday following. He was sick about a month. The day previous to his death he dictated a note, in which he says, "I am very sick. Willing to live if it be God's will, but longing 'to depart and be with Christ, which is far better.'" The last word he whispered was "rest." The religious character of Dr. Wentworth was apparently modified by his genius. In whatever department he was employed he was faithful; he was true, he was punctual, and he made his best endeavors. He was sound in his doctrines, preaching the truths of the Gospel and Methodism, and emphasizing some which the modern pulpit seems to ignore.

PETER H. SMITH was born in the town of Schroon, N. Y., Jan. 14, 1808, and died in Willsborough, Jan. 12, 1887. In 1833, at the first session of the Troy Annual Conference, after it was separated from the New York, he was admitted on trial and appointed to Westport Circuit. In 1835 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Emory, and in 1837 elder by Bishop Hedding. He remained effective twenty-five years, and filled the following appointments: Westport, Northampton, Johnstown, Berne, Whitehall, Middletown and Wells, Vt., Ticonderoga, Jay and Ausable Forks, Schuyler Falls, Pittstown, North Pittstown, Wilton, East Hebron, Fairhaven, and Benson. In all of these places his labors were acceptable, and in several of them God honored him with gracious revivals, in which scores were added to the Church. Brother Smith was a genial, warm-hearted man, a true friend, and, when occasion required, a generous one. He was an affectionate husband and a kind father. He was a good preacher—simple, impressive, and often peculiarly pathetic. He had a fund of anecdotes, and often employed them in illustrating truth and enforcing duty. In prayer and exhortation he was especially gifted. He had few equals in conducting prayer-meetings or in leading classes. He was a good pastor and a prudent disciplinarian. In 1861, his health being poor, he took a superannuated relation. In his quiet home he passed nearly twenty-six years, providing for himself and family by his industry and economy. He at once identified himself with the church near him; was always ready to preach when called on; was the efficient and esteemed teacher of a large class of adults in the Sunday-school; and when able to be present was active in the social means of grace. For two or three of his last years his health was poor, and his mind failed with his body. At times he failed to recognize his dearest friends. Still he had so long breathed in the atmosphere of prayer that in these seasons he would often pray with great earnestness. To say he was without faults would be to say he was not human. We loved him long, and hope to "meet him with the Saviour" "when we, too, have crossed the tide." Brother Smith was twice married, Miss Maria Leland, of Schroon, being his first wife, and Miss Martha Knapp, of Crown Point, his second.

Peter P. Harrower was born in Berne, N. Y., in 1809, and died in Albany Sept. 6, 1886. He joined Conference on trial in 1833, and was ordained deacon in 1836 and elder in 1838. For forty-six years he performed the work of an effective itinerant minister with unflinching fidelity. Sometimes his charges were laborious and the work difficult, but he endured the hardship and surmounted the difficulty, and usually left his charges in a much improved condition. The purity and integrity of his character were never questioned by those who knew him. He occupied many positions of influence and responsibility. For four years he was presiding elder of Poultney, now Cambridge District, and was a delegate to the General Conference in 1860; but whether at the head of a Church, on a district, or on the floor of the Annual or General Conference, the interests of Methodism never suffered in his hands. Whatever was intrusted to his keeping was safe to the extent of his ability to protect and advance that interest. He was very much of a student, and diligently read not only the theological works of his time, but in his earlier years made considerable proficiency in the study of the Hebrew, Latin, and Greek, as well as the German and French. Throughout his ministry he was accustomed to write much, on not only theological subjects, but the current topics of the day. In the closing weeks of life he is said to have completed a history of the Methodist Episcopal Church within the bounds of the Troy Conference. The last seven years were spent in the retired sphere of a superannuate, but he was not inactive. He preached as often as health and opportunity would permit. His last sickness was brief, and he gently fell asleep in Jesus without the expression, in word or look, of a doubt or fear. Thus lived and died the beloved husband, affectionate father, faithful pastor, earnest preacher, loyal citizen, champion of liberty, and saint of God.

Joseph Cope was born in Cheadle, Staffordshire, England, April 10, 1830, and died at Schuyler Falls, N. Y., April 21, 1887. In the spring of 1855 he was admitted to Troy Conference, and stationed at Peru. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Cobleskill, Schoharie, Essex, Ellenburg, Chazy, Easton and Cambridge, Greenfield, Minaville, Quaker Springs, Luzerne, Chester, Elizabethtown, West Chazy, Ausable Forks, Beekmantown, and Schuyler Falls. After preaching here about seven months he was prostrated by heart disease on November 13. The struggle it cost him to be able to say, "Thy will be done" was severe and protracted, but grace enabled him to surrender all to the Master and patiently wait his bidding. Brother Cope greatly loved the work of the ministry, and excelled as a preacher. He was modest and unassuming. When others who succeeded him and were having extensive revivals said to him that they were reaping the fruit of his sowing, he would never accept any credit for what he had done, but would always say, "Give God the glory." On the very morning when his brethren were gathering for the opening of the Conference session the Master called him from the toil and suffering of earth to the rest and reward of heaven.

John C. Walker was born in Wallingford, Vt., Nov. 25, 1822, and died at Hampton, N. Y., Aug. 15, 1886. In 1852 he was converted to God. In 1857 he was admitted on trial in Troy Conference and appointed to Clifton Park, and in 1858 to Rockwood. In 1859 he was received into full connection in the Conference, and was ordained both deacon and elder by Bishop Ames. His subsequent appointments were: Johnsburg, N. Y.; Pawlet, Vt.; Belcher, Berne, Esperance, Elizabethtown, and Ausable Forks, N. Y.; Starksborough, Winooski and Middletown, Vt.; Pottersville and Minerva, East Hebron, Knox, Grovenor's Corners, Dannemora and Stony Creek, N. Y.; Washington, Mass.; Grafton and Reber, N. Y. His last appointment was West Addison, Vt. In the latter part of the year he was stricken with paralysis, from which he continued to suffer until released by death. April 29, 1843, he was married to Miss Jane Sweat, of Granville, N. Y., an estimable Christian lady, who shared in all of his itinerant labors. She and one son and several grandchildren survive and mourn their loss. Brother Walker was a devout Christian, a good preacher, a faithful pastor, an affectionate husband, and indulgent father.

Harvey Van De Car was born at Crescent, Saratoga County, N. Y., Sept. 20, 1849, and died in West Troy, Feb 2, 1887. He united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1870. On July 17, of the same year, he was married to Miss Josephine Wonderford, of Crescent, who has been his true help-meet to the end of his career. In 1874 he was received as a probationer in the Troy Conference. His first appointment was to North Hudson. Here, in spite of the exacting demands of that trying and laborious field, the youthful couple did heroic service, and are gratefully remembered. His brief ministry covered the following appointments: Beekmantown, Salisbury, Vt.; Rockwood and Ephratah, Salem, and Ohio Street, West Troy. In all these fields our brother's ministry was eminently successful. In his last charge Brother Van De Car's labors were signally blessed. His pastorate will stand out conspicuous in all the features of genuine prosperity in the history of the Ohio Street Church. He promoted peace and harmony in the membership, added to its strength by accessions from two fruitful revivals, and through his wise and unsparing efforts the church structure was thoroughly renovated and improved. These were the crowning achievements of his short but efficient ministry. On Christmas Day, 1886, his overtaxed system succumbed to what seemed the prostration of a severe cold. In ten days typhoid fever of a severe type developed, and from the first he was impressed that his work was done. He said, "I would like to live for my wife, and to preach if I can," but was submissive. Had Brother Van De Car lived he seemed destined to still greater influence and usefulness. As a preacher, he was endowed with a fine voice, vivid imagination, and excellent descriptive powers. As a pastor, he was devout, cheerful, sympathetic; the true friend and counselor of his people. He went into the abodes of gloom and sorrow as a radiant, living sunbeam, diffusing the light of Christian faith and hope. He was faithful to his work. Some of his fields were hard, too hard for his frame, but he prosecuted his work cheerfully, uncomplainingly, relaxing in nothing, till providentially relieved.

Sylvester W. Clemens passed to his reward Monday, March 7, 1887. He was born in Hyde Park, Vt., May 24, 1818, and was in his sixty-ninth year. As befitted the close of such a soldierly life it was peaceful and in holy triumph. The rich and great mercy of Jesus was his portion, and not a cloud flecked his spiritual sky. At the session of the Troy Conference in 1843 he was admitted on trial from the old Morristown Circuit. It may be of interest to trace his appointments: Morristown, Vt.; Wallingford, Vt.; East Dorset, Vt.; Factory Point, Vt.; Ticonderoga, N. Y.; Warrensburg, N. Y.; Fairfax, Vt.; Bakersfield, Vt.; Swanton, Vt.; Highgate, Vt.; Winooski, Vt.; Danby, Vt.; Factory Point, Vt.; Arlington, Vt.; Crescent, N. Y.; Chaplain of the One Hundred and Fifteenth Regiment of New York Volunteers; Green Island, N. Y.; Lake George, N. Y.; Bolton, N. Y.; Caldwell, N. Y.; North Bennington, Vt.; Greenbush, N. Y.; Middleburg, N. Y.; Gallupville, N. Y.; Broadalbin, N. Y.; Valatie, N. Y.; Brunswick, N. Y.; Hagaman's Mills, N. Y. For five years he was owner of the "Mohican House," a financial necessity, but preached in appointments adjacent all of the time. In most, if not all, of his charges he had great revivals, for he was emphatically a revivalist. Like a Finney in revival work, like a Gough on the temperance platform, and like a Simpson in occasional flights of oratory, he was ever an interesting, popular, and powerful preacher.

Rodman Hazard Robinson, D.D., died at Fort Plain, Oct. 19, 1886, aged sixty-six years. He was born in Newark, Wayne County, N. Y., Dec. 26, 1819, and converted to Christ in his sixteenth year. In 1844 he was married to Elizabeth Ann Becker, of Chatham, the same year beginning his work as an itinerant minister, a supply under the presiding elder. In 1845 he joined the Troy Conference, and was continued at Ticonderoga. During the forty-one following years he was appointed successively by the bishops to sixteen charges: Whitehall, Orwell, Benson, Galway, Plattsburg, Pittsfield, Saratoga Springs, Amsterdam, Albany, Ballston, Cobleskill, Greenbush, West Troy, and Fort Plain; to three of these charges he was recalled a second time. In 1861 he served as chaplain to the Thirty-second New York Volunteers, and later was for four years presiding elder of Albany District. He was for some years Secretary to his Conference, and once was chosen delegate to the General Conference. In 1884 the degree of Doctor of Divinity was worthily bestowed upon him by Syracuse University. Though giving his best powers, with an earnestness and efficiency rarely equaled, to the great duties of the Gospel ministry, fostering the Sunday-school, bringing sinners to Christ, instructing recruits, and strengthening Zion, combating error and infidelity, seizing upon every fit occasion to instruct the masses of men in the duties of citizenship, carrying his counsels and prayers also into the great civic orders and societies, he had meanwhile been a model man of business, abhorring debt, bringing tact and order into official boards, pointing them to new Church enterprises, showing them how to lift their burdens, and setting the example of always living within his income, besides saving a margin for benevolence, and often another margin for wise investment. When he spoke to the people on the great themes of the Gospel his soul quickly kindled into an earnest enthusiasm, but he never lost his self-command. He was a man that knew how to make up his mind, and, his course once decided upon, an inflexible will held all his powers in abeyance until the end was attained. For us who have been so suddenly and deeply bereaved, it is fitting to mourn. We cannot but condole with each other and with all to whom he was dear. Yet if we can but lift our minds above the consideration of our loss, and contemplate him and the assured achievements of his well-rounded and victorious life, following him as he goes to his glorious reward, we shall not be able to withhold our congratulations. It was his singular happiness to close his ministry at the Fort Plain Charge. Recalled after an interval of half a generation to preach to the children of his former converts, and to lead goodly numbers of the people to Christ in that new and commodious and beautiful sanctuary, how deeply he enjoyed his Church labors and associations we may know from the record written by his own hand on a leaflet dated June 30, which Mrs. Robinson found on his study table, in which he gave an account of the remarkably melting influence of the Spirit of God upon the exercises of a recent love-feast and communion, so that for some minutes he had been unable to go on and to complete his prayer. And was it not of Heaven's mercy and not of wrath, that there, near the close of the solemn and memorable public services of his last Sabbath, after his people had thronged about him with hand-clasping and with words of loving appreciation and gratitude, he should have fallen at his post? The service of his last Sabbath was of the nature of a "harvest home"—a day of rejoicing over the garnered spiritual fruits of the year—and it was at the close of these grateful and happy services, while the reverberations of the songs of victory yet lingered amid the arches of that fair temple of worship, that the chariot of God came for him.

New Hampshire Conference.

Loren H. Gordon was born in Andover, Mass., June 22, 1807, and died in Quincy, Ill., Aug. 21, 1886, aged seventy-nine years. Sept. 4, 1836, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding; June 8, 1838, he was ordained elder by Bishop Morris. In 1832, at Lyndon, Vt., he joined the New Hampshire Conference; Aug. 19, 1834, at Great Falls, N. H., he was married to Miss Elizabeth Adams Smiley. Brother Gordon filled appointments in the New Hampshire Conference as follows: Wakefield, Canaan, Bristol, Stratford, Gilmanton, Meredith Bridge, and Marlow. June 30, 1841, he was located at his own request. In 1855 he was readmitted to Conference, after which he filled appointments as follows: North Salem, Manchester, First Church; Grantham, and Henniker. During the year 1860 he removed to Quincy, Ill. In 1861 he superannuated, and so remained until death. For a few years he was engaged in business in Quincy. In 1867 he was appointed agent of the American Bible Society in Illinois, and continued to act as such for eight years, until failing health compelled him to resign. In all relations and responsibilities in life he was faithful and efficient. He was a good scholar, a plain, practical, stirring preacher of the old school, an excellent pastor, and a hard worker.

Silas Wiggin was born in Fairlee, Vt., April 8, 1805, and died in Sutton, Vt., Dec. 17, 1886. He was admitted on trial to the New Hampshire and Vermont Annual Conference August 31, 1836. In 1839 he was ordained deacon, and elder in 1841. His fields of labor were: Saint Johnsbury, Chelsea, Westfield, Derby and Holland, Cabot and Calais, Vt., and Lyman, Stratford and Columbia, N. H. He was a man of ordinary preaching ability; but all his capital was invested in Church work. He was a very successful worker in social meetings, mighty in prayer and strong in faith. He walked with God and God walked with him. During the forty years of his superannuated life he lived in Lyndon and Sutton, Vt. He was in hearty sympathy with the preachers who have been stationed near him, and was always ready to do all he was able to assist them.

Vermont Conference.

JOHN L. SMITH was born in Brookfield, Vt., May 7, 1806, and died in Vernon, Vt., Oct. 15, 1886. He entered the traveling ministry, and was received into the New Hampshire Conference, held at Lyndon, Vt., August, 1832. This Conference then included the present New Hampshire and Vermont Conferences, excepting Saint Albans District. His appointments were as follows: Marlow, Goshen, Brattleborough, Andover, Boscowen, Marlow, Athens and West Townshend, Athens and Putney, Guilford, Guilford and Brattleborough, Wilmington and Whitingham, Wilmington. It was in 1844 that the three districts, namely, Montpelier, Danville and Springfield were set off as a Vermont Conference, and the subject of this memoir became a member of the Vermont Conference. He was stationed as follows: Marlborough, Barnard, Whitingham, Whitingham and Dover Mission, Vernon, Londonderry, West Windsor and Felchville, Proctorsville, Wardsborough, Dover, Hartland, Lunenburg, Perkinsville and Ascutneyville, Ascutneyville and Greenbush, South Reading and Felchville, supernumerary. He was superannuated in 1873, and continued in this relation until his death. He was admitted into full connection and elected to deacon's orders at West Windsor in 1834, and ordained by Bishop Hedding. He was elected and ordained elder in 1844. Brother Smith was an earnest, faithful, and successful minister of the Gospel. As a preacher, he was logical, clear, convincing, and strong, fortifying and sustaining his positions by the omnipotent Word. He was not a great student of books, but he studied nature, men, and things, and the holy Scriptures thoroughly. And being familiar with the Bible, he could quote passage after passage with great freedom and to purpose.

R. H. BARTON was born in Monkton, Vt., May 19, 1816, and died in Sheffield, Vt., Oct. 8, 1886. At sixteen years of age he began teaching, and won excellent success in the profession, being well adapted to the work. He was converted under the labors of Rev. Cyrus Prindle in Ferrisburg, and joined the Wesleyan Church. He was married in 1850 to Miss Mary J. Haseltine. In 1852 he united with the Champlain Conference of the Wesleyan denomination, was ordained elder, and stationed at Crown Point, N. Y., where he remained three years. During the following years in his ministry he was stationed at Canton and Parishville, N. Y.; Chittenden, Warren, Morristown, Mendon and Sheffield, Vt. After preaching for two years at Sheffield as a Wesleyan, and becoming convinced that the cause for separation from the mother Church had ceased to exist, he was instrumental in bringing his parish, both membership and Church property, into the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1866 he united with the Vermont Annual Conference, and was returned again to Sheffield to preach the third year to his old flock under the new régime. After this he was appointed successively to East Burke, Danville, Barnard, Saint Albans Bay, Morrisville, Montgomery, Newport Center and North Danville. While at Newport Center he was stricken down with paralysis, but after a few months he recovered sufficiently to resume his work for nearly three years. In 1881 he took a superannuated relation to the Conference, and the following year retired to his little home in Sheffield, where his only daughter had previously settled. It soon became evident that his work was done. For more than four years, however, he lingered on, an invalid, fading away, while his faithful wife devoted herself to ministering to his wants. One night at eleven o'clock "he was not," for God had taken him.

J. S. SPINNEY was born in Kittery, Me., Oct. 18, 1813, and died at Northfield Feb. 10, 1887. In the year 1844 he joined the New Hampshire Conference on probation, and was appointed to Groton, this State. He was ordained deacon, and joined the Vermont Conference in full in 1846. At the Conference in Barre, in 1848, he was ordained elder by Bishop Hedding. He received the following appointments: Groton, West Newbury, Derby and Holland, Walden, Lunenburg, South Hardwick, Albany, Sutton and Burke, Middlesex, Williamstown and Brookfield, Rochester, Worcester, West Mills, Marshfield and Calais, Barton, Moretown, Wolcott, East Corinth and Topsham, Peacham, Bloomfield, North Danville and South Tunbridge. On Dec. 19, 1847, he was joined in marriage to Caroline M. Hoyt, of Craftsbury. They had born to them a son and twin daughters. His wife was an excellent woman, and a great help to him in his work, sharing with him for over thirty-five years the cares, duties, and responsibilities of an itinerant's life. At North Danville, April 5, 1883, she heard the call of the Master, closed her labors on earth, and left him to continue his labors without her encouragement and aid. In the spring of 1884 he was married to Widow Martin, of Williamstown. He was one of the fathers in the Conference, having been on the effective list for thirty-nine years. As a preacher Brother Spinney was sound in doctrine and earnest with spiritual life; his Christian experience was clear, and he did not hesitate to declare that Christ was a present and complete Saviour to him. He was meek and humble in spirit, going cheerfully to his appointments. An associate says: "I never heard a murmur from his lips, or knew a Church to run down under his ministry." On the morning of Feb. 10, to meet a previous engagement to visit the village school of Northfield, where he resided, he hurried to the schoolroom where he was greeted by the teacher in his usual health, and directed to a chair, where he seated himself. Soon the attention of the teacher was directed to him by a gurgling sound, his head reclined, and he was dead, ceasing at once to work and live. He was a thorough Methodist, a thoroughly good man, a faithful pastor, and useful preacher.

New England Conference.

JEFFERSON HASCALL was born in Thompson, Conn., Nov. 6, 1807. At seventeen years of age he was received into the Methodist Episcopal Church of his native town. Having completed his academic studies he was received as a probationer in the New England Conference in 1830, and was assigned as his field of labor to Granville Circuit. His subsequent fields of labor were: Tolland and Mansfield, Harvard, Bristol, Duxbury, Newburyport, North Russell Street, Boston; Lynn Common, Westfield and West Springfield, Pynchon Street, Springfield; Odeon, Boston; Shrewsbury, Worcester District, Boston District, again at Shrewsbury, again at Pynchon Street, Worcester District again, Shrewsbury the third time, Boston District the third time, the fourth time at Shrewsbury, Medford, West Somerville, Medford, and the third term on Worcester District. At the Conference of 1878, on account of advanced age and increasing infirmities, he was appointed Agent of the Conference Domestic Missionary Society, which he had been greatly instrumental in organizing. At Medford, on Sabbath, Feb. 13, he passed from earth to the heavenly rest; "his garments brushed the dews on Jordan's banks," and his "triumphs had begun." Dr. Hascall was a man of rare endowments. His personal presence, combining harmoniously strength and symmetry, indicated that he possessed a broad, strong mind—a soul overflowing with warmest sympathy, rendering his companionship most agreeable, and his influence powerfully attractive. His friendship was readily secured, ardent, active, sincere, and lasting. He was greatly beloved because, with other reasons, he warmly loved. As a Christian, his sincerity was apparent in his every look and act. Not the slightest shade of doubt seemed ever to cross the vision of his faith.

As a preacher, Dr. Hascall was of the highest order. With the great truths of the Gospel permeating his entire being, and glowing like fire shut up in his bones, the powerful enginery of his intellect, aided by his almost peerless imagination, clothed these truths in words that burned, expressing thoughts that breathed. As a teacher of theology, he was a workman who had no reason to be ashamed, but of whom his brethren were proud. In the discharge of the most difficult, delicate, and important duties of the presiding eldership he showed abilities and adaptations to the work of the highest order. He was twice honored by his brethren with a seat in the General Conference, and carried to that position the same conscientious fidelity and marked ability which characterized him in all his official work. His public and active ministry covered more than half the history of the New England Conference. His life's labor done, he sleeps peacefully amid the scenes he loved so well in life.

William A. Clapp was born in Norton, Mass., Jan. 23, 1813, and died in Fitchburg Jan. 4, 1887. He joined the New England Conference in 1837, being appointed to the historic Needham Circuit. In 1839 he was sent to New England Village, a new field for Methodism, and the Church few in number; but a powerful revival resulted in sixty professed conversions. He was returned a second year, but at the end of six months, the business of the place utterly failing, the people removed in large numbers, preaching was discontinued, and he spent the remaining six months pleasantly and profitably at North Uxbridge. On the eve of the following Conference, June 22, 1841, he married at Providence, R. I., Miss Lois Scott Starkey. Brother Clapp preached after his marriage in seventeen different appointments. His health and that of his wife failing, he took a superannuated relation in 1862, and retired to a small farm in which he had a little inherited interest. For fifteen years Brother Clapp earned a very frugal living upon the farm, making himself useful by officiating at funerals, and preaching as occasion offered. In 1877 his wife was enfeebled by a cancer, and for two years he bestowed upon her the most of his time. In 1879, after severe suffering, which she bore with a sweet, Christian resignation, she died. His last illness was brief, and his friends were shocked to hear of his sudden death, which occurred Jan. 4, 1887.

Daniel Kingsley Banister was born in Chesterfield, Mass., March 23, 1808, and died in Ludlow, June 27, 1886. In 1834 he was received in the Conference on trial, and sent to Little Compton, R. I., and the year following to the Barnstable Circuit. At the close of this year, in 1836, he was received into full connection, and appointed to North Fairhaven, now Acushnet. In all these places he appears to have labored with much success, and to have been a most conscientious, devout, and enthusiastic worker, and yet a careful, wise and sensible pastor, much beloved by his people. At the close of the Conference year 1836-37 Brother Banister was united in marriage to Harriet Newell Steele, daughter of Rev. Joel Steele, at that time and for about forty years a member of this Conference. It was a happy marriage, and for nearly fifty years these two have labored and rejoiced and sorrowed together. His appointments were: Woonsocket, R. I.; Greenwich, Saugus and Newburyport. In all these appointments there were conversions, and in some of them powerful revivals. In Newburyport Brother Banister's health began to give out. As soon as he felt better he took hold of the work again, but in six weeks he broke down, and was compelled to retire from the field. At the next Conference he indicated his readiness for work. Some friends at Chesterfield had asked for a preacher, and he was sent to lay the foundations of a new society there. The year was one of not very severe labor and of good success. At the beginning of the next year he was assigned to the important charge of Chicopee, and after two years of service there to Fitchburg. His appointments after that were: Shrewsbury, E. Saugus again, Newton Upper Falls, Boston, Church Street; Marlborough, Shrewsbury a second time, and Fitchburg also a second time. At the end of his second year in this latter appointment he again broke down, and took a superannuated relation for one year, and then again took work, though against the advice of his physician. His appointments from this time were: Palmer, Ludlow, Enfield, Charlton, and East Templeton. In 1871, at the end of his second year's service in East Templeton, he asked for and received a superannuated relation. After this, though he never took an effective relation, he supplied the Church at North Amherst for about two years, 1872-74. It will be thus be seen that Brother Banister did the work of an effective minister nearly forty years. During almost thirty years of this time his physical condition was such that it was something like a continual struggle for life. Yet he was preserved to his seventy-ninth year. In the last fifteen years of his life his residence was at Ludlow, where he found shelter under the roof of his son-in-law, Mr. Warren D. Fuller. Occasionally he preached, and was always a diligent attendant upon the means of grace, and a helper, adviser, and supporter of the pastor. He was not a man of great learning, nor of extraordinary eloquence, but he was a man of sound understanding and good sense, happily balanced; a man of most kindly disposition; a gentleman in the best sense of the term; a man of deep, genuine, and most earnest piety. His preaching was thoroughly evangelical, and powerfully persuasive. He was a man of peace and a peacemaker. Several times this characteristic determined his appointment in cases where dissensions had taken place and parties had been formed. Twice he was sent to former charges from which he had been absent some years to restore harmony which had been sadly impaired. God gave him great spiritual blessings, and a long life filled with usefulness, as well as many trials and sorrows. Grandly he improved the former, and bravely and patiently he bore the latter.

Nathan Augustus Soule, after a pilgrimage of sixty-five and a ministry of nearly forty four years, died in peace in Lowell, Mass., March 26, 1887. At a Quarterly Conference for Eastport Station, held June 14, 1843, he was licensed as a local preacher. The same Conference probably recommended him to be received on trial in the Maine Conference, and stationed at South Bay, Me. Three years afterward he joined Conference, and when he had received his appointment to Wesley, Me., there occurred an event which colored and blessed more than twoscore years of his life. July 16, 1846, he was married to Miss Almira Timberlake. That the life of the itinerant which has just closed was worthily spent will be seen by the record of ministerial appointment and service. Brother Soule received the following appointments: South Bay, Sedgwick and Swan's Island, Trenton, Wesley, Phillipsburg, Naples, Pownal, Rumford, Hanover, Kittery, Dudley, Leominster, Ludlow and Jenksville, North Andover, Gloucester, Whitinsville, Walpole, Weston, Charlton, Rockbottom, North Dana, Pelham, South Worthington, superannuated from 1877 till his death.

New England Southern Conf.

William R. Rogers was transferred to this Conference from the New York East Conference one year ago, and after a brief ministry among us, of only about four months, passed to his eternal home. He was born June 23, 1849, and was, therefore, thirty-seven years of age when he died. He received his early training in an eminently Christian home. Although his father, who was a Methodist and a member of the New Jersey Conference, died while he was yet a babe, his mother, a woman possessed of a positive religious character and experience, conducted the affairs of the home in the fear of God, and instructed her children in the doctrines and requirements of the religion of Christ. In the midst of such helpful surroundings he learned the great truths of the Gospel, and was protected from the habits and vices to which the youth are so generally exposed. At an early age, under the ministry of Rev. John McDougall, at New Egypt, N. J., he was converted to Christ. He immediately united with the Church, and successfully filled the offices of class-leader, steward, exhorter, and local preacher. In July, as he was preparing for Church service on the Sabbath, he was taken with hemorrhage of the lungs. Although he obtained temporary relief, he gradually sank under the disease until in about six weeks, on Sept. 14, he quietly passed away. His ministry was a brief one, and the list of the Churches which he served is a short one. He entered the New York East Conference in 1881. He was appointed to Beacon Falls, Conn., 1881–82; Dixwell Avenue, New Haven, 1883–85. He was transferred to the New England Southern Conference one year ago and appointed to Portland, Conn. It was the desire of his heart during his last sickness, when it became apparent that he could not live, that he might be transferred back to the Conference of i s first choice, the New York East, and he died thinking that the transfer had been made; but for some reason this was not done.

Solomon P. Snow was born in Brewster, Mass., Aug. 10, 1811, and died in Portsmouth, R. I., Dec. 17, 1886, aged seventy-five years. Brother Snow was married twice, his first wife being Miss Sally Snow, of his native town, and his second Miss Maria J. Pratt, of Taunton, Mass. He was converted in 1830, while crossing the Gulf of Mexico in a vessel commanded by Captain Nathan Foster, of Brewster, a model Christian ship-master, and from that time was a happy, earnest Christian. He followed the sea about five years after this, often feeling he ought to preach the Gospel. In 1837 he left his lucrative secular calling and entered the ministry of the Reformed Methodist Church. During his connection with that body he served Churches at North Rehoboth, Hyannis and East Douglas, Mass. In 1850 he joined the Wesleyan body, with whom he served Churches in Norton, Mass.; Exeter, N. H.; East Dennis and Hebronville, Mass. He was admitted to Providence Conference in 1867, since when his appointments have been as follows: East Harwich, Osterville, South Harwich, Myrickville, Westport Point, North Rehoboth, Portsmouth, South Middleborough and Long Plain. Brother Snow possessed in marked degree all the elements of true manliness. He despised tricky self-seeking, and felt a contemptuous pity for a man who would whine and complain rather than stand up and help himself. He was a skilled comforter of the afflicted, and a ready helper of the weak or tempted. In all this he was the same at home and abroad. He was a man of good intellectual abilities, thinking clearly and holding his convictions with a firm grasp. There was a rich vein of humor in his mental make-up, which not only helped to make him the companionable man he was, but often enabled him to rebuke a wrong or expose a folly without giving offense. As a Christian he was devout before God, and faithful among men. As a preacher he was evangelical, clear, and persuasive. As a pastor he was faithful in things great and small, doing all for love of his Lord and love of his people. Loving hearts are lonely, but his works do follow him.

Elisha M. Dunham passed to his reward Oct. 23, in Florida, in the fifty-third year of his age. He was converted at the early age of ten. In 1870 he joined on trial in the Providence Conference, being a member of the largest class that ever joined this body, and the first to die. His appointments were: Washington Street, North Easton, Edgartown, Somerset, and Sachem Street, Norwich. After one year upon his last appointment, experiencing a difficulty with his throat from which he never fully recovered, and having a high sense of honor, he located; but never lost his interest in the work he loved so well. He united with our Church in Plymouth, and at intervals, as his health permitted, served the Fifth Congregational Church of Plymouth, at Chiltonville, at which place he found a home, and in two instances took work under the presiding elder. As a preacher Brother Dunham was conscientious and convincing. Souls were saved upon all his charges, and the same gracious fruit followed him to the last in his Florida field, where he was held in the highest esteem. In 1856 he was united in marriage to Miss Ruth F. Howland, of Plymouth. Brother Dunham's last discourse was on "All things work together for good to them that love God;" and in this faith they and the sorrowing widow wait in trustful hope.

Delaware Conference.

Benjamin Gibbs was born on the eastern shore of Maryland, in Kent County, 1798. He was converted when about seventeeen years of age and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was a faithful and active member of the same for seventy-two years, except what time he was disqualified by reason of age and affliction. He was removed from the eastern shore to Baltimore, and joined the Sharp-street Methodist Episcopal Church, where he held membership for many years. When the local Conference was organized within the limits of what is now the Delaware Conference, Brother Gibbs became a member of it. He also joined the regular Annual Conference at its second session, in 1865, in the city of Wilmington, Del., and served several appointments acceptably. His first ones were Saint Michaels, Kent Island, and Hillsborough; his last one was Crumpton. At the close of the Conference year at the latter place, he being considered disabled, at his own request he was granted a superannuated relation. He had already suffered from a stroke of paralysis, which was followed by several other attacks. At last, after having suffered severely for a long time, he yielded, and departed this life about the last of August, 1886, in great peace.

Maine Conference.

Joseph Gerry was born at Alfred, Me., March 26, 1806, and died at Prairie Center, Ill., April 12, 1887. He was converted in 1827, and received on trial in the Maine Conference at its annual session in 1829, and at the completion of his Conference course of study was ordained an elder of the Methodist Episcopal Church by Bishop Soule. In 1833 he was married to Miss Patience C. Hamilton, of Waterford, Me., who died in 1836; he afterward married Miss Julia A. Thomas, or Eden, Me., May 19, 1839, who still survives him. Five years ago he was stricken with partial paralysis, which returned, and undoubtedly was the cause of his death. He was superannuated in 1863, and went to Illinois in 1869. He occasionally preached, and it was with gladness and zeal that he was enabled to perform the duties of a Christian life. At the patriarchal age of eighty-one years he was ready to exchange the staff in hand and the feeble steps of infirm mortality for the glorious immortality beyond the river.

Thomas J. True was born in Temple, Me., Sept. 5, 1808, and died in Minot, Me., Dec. 21, 1886, aged seventy-eight years. In 1832 he married Miss Hannah Duncan, of Bath, Me. Brother True was converted when but eight years old. His Conference record is as follows: Vienna, Mercer, Sidney, Wilton, Durham, Waterford, Oxford, East Poland, Kittery, Industry, Fairchild, Alna, North Auburn, Lisbon, Durham, Livermore, Scarborough, Fairfield Center, Raymond, superannuated. Brother True loved the Church of his choice, and was faithful to its doctrine and Discipline. He had a passion for souls, and for their salvation he labored, caring little for ease or comfort if he might win some to Christ. Nor was he disappointed, for on every charge he had more or less of revival.

East Maine Conference.

William W. Marsh was born in Orono, Me., Feb. 12, 1836, and on June 18, 1863, in the town of Brewer, he calmly passed to his reward above. In 1862 he was married to Miss Ellen S. Brann, who for twenty-four years shared with him the joys and toils of the Master's work, and who with three children deeply mourn their loss. He joined the East Maine Conference on probation at Belfast, April 13, 1860, and was received into full membership at Cherryfield, 1862, and ordained deacon by Bishop Baker. Two years later he was elected to elder's orders at Bucksport, and ordained by Bishop Ames. He filled with great acceptability the following appointments: Patten, Lincoln, Corinth, Dover, Bangor, Union Street; Damariscotta, Bucksport, Bangor District, Dexter, Brewer. Brother Marsh was loved and respected by all who knew him. His private character and social qualities give in his death ground for peculiar grief to those who knew him best, so genial and kindly was his spirit, always tender in his words, and loving in his deeds. No gloomy shadows hovered about his sick chamber. He arranged his business, received his friends, and as the scenes of earth receded, he grasped with a firmer hold and a more triumphant faith the enduring realities of the life to come. His philosophy taught him that this life is but the beginning, not the end; that after death he would open his eyes in another sphere of existence. In that faith he lived, in that faith he died. His body rests in Mount Hope, that city of the dead. There the flowers of spring will bloom above his sleeping dust. There the snows of winter will weave above his lowly bed a covering of spotless purity.

Norway Conference.

Hans Peter Thorstensen during this Conference year went home to his eternal rest. In not a few years he worked with great zeal in his Master's vineyard among us, and he was an instrument in bringing many souls to Jesus. For several years he was suffering from hoarseness, so that he was not able to speak aloud, but only to whisper; yet during all his illness he was patient, hopeful, and could say, "The will of the Lord be done." He died triumphantly, in faith in Jesus his Saviour, aged forty-six years, Feb. 11, 1887. He leaves behind a wife and several children, and we cordially sympathize with the bereaved ones, trusting that He who is the consolator of widows and Father of the fatherless also will be with them in his great blessings.

Northern New York Conference.

David Stone, a superannuated member of the Northern New York Conference, died Aug. 29, 1886, at a private hospital in Denver, Col., whither he had gone two months before for special treatment. During that time he enjoyed the spiritual ministrations of Rev. F. C. Millington and Rev. J. H. Merritt, former colleagues in the Black River Conference. He was born in Bainbridge (now Afton), Chenango County, N. Y., June 2, 1813. He was converted when about twenty-one years old. In 1840 he was married to Miss Louisa Ingalls. The same year he was admitted on trial in the Black River Conference. He was ordained deacon in 1842, and elder in 1844. His regular appointments were as follows; Victory, North Manlius, Steuben, Durhamville, Wilmurt, Steuben, East Canada Creek, Frankfort, North Manlius, Vienna, Lysander, Hinmansville, Palermo, Syracuse, Third Church; Peru, Central Square, Turin, Champion, Martville, Victory, Fair Haven, Montezuma, superannuated. Thus it will be seen that he received twenty-three appointments in his thirty-two years in the effective relation, and gave forty-six years in all to the Gospel ministry. After his superannuation in 1872 he removed to Worthington, Minn., where for four years he preached most of the time, supplying various appointments under the presiding elder. Brother Stone was a plain, practical man, of unimpeachable integrity, a faithful and fearless preacher, and as a pastor he was pre-eminently a peacemaker. His re-appointment to several charges which he served shows his acceptability and the appreciation of his character.

David Boutelle White was born in the town of Tully, Onondaga County, N. Y., April 6, 1831, and died in Carthage, N. Y., July 21, 1886. He was converted in 1851. In June, 1856, he was received into Black River Conference on trial in Syracuse. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames in Jordan, N. Y., June 6, 1858, and elder by Bishop Simpson in Rome, April 22, 1860. His fields were: Oswego and Granby Circuit, North Potsdam, Parishville, and Ilion. In the fall of 1861, after the first outburst of the civil war, a large number offered to enlist if he would go as captain. He became captain in the Eighty-first Regiment, New York Volunteers. He was engaged in the battles of Williamsburg, White Oak Swamp, Gaines Mills, Fair Oaks, the White House, and Malvern Hill. For valiant services in the first "On to Richmond," he was made major in October, 1862; afterward he was engaged in the bombardment of Charleston, S. C. In the fall of 1863 he was encamped near Norfolk, Va., and in the winter and spring of 1863–64 he commanded a company of scouts operating principally in North Carolina. He was on the Bermuda front under General Butler. He was engaged in the battle for the possession of Petersburg, and took active part in the battles of Cold Harbor, Weldon Road, Drury's Bluff, Chapin's Farm, and was at the second battle of Seven Pines. In the autumn of 1864 he visited home, and while there was made lieutenant-colonel. He re-enlisted, and was with Gen. Terry at Goldsborough, N. C., in which department he remained. In January, 1865, he was made colonel. Subsequently he was made Colonel and Brigadier-general by brevet in the United States Army. General White as a soldier was patriotic, patient, and brave; as an officer, dignified, kind, firm, and prudent, full of courage, daring, and dash. He was a devoted and consistent Christian in the ministry and in the army. A southern gentleman said, "He is one of the few who entered the army and retired from it uncorrupted and incorruptible. He reunited with the Conference in the early part of 1873, and was soon transferred to Northern New York Conference, and stationed at Madrid, where he continued two years; he was then a supernumerary one year; he afterward served Louisville two years, Canton two years, Ogdensburg three years, and Carthage two years. In his second year at Carthage he kept at work, though at times under great disability, until the fire in October, 1884, when he put forth effort to save the church and parsonage. From the effects he never recovered. By advice of his brother, the Rev. L. D. White, he went to Utica for treatment in February, 1885, and remained until the middle of June. From that time he was helpless. His hips and limbs were paralyzed, the latter being drawn close up to the body. Go back to June, 1855, and take up the programme of the graduating exercises of Falley Seminary. The last name is David B. White; subject, "The Man for the Times." Next to that name stands Sarah B. Van Allen; subject, "A Field Opens Before Us." May 7, 1856, these two were joined in holy wedlock. Unwearied in her attentions while he lived, she is now left to explore that field alone.

Robert N. Barber was born in Wardsborough, Vt., May 11, 1815, and died suddenly in prayer-meeting in the Arsenal Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Watertown, N. Y., on the evening of May 20, 1886. He joined the Black River Conference in 1844, and continued in the effective relation until 1867, when he became supernumerary, and in 1870 was transferred to the superannuated list, in which he continued until his death. During his active ministry he served the following charges: Geddes, North Manlius, Belleville, Henderson, Turin, Sackett's Harbor, Williamstown, Vienna, Victory, Baldwinsville, Red Creek, Hannibal, Theresa, Copenhagen, Martinsburg, and Ohio. In the earlier years of his ministry there were few who excelled him in revival work, and I have no doubt that many who were brought to God through his ministry greeted him on the heavenly shores. In the winter of 1883 he was called to part with his true and faithful companion, who had shared with him his toils and triumphs so many years. Since that time his life had been very lonely, but not sad. He had the blessed assurance that she was at home. He was permitted to live to see the great desire of his life gratified; namely, the gathering into the fold of the Church of his choice all of his dear children.

Bishop William L. Harris, D.D., LL.D.,

BISHOP OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

WILLIAM LOGAN HARRIS was born in Mansfield, O., Nov. 4, 1817. He ended his earthly career in the city of New York on the 2d of September, 1887, in the seventieth year of his age and the fiftieth of his ministry. He was converted, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, in 1834, at a camp-meeting held by Henry O. Sheldon. Six months later he was received into full connection by Rev. John T. Kellam, then one of the preachers on the Sandusky Circuit.

Soon after conversion, young Harris entered the Norwalk Seminary, where he remained two years, paying his way by manual labor. After leaving the seminary, he for a short time taught a district school near Norwalk, O. In his nineteenth year he was licensed to preach, and September 6, 1837, he joined the Michigan Conference, which then included the northern portion of Ohio. He continued in the pastorate until 1848, with the exception of one year (1845), during which he was induced to act as teacher in the Ohio Wesleyan University. In the years 1848, '49, and '50, he was principal of the Baldwin Institute, and in 1851 was again tutor in the Ohio Wesleyan University. From 1852 to the summer of 1860 he held the double chair of professor of chemistry and of natural history in that university. In May, 1860, he was elected by the General Conference one of the secretaries of the Missionary Society, to which office he was re-elected in 1864 and in 1868. In 1872 he was elected bishop, and died in office Sept. 2, 1887.

He was connected with the North Ohio Conference from the time of its formation in 1840 to its division in 1856. From 1856 to 1872 he was a member of the Central Ohio Conference.

Among the more salient points of endowment of Bishop Harris was a wonderful genius for work—a special gift of physical and mental endowment. In this three-man power of perpetual and unwearied work, he was probably equaled only by the late Bishop Janes. He was also an omnivorous reader. This training made Bishop Harris a learned man — much more so than many of his brethren supposed. Add to these attainments a rare capacity for attention to details, a comprehensive, orderly, and retentive memory, and a thoroughness which amounted to a ruling passion, and you see what made him, par excellence, a secretary and an administrator. He was also, remarks Bishop Foss, "one of the most transparent men I ever knew; he was one whom you always knew where to find."

It appears from the records that Bishop Harris was nine years a pastor, fourteen a teacher, twelve a missionary secretary, and fifteen a bishop. His was indeed a well-rounded life, filled with works of devotion to the Church, and of consecration to God.

OBITUARIES.

West German Conference.

HUGO C. IHNE died suddenly of heart disease in his pulpit at Humboldt, Neb., on Sunday evening, Jan. 23, 1887. He was born Jan. 9, 1852, in a place in Germany called Anna, near Dartmund, in Prussia. In 1854 his parents brought him to this country and settled near Herman, Mo. In 1876 he was converted, and in the following year he united with the German society of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Burlington, Pa. In the fall of 1878 he was taken into Conference on probation, and sent to Jerusalem, Iowa, where he remained two years and labored with success. In 1880 he was appointed to Hebron, Pa., and in 1883 to Sterling, Neb., where he built two churches and one parsonage. His last appointment (Humboldt) was entered upon with zeal and courage, and the divine spirit was already moving upon the hearts of his members when he was taken sick. After a severe illness he was on the way of recovery, but not heeding the warning of his physician entered upon his work too soon, and while in his pulpit, delivering a sermon to the young, he died of heart disease.

East Ohio Conference.

SAMUEL FRANKLIN was born in Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 26, 1820. He married Isabella Macs, Nov. 25, 1852, with whom he shared all the vicissitudes incident to an itinerant preacher's life for thirty-five years. In 1854 he was admitted into the Pittsburg Annual Conference. In due time he was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson and elder by Bishop Morris. In the meantime he had been pursuing the classical course of study in the Ohio Wesleyan University, and in 1860 he dropped out of the regular work and spent two years and a half in that institution, graduating with the second honors in a class of sixteen in 1868, and re-entered the itinerancy in Illinois, filling many appointments with great success, until his health failed and he was compelled to cease the work. For a number of years he traveled in Wisconsin and Minnesota, spending eighteen months on the Pacific coast. After several years' travel he served as a supply in the Des Moines Conference, spending part of a year as a missionary in Montana. His last field of labor was New Market Circuit, in Des Moines Conference. Brother Franklin was a man of marked traits of character. As a preacher he was noted for the strength of his convictions and the fidelity with which he met his obligations to his church and the people. His preaching was characterized by great logical force, and carried conviction to the hearts of his hearers. He also gained considerable reputation as the author of a work on Wesleyan Perfection. In his home life the graces of his character shone pre-eminent.

WILLIAM R. JOHNSON was born in Pettigoe, Fermanagh County, Ireland, June 5, 1797, and died at Hubbard, Trumbull County, Ohio, April 4, 1887. In 1820 he married, and for more than half a century he and his beloved companion united in the one purpose of pleasing God, she preceding him but a few years to the promised land. He was a man of sterling integrity, pure in motive, and of clear and positive convictions. He began preaching at the age of eighteen, and thus continued to honor his Master in his native land till 1840, when he came to this country, where he was soon after admitted to the Erie Conference, doing most efficient service for thirteen years. For a number of years preceding his death he had been on the honored list of superannuates, retaining this position with singular dignity and respect. With well preserved faculties, an unyielding confidence in God, a pure love for the Church, he met his last foe. During the last weeks of watching and waiting the promises of the Bible afforded him an increasing delight, and hymn after hymn, many of them very old, was repeated, interspersed with shouts of victory through the blood of the Lamb. He is not; God has taken him to join the company of kindred spirits.

HIRAM KINSLEY was born in Fairfield, Franklin County, Vt., Dec. 17, 1799, and died in Geneva, Ashtabula County, Ohio, January 23, 1887. He was married to Miss Elsie Murlton, May 2, 1833, a lady of sweet disposition and fine mental forces, well fitted to become the partner of such a man, who shared with him the joys and sorrows of a long life in the itinerant ranks. In 1824 he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Forestville, N. Y. In 1826 he was admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Conference. He was ordained deacon in 1828, and elder in 1830. In 1836 the Erie Conference was formed, and he became one of the fifty-two who formed that Conference. In 1876 the East Ohio Conference was formed, and he became a member of that body, and so continued up to the time of his decease. He rose rapidly in his Conference, proving himself capable of filling the best appointments in it. Though not what the world calls a popular preacher yet he was a very successful one, and a leader in his Conference. He was throughout well qualified to act as presiding elder, and served in that department for twenty years. And it was perhaps in that capacity that he excelled. He was chosen to represent his brethren in the General Conference several times. He needed to be known to be appreciated; for, being of a thoughtful, studious turn of mind, he was rather reticent, and by some considered rather cold, if not unsocial. But closer contact revealed the sterling qualities of a great man, a safe counselor, and a faithful friend. He was confined to his bed only two weeks and suffered very little pain. The funeral services were held in the First Church at Geneva, Jan. 25, in the presence of a large and appreciative congregation.

JOHN MCLEAN was one of the oldest members of the East Ohio Conference. He was born in the year 1805. At the age of sixteen he made a public profession of Christ, and six or seven years after began the work of a Methodist minister. He was received on trial at the session of the Pittsburg Conference held in Salem, Pa., in 1828. Two years later he was ordained deacon at Union, Pa., by Bishop Soule, and four years later, at the Conference held in Wellsburg, West Va., he was ordained elder by Bishop Emory. In 1842 he was transferred to the Erie Conference. When the East Ohio Conference was formed, in 1876, Brother McLean chose to remain a member of the new Conference. He served in the following charges: Canton, Cleveland, Chardon, Cleveland, Ravenna, Canal Dover, New Lisbon, Butler, Chartiers, East Liberty, Franklin, Ravenna, New Castle, Greenville, Hartford, Salem, Rockville, Springfield, Waterford, Wesleyville, Morgan, Bloomfield, Windsor, Vienna, Greene, Jackson, Canfield, Deerfield, Windham. In November, 1886, Brother McLean became very ill, and said to his pastor, "I am entering the valley. It is not a dark valley, and I think I see the new land beyond. All is well." He died in peace, February 15, 1887.

Robert Gray was born in Hull, England, Aug. 3, 1808. Joined the Methodists March 28, 1824, and began to preach when about seventeen years old. On Nov. 25, 1827, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Abbey, who shared his joys and sorrows till a few months before his departure, when she passed away. In 1829 Brother Gray came to this country, joined the Erie Conference in 1853, and took a superannuated relation in 1873. During his twenty years in the regular work he was noted for his zeal and success in preaching, building and repairing parsonages and churches, and for his attention to all the work of a Methodist minister. He died in Austinburg, Sunday morning, June 26, in the seventy-ninth year of his age. 1887 Min.

John Z. Moore, son of the Rev. James and Susan Moore, was born near St. Clairsville, Ohio, July 16, 1829, and died in the same community, July 19, 1887. He was received on trial in the Pittsburg Conference in 1856, and at its session in 1857 was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson, and at the session of the same Conference in 1859 ordained elder by Bishop Morris. He was, on the seventh day of April, 1859, united in marriage with Miss Margaret Glasgow, who, with three sons and four daughters, survives him. Brother Moore received and served faithfully the following appointments: Morristown, Centerville, Professor of Natural Science in Richmond College, Pine Creek and Evergreen, Salem, Newport, Senecaville, Summerfield, Alleghany Circuit, Unionville, Enon Valley, Webster, Harmony, Supernumerary, Columbiana, Centerville. When the East Ohio Conference was formed he became one of its members and was appointed to Centerville again and South Bellaire. In 1879 failing health compelled him to take a superannuated relation, which continued until his death. As a preacher he ever sought the true meaning of the sacred text, and was able in its exposition. His death was such as we would expect from one of positive Christian attainments.

Leander W. Ely was born in Connecticut, April 7, 1815, and died at Zanesville, Ohio, May 8, 1887. When a child his parents moved to Ohio. He was admitted to the Erie Conference in 1843, ordained deacon 1845, located 1846, was readmitted 1850, and ordained elder by Bishop Morris, 1851. On June 24, 1847, he and Miss Loretta N., daughter of Rev. Ira Eddy, a preacher of pioneer fame, were united in marriage. They had two children, both of whom preceded their father to the better land by many years. His wife still lives to mourn his loss. At the division of the Erie and Pittsburg Conferences, and the formation of the East Ohio, his lot was cast with the new Conference, of which he continued a member till the Master called him home. His appointments were: Middlebury, Chagrin Falls, Chardon, Geneva, Edinburg, Franklin, Twinsburg, Newburg, North Bamden, Rootstown, Girard, West Farmington, Gustavus, New Wellington, Bazetta, Girard, Southington, Baconsburg, Twinsburg for the second time, Youngsville, Mentor, and Madison. He became a superannuate in 1882, and so continued till his promotion on high. He labored during the last years of his life as his strength would permit. He was faithful in his attendance on all the church services. He was a good man; his life was one of great fidelity, and his end peace. His eternity will be blessed; for "blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

W. H. Wilson was born in Warren, Trumbull County, Ohio, May 8, 1835; and died at Canton, Ohio, Sept. 30, 1886. He had just closed four years of faithful service on Canton District, rendered his report to Conference, and finished his duties in the cabinet when he was taken ill. He peacefully fell asleep at the home of Jacob Miller, where he lay during the last few days of his illness. Funeral services were held in Canton, Saturday morning, October 2, attended by a large company of friends. The remains were removed to Mercer, Pa., for interment. William H. Wilson was converted in the spring of 1852, and gave immediate evidence of fervent devotion to God and the Church. A few years later he was licensed to preach. He taught school and supplied various appointments under the presiding elder prior to his reception into the old Erie Conference in 1858. He was ordained deacon in Erie, Pa., July 15, 1860, by Bishop Janes. Bishop Ames ordained him elder in Youngstown, Ohio, July 20, 1862. In 1864 he was united in marriage to Florence Sykes, of Mercer, Pa., who with one son survives him. For about thirty years Brother Wilson served the Church with fidelity and loyalty. In 1882 he was appointed presiding elder of Canton District by Bishop Peck. He was alternate delegate to the last General Conference, and took his seat during a part of the session. He was recognized as an earnest Methodist preacher. He was modest and humble, yet genial in spirit, and enthusiastic in his work. His character is illustrated by his dying request: "Tell the brethren not to say much about me, but more about Jesus." Shortly before his death a few friends gathered about his bed for prayers. They sang a hymn, and he joined heartily till the close, when the glory of God filled the room. Through the succeeding sleepless hours he talked almost constantly of the triumphs of grace. When he supposed himself dying, he said, "If this is dying, it is the most delightful thing on earth." Again he said, "Nobody need fear dying, if only they rest on the Lord. Tell all the brethren, especially those with whom I have been associated, that God is wonderfully with me." Thus ends the earthly and begins the heavenly life of a bloodwashed victor—more than conqueror through the blood of the Lamb.

Michigan Conference.

James Prince Force was born in Aurora, Erie County, N. Y., July 14, 1831. About 1840 the family removed to Michigan and settled in Marshall, Calhoun County. At Winchester, Ind., Oct. 24, 1852, he was united in marriage with Miss Sarah R. Hull, who survives him. A son died in infancy. Their four daughters, Mrs. Gregory of Kuler, Mrs. Harris of Jackson, Mrs. Hoover of Nebraska, and Mrs. W. R. Clancy of Agra, India, are all living. In 1857, at the North Indiana Conference of 1858, he was admitted on trial and appointed to Lima, Ind., returning there the second year. At the Conference session at Fort Wayne, Ind., April 13, 1862, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson. At this Conference he was appointed to Butler, remaining two years. Here his labors in revival work were signally blessed. At the Conference at Knightstown, Ind., April 10, 1864, he was ordained elder by Bishop Morris, and appointed to Roanoke. During this year his health failed. He retired from the ministry and engaged in business at Butler, Ind., and afterward he removed to Constantine, Mich. In 1868 he was admitted into the Michigan Conference. His appointments have been: Benton Harbor, Coloma and Watervliet, Keeler, Cassopolis, Lawton, Plainwell, Wayland, Great Haven, Plainfield Avenue, Grand Rapids, and Galesburg. At the Conference session of 1883 he was appointed to Decatur; May following, failing health led him to resign the charge and he moved to Keeler, near the home of his oldest daughter, Mrs. A. E. Gregory. At the Conference of 1884 he took a superannuated relation. At Grand Haven Brother Force undertook a Church building enterprize in the face of peculiar difficulties. He succeeded, but the effort was too great for his strength and his health never became firm again. After he settled in Keeler he seemed to improve, but a severe attack of pneumonia left his health still more precarious. Two or three times he had apoplectic symptoms. With the hope of improved health, he decided to try the climate further west. Early in May last he went to Nebraska and entered a homestead near his daughter, Mrs. Hover. Returning he began to make preparations to remove to his new home. When his arrangements were almost completed, he was seized with apoplexy and he journeyed to "a better country." Brother Force's pastorates were usually successful. Revivals were frequent in his ministry. At Benton Harbor, Watervliet, Cassopolis, Grand Haven, Plainfield Avenue, and Grand Rapids, he was successful in Church-building enterprises. After his superannuation he identified himself with the financial and spiritual interests of the Church at Keeler. For the year ending with last April he superintended the Sunday-school. The Sunday preceding his death found him in the house of the Lord. He briefly addressed the Sunday-school. Thursday, May 26, 1887, at one o'clock in the morning, he quietly fell asleep in Jesus.

Andrew Mason Fitch died Jan. 8, 1887, at his home in Albion after a long and painful illness. For a period of two years his health had been gradually failing, and much of this time he was a great sufferer. During all his affliction his strong faith in Jesus Christ gave him power to rejoice in suffering, and when the last conflict came the glorious gospel he had preached to others gave him victory over the last enemy. Brother Fitch was born at Cherry Valley, Otsego County, N. Y., March 15, 1815. He removed to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1826. In 1838 at Tiffin, Ohio, he was ordained a deacon by Bishop Waugh, and in 1839 he entered the itinerancy. He was ordained elder by Bishop Hedding in 1842 at Marshall, Mich. His early charges were: Luna and Toledo, Ohio; and then successively, Monroe, Adrian, Detroit, Jackson, Ann Arbor, and Grand Rapids. From Grand Rapids he was appointed to Marshall District; from Marshal District, he went into the work of the Western Seamen's Friend Society. As financial secretary of this evangelical agency he was laborious and successful. In 1856 he was appointed United States Indian Agent, and this secular work he undertook with the approval of the bishop and the missionary authority of the Church. His usefulness to the Church and his devotion to the wards of the Government were never challenged during his encumbency of this responsible office. From 1861 to 1876 he remained in secular life, but always ready for any work he could do as a local minister.

In 1876 he again joined the Michigan Conference, and from that time served successively: Olivet, Osseo, Hillsdale, Quincy, and Marengo. He retired to the superannuated ranks in 1883 and since that date has preached whenever strength would allow. Brother Fitch was twice married; first in 1841 to Miss Cornelia Chittenden Marion, leaving three children. His second marriage was to Miss Susan C. Searls of Newark, N. J., who still survives him. He was no ordinary man. With dignity so natural, and refinement of manner so spontaneous, the most cultivated society gave him welcome, and the poorest delighted in his visits. He was an impressive and instructive preacher, and had a rich experience in the glorious truths he uttered. To the last hour of conscious life his strong faith in Jesus as a personal Saviour never faltered, and when the final summons came he peacefully entered into the joy of his Lord.

Elijah Hedding Dissette was born at Portsmouth, Ontario, Canada, April 11, 1848. He entered the North Ohio Conference in 1872. He was ordained deacon in 1874, and elder in 1876. He served the following charges in the North Ohio Conference in the order named: Vermillion, La Porte, Avon, Medina, Keene, Ileria, and Sycamore. In 1883 he was transferred to the Michigan Conference and stationed at Grand Haven; in 1884 at Maple Rapids; in 1885 appointed temperance agent of Conference; in 1886 appointed to Nashville, where he died Nov. 18, 1886. In 1873 he was married to Miss Etta Farwell of Ashland, Ohio. It might be said of our brother that he ceased at once to work and live. The Sabbath before his death, in his sermon at the Maple Grove appointment, he asked; "Is there any reason why a revival should not begin at once? So many want to wait till after the holidays. Why not have a revival now, and get these young people converted and present them as a Chrismas offering to Christ?" At the close of his last service at Nashville he rallied the membership for a prayer-meeting. As he walked up and down the aisle he exclaimed: "I am in a hurry to see men saved. Never in such a hurry in my life. Soon, it may be, I shall be in my grave and my work not done." Such language seemed prophetic as it was pathetic. The chill of death was upon him even then; when he reached home he complained of feeling ill, took to his bed and steadily grew worse until he died.

Indiana Conference.

John J. Hight, D.D., was born at Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 4, 1834, and died at Cincinnati, Dec. 18, 1886. On Nov. 20, 1853, he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. The following fall, just after his graduation, he was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference and appointed to Jonesville Circuit as junior preacher. He was kindly received by the people, and entered at once upon the work of a Methodist preacher. He soon took position in his Conference and was in demand in our more important charges. He spent two years on circuits, eleven in stations, three in the army as chaplain, one as centenary agent in the interests of our denominational schools, four as presiding elder, and eleven as assistant editor of the Western Christian Advocate. The temperance cause found in him a bold and fearless advocate. He wrote and spoke and prayed for the removal of the sin of intemperance. He was a warm friend of education. For many years he was a trustee of the university at Greencastle. Through his influence, more than that of any other man, Hon. W. C. DePauw was induced to make his princely gifts to the institution that now bears his name. The Church found in him a faithful and devoted servant. Every duty put upon him was discharged with promptness and fidelity. He was a favorite with his Conference and was twice elected to represent it in the General Conference. It was when surrounded by his loved ones, in the bosom of his family, that he appeared at his best. Every thing that would contribute to the comfort and happiness of wife and daughter was carefully provided for. A more faithful, loving, and devoted husband and father the world has never known.

John S. Collins was born in Ontario County, N. Y., Aug. 30, 1809, and died at Leavenworth, Ind., Jan. 10, 1887. He was converted, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, September, 1828. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Baker in the fall of 1860, and elder by Bishop Simpson at Rockport, Ind., September, 1861. In 1857 he joined the Indiana Conference, of which he remained an honored member until death. He traveled with acceptability the following fields of labor: Salem, Stanford, Houston, Orangeville, Gentryville, Leavenworth, and New Philadelphia. He was a faithful, earnest, and a successful local preacher for twenty-one years. As an itinerant preacher he was ever faithful. His manner was that of a true evangelist. As a preacher he was above the average. He preached the gospel acceptably, and at times eloquently; moving his congregation to tears and even to sobs. As a Christian gentleman he was pre-eminent. His influence in the circles where he moved was always cheering, hopeful, and good. He was a true husband. When his devoted wife was stricken down by paralysis, and became a helpless sufferer, Father Collins withdrew from the outer world, and devoted all his time and energies to the suffering invalid until God took her to himself, August, 1885. On Sunday the 10th of December, from an earnest desire for the salvation of souls, as well as to help carry forward the work at the special meeting in the absence of the pastor, he preached in the morning and evening. At the latter service, forgetting himself and the infirmities of his age, he arose to his old time eloquence, energy and earnestness. That he might be convenient to medical aid as well as to home sympathy, he was moved to the parsonage in Leavenworth, Ind., where he suffered severely but heroically for four weeks, when he passed away.

L. D. Jay was born in New Jersey, Nov. 6, 1814. He was converted to God and joined the Church at eighteen years of age. Soon thereafter he was licensed to preach. In 1854 he was sent to Kentucky, where he preached four years as a missionary. In 1859 he was transferred to the Indiana Conference. In this Conference he served the following charges: Centerville, Livonia, Waverly, Stanford, and Hardinsburg, each two years. Failing health compelled him to superannuate. But after a rest of three years his work was resumed and he was sent to Taylorsville, Lynnville, Troy, and Oil Creek, remaining at Lynnville two years. After his final superannuation his home was at Troy, until death summoned him to a better home. He was married to Margaret Merril, of Clermont County, Ohio, May 25, 1841. Four children were born of this union, three of whom, together with the widowed mother, are living. As a preacher he was clear and forcible. His style was argumentative, and his discourse was full of many quotations from the Bible. When he was no longer able to serve as a traveling preacher, he labored with his hands to maintain himself and wife. September 1 he fell from his wagon and broke his leg, from the effects of which he died ten days afterward. His suffering was borne with great patience, and death found him ready.

Jesse M. Harbin was born in Iredell County, N. C., Jan. 4, 1844. Very early in life he felt impressed that his life-work would be to preach the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in the Second Indiana Cavalry; after serving a short time he was honorably discharged on account of physical inability. After regaining his health he again enlisted, serving in the One Hundred and Forty-ninth Regiment, Indiana Volunteer Infantry, and remained till the close of the war. Returning home his early impressions of duty to preach revived, and he entered Indiana Asbury University as preparatory to the work, and in October, 1873, he was admitted into the Indiana Conference on trial. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Foster, Sept. 19, 1875, and elder by Bishop Andrews, Sept. 16, 1877. He served with acceptability the following charges: Springfield, Jasonville, and Wheatland. While in charge of the latter his health became so much impaired that at the session of the Conference in 1881 he asked for and obtained a superannuated relation, and retired from active work of the ministry. He then removed to Meron, Sullivan County, Ind., where he remained about two years, then removing to Puxico, Missouri, he spent the "remnant of his days," which were days of affliction, at that place. Ulceration of the lungs confined him during the entire winter. With the return of spring his health improved, and he was elected to the office of Justice of the Peace, but as the winter approached his strength began to fail and he became completely prostrated from a combination of diseases, chiefly lung trouble, from which he did not rally, and died March 12, 1887, in holy triumph. For several years Brother Harbin enjoyed the blessing of perfect love, and during the last months of his earthly stay he seemed to be "filled with the fullness of God." A few Sabbaths before his death, his presiding elder and pastor administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to him, in the participation of which his "cup ran over" and he exclaimed, "O, I am so happy!" "Precious Saviour!" "O such love as I enjoy! My way is bright, not a cloud intervenes between me and my Saviour!" Brother Harbin was a good preacher, a sweet-spirited man, a kind husband, and an affectionate father.

Thomas W. Jones died at Clay City, Ind., May 20, 1887. He was one of the most highly honored members of this Conference. He was born near Cadiz, Ohio, March 3, 1822. He joined the Church, Jan. 22, 1838, and was converted shortly afterward. During the time that conviction was on him to preach the Gospel he managed to secure liberal academic education. He was admitted to the Indiana Conference in 1854, and has since been appointed to the following works: Mount Vernon Circuit, Owensville, Blue Grass, Carlisle, Bruceville, Ellettsville, Morgantown, Mooresville Circuit, and Nineveh. In changing the boundary line between the Indiana Conference and the South-east Indiana Conference his lot fell to the South-east, and he was stationed at Greenwood, Hope, Acton, Carthage, Castleton, and Elizabethtown. He was then transferred to the Indiana Conference and appointed to Wickliff, Campbellsburg, Erie, Linton, Center Point, Waverly, Quincy, and Clay City, where he was taken sick, and lingered for a year and eight months, and in the fullest preparation went out to his reward. He was trusted and loved as a man of great purity of life. In all his works he left among the people the savor of holy living, and, while he was an able preacher, his life among men always seemed the stronger force. In the long test of his affliction his faith did not fail him. He possessed his soul in patience, and looked to the hour of dissolution with joy.

Chicago German Conference.

Peter Hinners was born in Germany, Oct. 15, 1824; was married to Wilhelmine, his now mourning widow, Nov. 9, 1845, and died March 19, 1887. He was in the itinerancy of the Methodist Episcopal Church thirty-six years, but for ten years, on account of ill health, was compelled to take a superannuated relation. During the eight years that he was the able and efficient general agent of the Mutual German Benefit Association of Chicago, he did a vast amount of good. He was one of the founders of German Methodism in America; he helped build the first German Methodist Episcopal Church in Wheeling, W. Va., and has three churches to grace his memory in the city of Chicago. He was a man of no mean ability, a good thinker, an earnest and interesting preacher, a genuine Methodist, and a genial and warm-hearted Christian man. He was converted while a young man, and his Christian experience was clear and positive. In theology he was sound, both theoretically and practically. In the Center Street Church, Chicago, where he and his beloved wife had their church home, he was highly respected and loved. His sermons were duly appreciated and eagerly listened to; especially were his prayers a source of spiritual power to the congregation. His sickness was the treacherous and stubborn Bright's Disease. During all his sickness he was resigned and happy, showing no spirit of complaint or dissatisfaction. When it seemed evident that he must die, he comforted his weeping wife with the words: "I am in the hands of Jesus, and he doeth all things well." When asked whether Jesus was with him, he looked in wonderment and answered: "Why, of course he is; why should he not be?" Brother Hinners filled the following appointments in the Methodist Episcopal Church: Dubuque Mission, Perry Mission, Nashville, Superannuated, Des Moines Mission, Watertown Circuit, Milwaukee, Milwaukee District, Maxwell Church, Chicago; Laporte Station, Superannuated, Reuben Street Church, Chicago; Ashland Avenue, Immanuel, First Church, Milwaukee; Kenosha, Superannuated. Brother Hinners was a representative man; in all vital Church questions he took an active part; he loved the Church of his choice. In the Conference of which he was a member from the beginning he took a leading position. He was for many years the trusty and faithful treasurer of the Conference Missionary Society, and no one man of the Conference watched the Missionary reports as they came in with greater interest than he did. His heart was in the work of his Master. Brother Hinners was a warm-hearted, genial, sympathetic, and agreeable man. Brother Hinners has been abundantly useful in life, and he now reaps the reward of his labors.

Detroit Conference.

Thomas Gifford Omans died at the house of his brother in Spring Arbor, Mich., Oct. 25, 1886. He was born Feb. 19, 1832. At the age of twenty-two he was converted, and joined the Methodist Protestant Church. In 1870 he united with the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was appointed successively to Mungerville, New Haven, Gaines, Central Mine, Hancock, Atlantic Mine, Rockland, Menomonee, Republic and Champion, Champion and Michigamme, Osceola and Allouez, and Pewabic, after which, in 1886, he was superannuated. It will thus be seen that Brother Omans continued in the effective ranks until almost ready to die. He was a Methodist through and through; loved the itineraney; never refused an appointment, and never had one that he considered too poor for him as a servant of the meek and lowly Christ. The burden of his desire was the salvation of souls. He made the Bible his special study, but was fond of literary profundities, like the works of Horace Bushnell and Joseph Cook. Brother Omans was married April 10, 1863, to Miss Mary A. Sharpstein, of Ray, Macomb County. She died at Venice, Shiawassee County, Feb. 27, 1879.

William Donnelly died Dec. 22, 1886. He was born near New Germantown, Pa., on Jan. 27, 1808. When a young man he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1854 he joined the Detroit Conference and was ordained elder in 1856 by Bishop Morris, at Adrian; was stationed at Rome, Saniac, Morenci, Ridgeway, Manchester, Clinton, Farmington, Memphis, East Tawas, and Alpena. At the outbreak of the war, in 1861, he was a stanch defender of the Union. He did much to encourage the young men to enlist (three of his own sons enlisted), and never wavered in the belief of the final triumph of the Union army and the perpetuation of a free government. As a minister he was an incessant toiler. The early part of his ministry was largely pioneer work, yet he was a close student who kept abreast of the age. He was a man of strong convictions, and always had the courage of those convictions. With him the question never was, Is it popular? but, Is it right? This inquiry once settled by his judgment, he took the path of duty, no matter how strong or numerous his foes. Notwithstanding these sterling qualities in the nature of Brother Donnelly, he possessed a most mellow and tender spirit. It was not an unusual thing for him, when about to utter an unpleasant truth, to preface his remarks with tears. He possessed social qualities in a marked degree, becoming, in the true sense of the term, "all things to all men," that he might be more successful in saving them. Indeed, this was the ruling passion of his life, and the strongest in death. His appointment to any field of labor signified that the plowing would be deep, the sowing profuse, and the harvest abundant. Although Father Donnelly differed with his Conference as to his ability to do effective work when he was superannuated, still he never lost his fraternal feelings toward even those who recommended his superannuation, as was evident from the spirit of his last message to the Conference: "Tell my brethren to preach Christ; and if I am never permitted to meet you in your Conference below, I will meet you in a larger Conference above."

Richard McConnell died at his home in Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 5, 1887. He was born in the township of Drimitten, parish of Iniskeal, County Donegal, Ireland, April 30, 1819. At the ninth session of the Michigan Conference, held at Coldwater, Oct 2, 1844, he was received on trial and appointed junior preacher of the Birmingham Circuit. He also served the following charges: Dundee, Tecumseh, Palmyra, Medina, South Hillsdale, Rome, Detroit City Mission, Flat Rock, Northville, Farmington, Linden, Lima, Unadilla, Romulus, Rochester, Dryden, Chesterfield, Ruby, Lexington and Richmond. At the Conference of 1875 he took a superannuated relation, and purchased for himself and family a pleasant home on Lapeer Avenue, Port Huron, where they have since resided. On Sunday and Monday evenings of January 2 and 3, the first of the week of prayer, he was at church, and gave glorious testimony for the Master he had so faithfully served. He was wonderfully assisted in prayer. The characteristics of Brother McConnell were devotedness, thoroughness and simplicity. He was fully consecrated to the work to which the Lord had called him, which was exhibited in the many and great sacrifices he willingly and cheerfully made on the charges which he served so conscientiously. Doubtless many scores of precious souls that he led to Christ, who had preceded him, greeted his advent to the spirit world, and many more will follow. He was thrice married, the last time to Miss Elsina Folkerts, of Algonac, May 1, 1861. On Tuesday morning, January 4, he was as well as usual. Coming in from his ordinary work about noon, he complained of a pain in his chest. His devoted wife did all that that was deemed necessary, and called in a physician, who did not think his case was serious. A little while after retiring, he made the remark, "I cannot go to prayer-meeting to-night, but I hope I shall be well enough to go to-morrow night." About two o'clock on the morning of January 5, he raised himself up in bed, gave a gasp—"and was not, for God had taken him;" falling dead in his faithful wife's hands, when she was all alone, so entirely unexpected and sudden was his taking off. The heritage of such an unselfish and devoted life affords his sorely bereaved children great consolation, and the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ has wonderfully sustained his greatly afflicted wife in the fearful shock of this sudden departure of our beloved brother.

Isaac Newton Elwood was born in Herkimer County, N. Y., May 11, 1843, and died in Flint, Mich., Jan. 19, 1887. Brother Elwood was admitted on trial in the Detroit Annual Conference at the first session after his graduation in 1867. His appointments were Marquette, Fenton, Saginaw City, Morenci, Ann Arbor, Port Huron, Port Huron District, Ypsilanti, and Court Street, Flint, where he spent the last two years of his effective ministry, taking a supernumerary relation in 1886, in hope of recovering his broken health, but, in the order of providence, to suffer and to die. Entering upon the sacred work of the ministry, his native endowments, his mental discipline, his religious knowledge, his theological attainments, his personal presence and gifts of speech, his manly piety, and his well-established Christian character, at once gave him an advantageous position in the fraternity of Christian pastors. His ambition to occupy posts of wide influence was of a healthy type, and had its justification in his consciousness of power to meet any reasonable demands upon talent and energy, and also in his capacities for work, as evinced by the structure of his mind and body. He was then the embodiment of strength, the personification of a sound mind in a sound body. The main characteristics of his whole existence may be expressed by the one word—integrity. His mind was not of a brilliant order. He laid no claim to genius. No towering splendors illuminated his mental firmament. Neither dazzling fancy nor lofty imagination held a conspicuous place in his intellectual operations. But he had what is of more value than these captivating traits. His understanding was solid. His judgment was sound. His reasoning powers were strong and harmonious in their action. His perceptions were clear, his discriminations accurate, his insight into truth direct, if not far reaching and profound. In his pulpit discourses his mind would strike the main ideas of a subject and arrange them in their logical order, and then his practical logic and intuitions of truth and goodness would make his ministrations acceptable to all classes of hearers. The last four months of our brother's life were filled with varying scenes of sickness and suffering, with the kind ministrations of his friends and physicians, with the assiduous attentions of his family and relatives, and with the holiest seasons of worship. A few mornings before he died he conducted the family worship, and prayed with "wonderful sweetness and pathos" for those nearest to his heart, for his presiding elder kneeling by his side, and then for himself. On the fourth morning following, having rested better than usual, he came to the family board. At worship his brother Philip led the devotions, and he joined audibly in the customary repetition of the Lord's Prayer. A moment after, saying once more, Thy will be done, he turned in his chair, looked with parting significance for the last time into the sorrowful face of his loving wife, and immediately bowed his head as in obedience to his Master's voice, and closed his eyes in the sweet and final rest of the Christian faith.

Elijah Holmes Pilcher was born in the township of Athens, in the State of Ohio, June 2, 1810; and departed this life on the 7th of April. 1887, aged seventy-six. Brother Pilcher was converted at a camp-meeting when only ten years old; was licensed to exhort in June, 1826; in August following was licensed to preach, and recommended to and admitted into the Ohio Conference in his nineteenth year. His first appointment was to Nicholas Circuit, which embraced some of the highest peaks of the Alleghanies, so that Bishop McKendree remarked: "The man that goes there will stand the highest of any man in the Conference." After one year of arduous labor on this mountain circuit, in which eighty souls were converted, in September, 1830, he was appointed to Ann Arbor Circuit, in the Territory of Michigan. His appointments afterward were as follows: Tecumseh Circuit, Monroe Circuit, Farmington, Calhoun Mission, Ann Arbor, presiding elder of Marshall District, Detroit District, Adrian, Jackson, and agent of Albion Seminary. The next year he was appointed to Battle Creek, the next to Kalamazoo, and the two following to First Church, Detroit. In 1853 he was appointed to Adrian District, and at the expiration of the term was returned to Ann Arbor the third time. At the close of the disciplinary term he was placed in charge of Port Huron District. He remained but one year, for the call was so urgent that he was appointed presiding elder of Ann Arbor District. At the close of this term he spent two years at Romeo. Here the second great affliction of his life came upon him in the death of his beloved wife. His first wife had died April 3, 1840. He resolved to take a trip to the Holy Land, and in the company of the beloved W. X. Ninde, now Bishop, spent the season of 1867 in exploring Palestine and other notable places. Returning, he took the position of Professor of Belles-Lettres and History in Albion College. In 1869 he was at Owosso, and in 1870–71 at Holly. Next year he was again appointed presiding elder of Detroit District, and at the close of a very successful term was appointed preacher in charge of Jefferson Avenue Church in Detroit. During this year he was urged to lend the weight of his experience to the Methodist Episcopal Church of Canada. He consented, and as there was no other way open to him, his name appears on the Minutes as withdrawn. While serving these brethren as presiding elder of the Hamilton District, he was stricken with paralysis, which affected his entire right side. This occurred April 6, 1882. He made his home since that event with his son, Lewis S. Pilcher, M.D., in Brooklyn, N. Y. Brother Pilcher was a man of tireless industry. This spirit characterized his entire career. He worked constantly. While located at Ann Arbor, he took advantage of the opportunities offered at the University, studied law, was admitted to the bar, and also studied medicine and was admitted to practice, all of these without interfering with his regular vocation as a minister. He had good executive ability. He was a warm admirer of the discipline and economy of the church of his choice. He was secretary of the Michigan and Detroit Conferences for nine years. Five times he represented Michigan Methodism in the General Conference; was a member of the Book Committee of the Western Book Concern from 1848 to 1852, and was a member of the Book Committee when the Depository was established in Detroit. As his end drew near, being calmly conscious of its approach, he had his grandchildren brought to his bedside and blessed them, as did the patriarchs of old, and, bidding his family an affectionate adieu, he peacefully fell asleep in Jesus.

Jesse Robbins died at Greenbush, Mich., Tuesday, April 19, 1887. He was born at Dorchester Station, Ontario, Canada, and came to Michigan about four years ago. Brother Robbins was converted when about twenty-one years of age. He became a member of the Detroit Conference at its session at East Saginaw in 1884. In September, 1885, he came to the Greenbush Circuit. While on this charge he labored hard, and by his faithful labors and Christian bearing endeared himself to all. He was sick less than two weeks, the doctors pronouncing the disease malarial fever, but pneumonia set in, which caused his death. He was rational for three days previous to his death. He and his friends had prayed that his mind might be clear in event of his death. Brother Robbins seemed to feel from the first that recovery was beyond all hope, and on the day of his death expressed himself as "in a strait betwixt two," whether to remain and prosecute the work to which he had given his life, or to "depart and be with Christ," which would be far better.

Orrin Whitmore died peacefully at his home on the morning of March 19, 1887. Brother Whitmore was born in Shelby, Genesee County, N. Y., Sept. 28, 1823. In September, 1846, he was received on probation into Michigan Conference, and appointed to Mapleton Circuit. In 1847 he was appointed to Genesee Circuit, but after a few months was taken off to supply White Lake Charge. In 1848 he was ordained a deacon by Bishop Janes, and was returned to Genesee. In May following, Lansing Charge became vacant, and Brother Whitmore was appointed supply. On May 8, 1849, he was united in marriage to Miss Charlotte Adams, of Grand Blanc, Mich., who died Jan. 1, 1880, and was buried at Grand Blanc, where he now rests by her side. We trace Brother Whitmore's appointments after his marriage as follows: Byron, ordained elder by Bishop Morris, and stationed at Lansing, remaining two years; then Portland, Lapeer, Oswego, Saline, Chelsea, Port Huron, Garland Street, Flint, Lafayette Street, Detroit, Grand Blanc, Tecumseh, presiding elder Adrian District. While serving on this district he began the publication of the Adrian District Methodist, which in December, 1874, was enlarged in its scope, removed to Detroit, and during the first week in January, 1875, appeared as the Michigan Christian Advocate, with Brother Whitmore as editor, though he continued in that relation only a comparatively brief period. He was then appointed to Saline, Oxford, Grand Blanc, Milford, Clarkston, and supernumerary in 1882, but hard at work for two or three years as agent of the Port Huron Burnt District Relief Fund. In 1884 he was appointed to Saint Ignace, and at once set about raising money here and there with which to cancel the indebtedness of that much embarrassed church. About two years ago Brother Whitmore was married the second time; to the lady who is now in sorrow over his departure. Altogether, Brother Whitmore's days were passed smoothly. He was of a happy temperament. He borrowed as little trouble as possible. He never allowed fancied wrongs to ruffle his spirit. Real grievances he bore like a hero, and always appeared in a sunny mood. He had a fixed purpose to do what he could for the Master, and would not allow either trifles or serious matters to interfere with his one dominating life motive. He had no hours of idleness in his life. He always found work enough to do. Few Methodist preachers submit themselves so unreservedly as he to the authority of the Church. Even when he began to feel the weight of years, and knew that life was drawing to a close, he was the same modest, self-denying man that had always obeyed the command of his superiors in office, apparently accepting them as the voice of God. He was a good preacher. His noble life was a powerful sermon in itself, and certainly added much force to his always creditable pulpit efforts. His personal Christian life was serene. He had a firm assurance of an interest in heaven. For him to live was Christ, but to die was gain.

Joseph W. Holt was born in 1819, in the town of Pomfret, Conn., and died at his residence in Saint Charles, Mich., Sabbath evening, July 31, 1887. In 1848 he was joined in holy matrimony to Caroline E. Woodruff, of Burlington, Calhoun County, Mich. He was received on trial in the Michigan Conference in 1846, and served Kewawenon Indian Mission during that and the next year. In 1848 he was appointed to Fond du Lac. He served successively Sandy Lake, Fentonville, Armada, Detroit City Mission, Farmington, Henrietta, Unadilla, Oakville, Bedford, Palmyra and Blissfield, Lima and North Lake, Hartland, Oakgrove, Dansville, Brockway, Memphis, Port Hope, Davisville, Forester, Marysville and Saint Charles. In 1882 he took a superannuated relation, which he held at the time of his decease. In 1883 he consented to serve as a supply the Taymouth Indian Mission, and continued until he heard the voice of the Master calling him higher.

Southern Illinois Conference.

James Ball Woolard was born in Beaufort County, N. C., Dec. 16, 1804. He died May 4, 1887. He married Miss Mary McCurley, in Tennessee, in 1827. They came to Greenville, Bond County, Ill., in 1829. In 1836 he joined the Illinois Conference, and traveled Carlyle, Grafton, Carlinville, Shelbyville, and other circuits. He was ordained elder by Bishop Morris. The care of aged parents and a growing family caused him to locate in 1844. He entered the regular work in the Southern Illinois Conference in 1853, and was appointed agent of McKendree College. After that he served Trenton, Shiloh, Fillmore, Salem, and New Middleton Circuits. From 1862 to near the close of the war he was chaplain of the One Hundred and Eleventh Regiment Illinois Volunteers. From Conference, 1865, to the close of life he sustained the superannuated relation. With unusual power he preached his last sermon sitting in a chair at Smithborough, three weeks before his death. The last two weeks of his life were passed at the home of his son-in-law, Thomas L. Vest, in Greenville. Half an hour before his death he sang "Sweet Rivers of Redeeming Love." Fifteen or twenty minutes later he laid himself down on the bed and in a clear, ringing voice, exclaimed: "Glory to God!" They were his last words. As a son, husband, father, neighbor, citizen, Christian, a preacher of the Gospel, he was faithful. As a preacher he had tact, strong faith in God, power in prayer, a gift of song, and a power in exhortation that gave him, with God's blessing, sometimes a wonderful influence over congregations.

Rock River Conference.

John Alabaster, D.D., was born at Geneva, N. Y., January 2, 1836, and died September 7, 1887. In the month of January, 1860, while pursuing his college studies and teaching school, he accepted the charge of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Freedom, where he remained nearly two years, or until the Conference of 1861. From there he went to Niagara Falls, where he became so much annoyed and discouraged, because of the extravagances of the Free Methodist, or Nazarite, element among the people, that he withdrew from our Church, and united with the Presbyterian Church at Rochester, N. Y. But after more mature thought he returned to the Methodist Episcopal Church, and at the following Conference was re-admitted as a probationer, and sent to Chemung. From this class of appointments, the very poorest in the Conference, he made himself to be demanded by the strongest and most important churches. Upon some of these fields, as at Canandaigua and Elmira, his ministry was attended with gracious revivals of religion, and has ever been regarded as the period of the greatest prosperity to the societies. At the close of his ministry at Auburn, N. Y., he went abroad. Returning, he was, by special request, transferred to the Detroit Conference, and went to Ann Arbor, Mich., where for three years his church was crowded by the students and thoughtful people who were attracted by his ministry. From there he went to Tabernacle Church, Detroit, thence to Meridian Church, Indianapolis, and thence, two years ago, to Trinity Church, Chicago, his last pastorate. Here he labored with fidelity and acceptability, under most serious physical disability. His sermons and lectures were like beaten oil, but were prepared when suffering the most intense pain. With the new year he commenced revival services, preaching every evening. When these closed he went to Toronto, and by his sermons and lectures produced a very profound impression. Returning, he called together his official members and asked a few weeks' vacation; then told them, what previously his family and physician had known, that for fifty consecutive nights he had not lain down. He went to Clifton Springs for relief, and remained until April, when, thinking himself stronger, he resumed his work. But his devoted and generous people at once perceived that he was not restored, and, giving him a purse of one thousand dollars, sent him to Europe. Full of hope he went, but returned without permanent improvement. On one occasion Dr. and Mrs. McCabe, Dr. J. M. Reid, Hon. David Decker, of Elmira; and J. M. Caldwell called. When he had greeted them he said: "The pump is out of order, the engine won't work, the vessel is stranded, but it is all right. I am all packed up and ready to go and don't want to unpack. I have served God thirty-five years and preached the Gospel twenty-eight years, and it does not fail me now."

William Augustus Smith, D.D, died on the morning of the 30th of September, 1887, in the city of Rockford, Ill., where the Rock River Conference was in session. The intelligence was conveyed to the Conference at the beginning of its session on that day, and the profoundness of the impression there created, and the solemnity and sadness that fell upon the assembly indicated how large a place Brother Smith occupied in the hearts of his brethren. He was born in Brockville, C. W., May 27, 1834. In 1863 he was admitted into full connection to the Rock River Conference, and since that time he has made a record of usefulness and efficiency in the work of a Methodist preacher that is seldom surpassed. For sixteen consecutive years, beginning with 1867, he served his Conference as secretary, declining a unanimous election in 1884. In 1875 he was elected delegate to the General Conference, and served in that body in 1876. In 1879 he was elected reserve delegate and voted in the General Conference of 1880. In 1880 he was worthily honored by the Garrett Biblical Institute with the degree of Doctor of Divinity. His marriage with Elizabeth Avery took place in 1862, and for twenty-five years of beautiful wedded life they have walked together, celebrating their silver wedding during the summer just passed. He was a preacher of more than ordinary power, orderly in the arrangement of his discourses, as he was in all his affairs, practical, earnest, and often eloquent. As a pastor no detail of his work was neglected, no successor of his ever found aught in disorder that in any wise pertained to the work of his charge. He was a model pastor, prompt, systematic in the visitation of his people, approachable, conciliatory, and often inspiring ardent friendship. It pained him often that he had not the faculty of some of his brethren for revival work, but this did not discourage him from the work, and invariably he left the charges he served in all respects stronger than he found them.

West Virginia Conference.

Calvin Conner was born in Athens County, O., in 1819; was converted at the age of fifteen years, and was admitted on trial in West Virginia Conference in 1850. He was married to Elizabeth Collins on Sept. 12, 1839. On Sept. 7, 1870, Brother Conner was married to Margaret Guthrie, of Wheeling, W. Va., who was with him in the labors and responsibilities of the ministry for sixteen years. Our brother gave twenty-nine years to the active work of the ministry. For seven years his name was on the superannuated list. These years were spent near Moundsville, W. Va. On Oct. 12 he was seriously injured by a fall while attending the dedication of a church at Round Bottom, a few miles below Moundsville, from which he never fully recovered. Dec. 12 his left side was paralyzed. Though able to converse with his family and friends for a few days, yet he continued to sink lower and lower until he fell asleep in Jesus.

Robert Laughlin was born April 15, 1813, and died Jan. 17, 1887. He was converted and united with the Church in 1832, and was married to his now bereaved wife in 1835. In 1840 he was licensed to preach, and admitted into the Pittsburg Conference in 1844. The following circuits were traveled by him: Morgantown, Beverly, Petersburg, Somerset, Legonier, Mount Morris and Waynesburg. In 1856 he located. And in 1861 he volunteered and served for a time in the Union Army. In 1864 he was re-admitted into the West Virginia Conference and traveled Blackville Circuit one year, at the close of which he superannuated, and settled on his farm in Greene County, Pa., where he spent the closing years of his life, doing all he could for the Church. He preached his first sermon in the winter of 1835, and his last at Jollytown, at the request of some friends, in 1886. He was endowed with more than ordinary natural talent, and preached with great power and acceptability, not unfrequently to the astonishment of his congregation. "As he neared the Jordan of death he rejoiced in prospect of a final resting-place in heaven." With him "At eventide it was light."

John C. Kurtz was born in Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 21, 1851, and died of pneumonia at Deer Park, Md., April 16, 1887. He was converted and joined the Church when twenty years of age. He was married to Annie M. C. Kenopf, of Cleveland, O. In October, 1885, he was employed by the elder on Pleasant Grove Circuit, and did good and faithful work, and souls were saved. Having been duly recommended by the Oakland District Conference he was admitted on trial in West Virginia Conference, September, 1886, and appointed to Deer Park Circuit. He was kindly received by the people, and entered upon his work with bright hopes for the future. But how suddenly his ministerial career was brought to a close! After a short illness, on the 16th of April he left his earthly for his heavenly home.

North-west Indiana Conference

Henry M. Joy passed the last few days of his life in this Conference. His whole pulpit ministration among us was limited to a single Sabbath. His entire exemplary life and conspicuous career as a preacher of the Gospel belonged to our sister Conference on the north. At the fall session of the Michigan Conference of 1886, Dr. Henry M. Joy was transferred by Bishop Merrill and assigned to College Avenue Church, in Greencastle. The doctor made immediate preparation for removal, and arrived in this city on Saturday, Sept. 25th, one year ago. The family, consisting of father, wife, and son, were received with great satisfaction, even delight, by the people to whom he was sent to minister. For the time the home of Franklin P. Nelson was opened to receive our honored guests. On that Saturday night Dr. Joy slept peacefully and happily, perceiving not by any forecast shadow the impending fatality. On the following day and evening he preached his first and second sermons to our congregation. They were able in subject-matter, modest in manner, and pervaded in every part by that fervency and spirit which converted the words of men into burning messengers, crying with vehemence to the fallen people of "Mansoul." Great were the expectations and hope of those to whom Dr. Joy had come to preach. Early on Monday morning, in company with Mr. Nelson, the doctor went to the north railroad station to look after his household goods. During a temporary absence of Mr. Nelson, who had alighted to make some inquiries relative to the goods, it commenced raining, and Dr. Joy, holding the reins in one hand, attempted to raise an umbrella with the other. At this the horse, heretofore perfectly reliable and safe, took a sudden fright, and precipitately rushed across the street. The buggy, a two-wheeled vehicle, first struck a lamp post and then bounding on behind the frightened horse struck the sidewalk fence. The horse then changed his direction with a quick leap, and the unfortunate man was thrown from the buggy with great violence and hurled against a telephone pole. By a strange coincidence the buggy seat was thrown near the foot of the pole, and, as if placed there by the hand of love, it received the doctor when he fell. At first he essayed to rise, but found that he was unable to do so. In a moment assistance was at hand, and he was carried into a planing-mill which was adjacent. On his way he insisted on being allowed to walk, but it was too evident that he was unable for this. In due time he was conveyed to Mr. Nelson's, where every possible attention was given him. A skillful surgeon attended him from the first, and for a few days no alarming symptoms appeared. On Wednesday evening hemorrhage occurred, and counsel was immediately summoned from Indianapolis. It was evident, however, that the internal injury had been such as to baffle all human skill, and at six minutes past nine o'clock on Thursday morning he breathed his last. Such is a brief outline of the cause and circumstances of his death. During the four days of his sojourn in our midst, Dr. Joy made a profound impression upon our entire community. First, by his manly bearing. His very appearance, his confident step, his upright form, all betokened his manhood. Second, by his pulpit ministrations. His sermons were unpretending, forcible, strong, eloquent, spiritual. We all said: "Truly, the outlook is hopeful." Third, by his fortitude during three days of excruciating pain. Those who saw him in his unspeakable agony will testify that they never saw displayed more courage in the face of danger, more hope against hope, more endurance under pain and more faith in the presence of the inevitable. Fourth, by his triumphant Christian death. He was ready, if it was his Father's will to take him. Time and again during his sickness he expressed his faith in the power of Christ that saved him, and his readiness to go if he should be called; yet all the time he had hoped that he might yet accomplish the work to which he had been appointed. But, as the time drew near, he saw the inevitable and he did not flinch. At nine o'clock on Thursday morning he uttered these words: "Into Thy hands I commend myself. Because Christ died for sinners he died for me," and in five minutes his spirit had gone to God who gave it.

George Guild was born in Hartford, Conn., June 9, 1812, and died at his home near Medaryville, Ind., Nov. 29, 1886, aged seventy-four years. He was married to Miss Sarah Hull, April 8, 1838. He was converted to God at the age of twenty-one; at twenty-six he was licensed to preach; and at the age of thirty-one, in 1843, was received into the traveling connection of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the North Indiana Conference. When, in 1852, that Conference was divided into two—the North and the North-west Indiana Conferences—he came to this Conference, of which he was an honored member until his death. Brother Guild filled the following charges: Bluffton, Leesburg, Manchester and Pleasant Grove, now within the bounds of the North Indiana Conference, and Rochester, Rossville, Rensselaer, Battle Ground, Pine Village, Morocco and Medaryville, of the North-west. The time of service at these several points varied from one to three years. Quite early in his ministry, under the hard service and great exposure implied in the itinerancy in those earlier days, his health showed signs of failing, and in ten years from his entering the work superannuation was a necessity. But resting for awhile and measurably recuperating his broken energies, the all-controlling love, which, ever after his conversion to God, dominated his being, would not allow him to rest in retirement. Again and again, during the twenty years next succeeding his first failure of health, he entered the effective ranks and as often broke down again. These alternations between effectiveness and necessitated rest, are to the thoughtful, suggestive of suffering, conflict, trial. In 1872 came the final retirement. Thenceforward to the end as strength permitted, in all practicable ways, he was busy for God. The subject of this sketch, as a man, was frank and honorable; as a Christian, spiritual and energetic as a minister, without ostentation, and faithful; as a preacher, biblical, clear and effective.

William J. Forbes was born in Butler County, Ohio, Jan. 11, 1809. On the 24th of October, 1837, he was married to Miss Lapath Mershon, of Erie County, Pa. The same month he was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference, and appointed as follows: Bloomfield, Kankakee Mission, Valparaiso, Yellow Mission, La Grange, Steuben, Wolflake, Joseph Mission, Decatur, Auburn, Anderson, Kokomo, Plymouth Mission, Vigo, Rockville, Bainbridge, Williamsport, North Liberty, Kewanna, West Creek, Calumet, and Centerville. In 1861 he was superannuated and remained so during the remainder of life, but filled Knox Circuit one year with success. In 1853 he was married the second time—to Mrs. Fannie Elder, widow of Rev. Daniel Elder, of Indiana Conference. His sickness was protracted and at times very painful, but he bore it with Christian patience and resignation to the Divine will, knowing that it "worked for him a far more exceeding weight of glory."

Aaron Wood, D.D., of the North-west Indiana Conference, was born in Pendleton, Va., Oct. 15, 1802, and died at his home in Yountsville, Ind., Aug. 20, 1887, having attained the age of eighty-four years. He was received on trial into the Ohio Conference during the fall of the same year. His official record is as follows: stationed at London, O.; Connersville, Ind.; received into full connection in the Ohio Conference at Zanesville; ordained deacon by Bishop Roberts and appointed to Madison, Vincennes, Bloomington; ordained elder; stationed at Mount Carmel, Ill., Corydon, Vincennes, located; readmitted, and presiding elder of Vincennes District, agent Indiana Asbury (now De Pauw) University, New Albany, South Bend District, Laporte, Lafayette District, agent De Pauw University, agent American Bible Society, Terre Haute, Terre Haute District, Indianapolis District, agent De Pauw University, Perrysville, Ninth Street, Lafayette, Michigan City, chaplain Northern State's Prison, agent Preacher's Aid Society, and supply on Argos Circuit, Delphi, Williamsport, Stockwell, Dayton, chaplain Soldiers' Orphan Home, Knightstown, Yountsville. In the fall of 1885, at the session of his Conference, at Valparaiso, he was granted a superannuated relation. Since Brother Wood's retirement from the active ministry he has lived at Yountsville with his estimable wife, loved, honored, and respected by all who knew him. And yet, even in the feebleness of his advanced years, he could not be restrained from attending Conferences, revisiting his old-time battle fields, and preaching as he had strength. He summed up his long career of active work thus: fourteen years on districts, fourteen years on stations, thirteen years on circuits, twelve years in agencies, six years in chaplaincies, and three years in teaching and preaching on the Sabbath—sixty-two years in the active ministry. He was honored with the title of Doctor of Divinity by the Indiana State University, without his seeking, though he evidently enjoyed the compliment. He was a member of five General Conferences—in 1840, at Baltimore; in 1844, New York; in 1864, Philadelphia; in 1868, Chicago; and in 1876, Baltimore. He was also elected reserve delegate five times showing the esteem in which his Conference held him. Dr. Wood was twice married—first, to Miss Laura Beauchamp, daughter of Rev. W. Beauchamp. She died in 1835. In 1839 he was married to Miss Maria Hitt, of Urbana, Ohio, who survives him in feebleness of body, but in the spirit of Christian resignation. Dr. Wood died as he lived, self-possessed, hopeful, and satisfied. Of the change coming upon him he said, "I am ready." Friends at Yountsville, Crawfordsville, and Lafayette vied with each other in kindly attentions to the honored hero. The remains were interred in Spring Vale Cemetery, Lafayette. Of Brother Wood, as a man and a preacher, little need be said here. His life was contemporaneous with the history of Indiana, and his ministry covered the entire history of Methodism in the State. He was among the pioneer preachers of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, when the settlements were few and far between; when the Indians lingered and were jostled upon the advancing wave of Christian civilization, and disputed their rights with the onward tide of white settlers. He was a man of strong native mind and fair education. He gathered knowledge from books and from contact with men and the outer world, was always eager to read the last books published, and kept abreast with the times to the last. Though an octogenarian he was still a student, fresh and vigorous. His name is like "ointment poured forth" in thousands of households in the wide West. As a preacher he was earnest and effective, rather than ornate; dealt less in rhetoric and logic than in facts and Bible truth, was familiar with Scripture, Wesleyan theology, and church polity, and could defend his Church against all forms of assault. He had a strong, clear voice, and spoke with readiness and ease to himself, never ranted, and rarely shouted.

Central Illinois Conference.

JACOB MATTHEWS was born in Baltimore, Md., Feb. 23, 1819. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Mackinaw, Ill., in 1839. On April 8, 1840, he was married to Esther J. Whitman, who has been a worthy companion in all his work, as physician and pastor, during the forty-seven years of their married life. In 1853 he moved to Mackinaw, Ill., where he successfully practiced medicine until 1854, when he was ordained elder by Bishop Morris, and admitted on trial into the Rock River Conference, and appointed to the Magnolia Circuit. He served the following charges in Rock River and Central Illinois Conference: Avoca, Ottawa, Whitefield, Toulon and Lafayette, Wyoming, Victoria, Whitefield again, Henry, Berwick, Pleasant Mound, Bardolph, Victoria again, Lafayette and Bradford. In 1879, because of infirmities, he was granted a superannuated relation and he moved to Nebraska, and in 1880 to Union, Hardin County, Iowa, where he resided until his death. He was an able minister—argumentative, logical, and instructive. Dr. Matthews suffered greatly for nearly three years; but in his greatest sufferings his trust in the Redeemer was unshaken, and he always spoke joyfully of the time when it should be said, "It is enough, come up higher." He died in Union, Iowa, May 8, 1887.

Genesee Conference.

ELEAZER PECK HUNTINGTON was born in Townsend, Vt., Feb. 27, 1817. Soon after this he was married to Mrs. Maria Miller of Newfane, Vt., a lady who combined with the firmness of Christian principle the economy of the housewife, the kindly manners of the lady and the domestic devotions of the model mother. In the fall of 1857, at the suggestion of David Nutten, then presiding elder of Hornellsville District, he allowed his name to be presented, and was received on probation for membership in the East Genesee Conference at its session in Corning. He was appointed to the Ulysses Charge, the circuit upon which he was then living and had lived the year previous. His subsequent appointments were: Granger, Angelica, Hornellsville, Nunda, Wellsville, Seneca Falls, Phelps, and Tyrone. Upon each of these fields he labored two and three years, as the Church allowed, excepting the last two. Three years previous to his retirement from the effective ranks it became painfully apparent to those who knew him most intimately that he was breaking down under his labors. During his second year at Tyrone he became fully convinced that his only hope of further work in the ministry lay in what nervous strength he could gain by a year's rest, and at the Conference of 1875 he received a superannuated relation. His disability, however, proved to be an unyielding paralysis, which wholly crippled him for active labor, and rendered him more and more helpless to the close of his life. He died at the residence of his son in North Bingham, Pa., June 20, 1887. As a Christian he was always in earnest. As a preacher he was spiritual and practical. He never attempted to compass a wide range of subjects, but concentrated his energies, perhaps even to a fault, upon the immediate relations and facts of spiritual life. His sermons always had an object and always hit. His grasp of truth was intense and firm; it fired both his head and heart. He was lucid in statement, happy in illustration, and often powerful in appeal. His labors were, in most of his appointments, crowned with the conversion of souls.

DAVID NUTTEN was born in 1810. He joined the Genesee Conference in 1837, at its session in Perry, N. Y. Without his knowledge James Hemingway, the presiding elder, called a Quarterly Conference which recommended his admission to Conference; Brother Nutten knowing nothing of the fact till some days after. A critic humorously said, "He was smuggled into Conference." His first appointment was on the Attica and Orangeville Circuit. In 1838–39 Brother Nutten was sent to Churchville and Chili. One hundred were received on trial that year. At the close of the first year on the circuit, Brother Nutten was left alone at Alexander. Here he enjoyed a good revival, and some of the first families were converted, and joined the Church. In 1843, at Castile, a general religious influence prevailed. Extra meetings were held, as was the custom, and at one appointment, Saint Helena, more than one hundred were hopefully converted. At his next appointment, at Albion, then and now a strong station, he enjoyed prosperity. At Lyons, 1847, he received thirty into the Church. In 1848 he was stationed at Dansville. The year was prosperous, and at its close he was appointed presiding elder of the Bath District. The appointment was to him a surprise. Of Corning, in 1853, he says: "Two pleasant and profitable years were spent there. Many professed conversion during my term, and our meetings were very full of interest." Avon was his next charge. From Avon he was again appointed presiding elder, and in 1868 he was returned for a term of three years' service to Avon. In reference to his return to Avon he thus writes: "After eleven years had passed, and my district work was done, by invitation I returned to Avon; stayed three happy years." Of the man as a husband, father, and Christian citizen, it is scarcely necessary to speak. Fifty years of happy married life, with the wife of his youth, who has kept her place by his side in Church and family, till death had for a little while divided them. As a preacher Brother Nutten was clear in his mental conceptions, a student who "searched" for the hidden treasure more than for what might be simply pleasing. His sermons were instructive and clearly enunciated. His breadth of sacred knowledge was competent, and his language plain. He was not specially oratorical in delivery, but familiar, pleasing, and sedate, almost conversational at times, until he reached the full grasp of his subject. He was prudent, but not timid. He never dragged controversy into the pulpit, nor made enemies in stating his own faith. Over all his goodly qualities was his sincere piety. No one questioned his Christian faith and zeal. His experience in the things of God was settled, deep and uniform. He "walked with God." Brother Nutten died Nov. 14, 1886.

EDWIN WILDMAN, A.M., was born in Cortland County in 1829, and, after five years of age, was reared at Whitesville, Allegany County, N. Y. When he attained his majority his father gave him fifty acres of timber land, and he bent his energies to the task of securing a liberal education, earning all his own means, and paying his own way. At the age of twenty-seven years he had graduated with honors at Union College, under the presidency of the famous Dr. Eliphalet Nott. It was in a class of one hundred and twenty, the largest ever graduated there. During his preparation for college he was converted at Lima, at the age of twenty-three, under the personal influence of Rev. M. C. Dean, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. After his graduation he became a professional educator, and was principal of the Rogersville Academy, and then of Mansfield (Pa.) Academy. The latter was in a very feeble condition when he took it, and under his care it became a school of such high grade that the State, by his own earnest effort, reorganized it as a State Normal School. He joined the Genesee Conference on trial in 1863. In the regular course of his ministry he was in two years received into full membership, and was ordained deacon in 1865 and elder in 1867. In 1864 he established the Batavia Collegiate Institute, which was afterward burned. In 1866 he was elected principal of the Corning Free Academy. In 1868 he gave himself fully to the ministry, and was appointed to the Coudersport Charge, where his wife died, leaving him with two little boys. He would have been glad to continue in the pastorate, but was urged to take the Perry Academy, which he did in 1869. He was the last principal of that institution while it was under the direct care of the Genesee Conference. Here he married her who has faithfully shared with him the itinerant lot these twelve years, helping him to win souls to Christ. After teaching in Williamsport, Pa., as principal of the High School, in 1876 he was appointed pastor of the Byron Charge, and served there most acceptably and efficiently for three years. He led them to build a fine parsonage, there having never been one, and he saw numbers converted and added to the Church. In 1879 he was appointed to Middleport; and in 1880 to Niagara Falls, where it was important that a man of influence and strength should be stationed, and he there did a work of disciplinary administration which left a most salutary effect. In 1881 he went to Barre, and three years afterward to Somerset, which was his last appointment. In failing health he did all he could, and taught by patient endurance lessons which were more effective than speech. From 1863 to 1885 he had been wont to attend his Conference and respond to his name, and his presiding elder for twenty-two years had responded when the bishop called his name, "Nothing against Brother Wildman." At the session of 1886 he was made supernumerary. He died Thursday, April 28, 1887, in peace, at Sorrento, Florida, leaving this message to his presiding elder and brethren: "Tell them that I love them, and that this religion which we preach pays all the way along, even to the last breath." He was buried at Oramel, N. Y.

JOHN WESLEY VAUGHN was born in Westmoreland, Oneida County, N. Y., Feb. 25, 1801. He married Miss Lydia C. Mead in 1820. He joined the Genesee Conference as a probationer at Penn Yan in 1832; was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding at Brockport in 1834, and elder by Bishop Waugh at Canandaigua in 1836. He was called from the infirmities of age to heavenly rest and reward, at Knowlesville, N. Y., Feb. 27, 1887. His wife died in 1860. Brother Vaughn enjoyed but scanty means of education in his youth, but possessed sterling good sense and a clear and assured Christian experience, together with a spirit of untiring industry and heroic devotion, which rendered him a valiant and successful herald of the cross in times and places when gifts of grace did not require the aids of literary culture to render the Christian ministry effective. His first appointment was Canisteo and Amity, in 1832; his last was Centerville, N. Y., 1871. In 1873 he superannuated. He received in all twenty-seven appointments, not including one under the presiding elder before he joined the Conference. "Revival!" was always his cry upon entering a new charge. For this he labored, preached, prayed, sacrificed, sustained by a gifted and faithful wife; and he never failed to win souls to Christ.

Colorado Conference.

JOHN STOCKS "ceased at once to work and live here," at Black Hawk, Col., Sept. 19, 1886. He was born in Yorkshire, England, Feb. 5, 1829. He was quickened into spiritual life at thirteen years of age. At seventeen he was consciously called to the ministry. He was married April 9, 1855, to Miss Jane Gardiner, and came to this country in 1872. He was received on trial into the Colorado Conference July 24, 1873, and has served the following charges: Arkansas River, Wet Mountain and Pleasant Valley, Florence, Arvada, Caribou, Silver Plume, Bald Mountain, Evans and Big Thompson, and Black Hawk. Brother Stocks was eminently free from self-seeking, never troubling the appointing power with complaints about the work assigned him. He was as free also from carping criticism of his brethren. He was a close student and careful thinker. His preaching was expository, clear, and, of course, practical. He was one of the best examiners of classes in the course of Conference studies. He was a pure, noble man, on whom no shadow of suspicion ever fell. His religious life was intense, deep, constant. His last sickness was acute, very painful, but short. He died as the good man dies, triumphing through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Minnesota Conference.

NORRIS HOBART was born at Saint Albans, Vt., June 9, 1811, and departed this life in the city of Mankato, June 25, 1887. In 1821 his father, Calvin Hobart, emigrated to Illinois and settled in what is now Schuyler County, and built his cabin in Feb., 1823. This was then the outside settlement. Here the first Methodist Episcopal Church west of the Illinois river was organized. He was licensed as a local preacher in September, 1835, and was one of a class of thirty who were admitted on trial in the Illinois Conference in 1836. His first appointment was Burlington Circuit, Iowa. This field embraced all of Iowa lying between the lower Iowa River and the Missouri line, and as far west as the settlements then extended. His subsequent appointments in the Illinois Conference were Rockingham, Rock Island, Lewistown, Rushville, Alton, Belleville, and Shawneetown. Here he was prostrated by an attack of bilious fever, and was oblized to superannuate for several years. Having regained his health, in 1853 he was re-admitted into Wisconsin Conference and appointed to Hudson Mission. In 1854 he was appointed to Cannon River Mission, and in 1855 to Winona District—its first presiding elder. This difficult field he filled for two years with great success, when, through abundant labors, and great exposure, his health again failed, and he was obliged to ask a superannuated relation. This relation he sustained until 1865, when he was called to fill out the year on the Red Wing District, the presiding elder's health having failed. His subsequent appointments in Minnesota were: Rochester, Wasioja, Mankato District, Farmington, Hastings, and Shakopee, where he served full terms. Age and increasing infirmities now compelled him to superannuate. In this relation he continued until his decease. He was stricken with paralysis, and after lingering for about four days, he entered into rest. As a preacher he was above mediocrity, with a clear, deep, rich Christian experience. Thoroughly posted in Methodist theology, he was as a sermonizer, sound, clear, pointed, forcible, logical, successful, and many times, without effort, grandly eloquent. His ability to grapple with the varied controversies affecting the Church during his early ministry dictated several of his appointments, in all of which the expectations of his friends were fully realized. He lived well and died well.

JOHN QUIGLEY was born near Warren, Warren County, Pa., March 21, 1810, and died in Asheville, N. C., Dec. 21, 1886. During 1834 he felt called to work for the salvation of sinners, and appointed a prayer-meeting at his own house, which resulted in a revival in which about sixty were saved. A Methodist society was formed, and he was given a license to exhort, and was soon after pressed into the work of an itinerant. His fields of labor, according to data, were as follows: Vermillion Circuit, Savannah, Mansfield, Oliverburg, Fredericktown, Mount Vernon District, Saint Paul's, and Delaware. From Delaware he went to Tiffin, Ohio, and thence was transferred to Onalaska, Wis. He went from Wisconsin to Minnesota, and became pastor of Central Church, Winona; afterward traveled the Winona District. He then served as pastor of Centenary Church, Minneapolis, and afterward was appointed to Minneapolis District. As a preacher he excelled in such presentation of truth as revealed to his hearers their own hearts. In clearness of statement, variety, and beauty of illustration, and in power of appeals to the ungodly, I have not heard his superior. Bishop Thompson said of him: "In the forceful presentation of certain biblical themes in the pulpit, Dr. Quigley is not surpassed by any preacher in America whom I have heard." He was an independent mind; he did his own thinking, had no models, and no imitators. His Christian experience was positive and triumphant. He taught the Wesleyan view of Christian Perfection, and testified to its possession.

Samuel Spates was born Jan. 31, 1815, in Kentucky, from which State his father and family removed while he was yet a boy, and settled in Morgan County, Ill., near Jacksonville. He was admitted in 1839 on trial in the Illinois Conference, and sent to the Chippewa Mission on the Upper Mississippi. His first appointment was to the Rabbit Lake Clan. He returned to Illinois, preached one year on the Mount Pleasant Circuit, and in the fall of 1845 returned to his chosen Mission field accompanied by his wife (late Miss Sarah J. Pope)—a lady every way fitted to fill the responsible place which she had accepted. The next year he was stationed at Sault Ste. Marie, and in 1846 sent to Sandy Lake. Here they toiled for ten years, heroically enduring hardships, privations, and difficulties, such as few are called to meet. Their success was all that could be expected. A church of some thirty members was organized, and prospects were bright until 1855, when, through the machinations of vicious and wicked men (mostly half-breeds), the Indians became alienated, the lives of our missionaries in danger, and the Mission was given up, Brother Spates and family barely escaping with their lives. Since 1856 he has been a faithful and successful member of the Minnesota Conference Every charge he has filled has been blessed with conversions, and many, no doubt, will be gathered in the great harvest as the result of his faithful ministry. For several years Brother Spates has been on the superannuated list. He died, triumphing gloriously in Christ, April 19, 1887.

North Carolina Conference.

Nelson S. Farror was born in 1804. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church until the year 1865, when he joined the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and remained a member of it until the year 1871, at which time he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church on credentials. He was appointed to Oberlin, Raleigh, and Love Hill, after which he held a superannuated relation. During his aged and feeble state he continued his fervent devotion to his Lord and Master. He lingered in frail health until January last, when he passed quietly to his home beyond the river.

Wisconsin Conference.

Amos P. Mead was born in Genoa, N. Y., Aug. 27, 1829, and died in the city of Omaha, Neb., Dec. 14, 1886. In 1850 he married Ann Augusta Rondall and united with the Oneida Conference. The following year a change of boundaries took him into the Wyoming Conference, where for twelve years he filled important stations. In 1862 he became a member of Rock River Conference, serving First Church, Rockford and Marengo, whence by special request he was transferred to Jackson, Mich., to aid in the erection of a valuable church. His work done there, he was stationed at Galena Street, Aurora, Ill., where he was instrumental in erecting a commodious parsonage and a fine church. After a pastorate at Kankakee he engaged in the Bethel work of Chicago. In 1875 he was transferred to the Wisconsin Conference and appointed successively to Racine, Appleton, Waupun, and Waupaca District. In 1883 he asked for a supernumerary relation, hoping to find in rest much needed physical invigoration. Pressing calls soon brought him again to the pulpit first in Faribault, Minn., then in Norfolk, Neb. Up to the session of his Conference in 1885, he expected to return to his ecclesiastical home for the regular work of the ministry, but the effects of even the little excitement of the Conference session convinced him that his work was done. His ministry, especially in his earlier years, was marked by extensive revivals. Cheerful and hopeful, he ever saw life's brighter side. Always loving in his family, kind to the stranger, sympathizing with the sufferer, he was especially prompt with a word of praise for his brother minister whether present or absent. A man of fine presence, good thought, and broad sympathies, he gathered large congregations. He was the author of an entertaining book entitled Manna in the Wilderness.

Robert C. Parsons was born May 30, 1817, at Georgetown, N. Y. He was received on trial at Spring Street, Milwaukee, in 1859, and appointed to Asbury Church, Milwaukee, where he remained two years. Here pastor and people struggled heroically to build a church. Brother Parsons was ordained deacon by Bishop Baker at the spring Conference of 1859, and appointed to Green Bay, which he served the short year and the following year. In October of the second year he was married to Miss Elia A. Bigelow. He was ordained elder at Janesville in 1860 by Bishop Scott, and appointed to Manitowoc, where he remained two years; then to Whitewater for two years; next he served Lake Geneva three years. He then served two and a half years as City Missionary for the Young Men's Christian Association at Salem, Mass. Transferred to New England Conference, he served Newberryport two years, Worcester two years, and Fitchburg two years. In 1876 he returned to Wisconsin Conference, remaining at Geneva, and preaching irregularly, until Conference, when he was appointed to Salem and Wilmot for one year. A blessed revival at Salem Church cheered his return to the home Conference. He was appointed to Lyons and Spring Prairie for three successive years, when in the last year the sickness of his family, added to the toil and care of twenty-five years in the ministry, brought on a severe sickness so that he could not take the next appointment at Menomonee Falls. After partial recovery he removed to Milwaukee, and for eighteen months had charge of the Bethel Home, doing worthy work, and was much beloved by the sailors. Five years ago he returned to Lyons, Walworth County, Wis., purchased the home where he died, and did his best to provide an honorable support for himself and family. In the winter he received a severe fall which brought on the disease that culminated in his death, July 27, 1887. He died calmly, in sure hope of a blessed immortality, assuring his wife that Jesus was with him to comfort and support.

Erastus Sylvester Grumley died in Garnett, Kan., Aug. 6, 1887, aged seventy-six years. He was born in the State of Connecticut, Aug. 22, 1811. At the age of twenty, he was admitted on trial in the North Ohio Conference, and in due time was ordained deacon and elder. He spent ten years in that Conference. His charges were: Lower Sandusky, Bueyrus, Ashland, Zanesville, Ohio City, Tiffin, Sandusky City, and Norwalk. He moved to Wisconsin in 1851 and joined the Wisconsin Conference, in which for twenty-one years he filled responsible pulpits. His appointments were: Council Hill, Fond du Lac; presiding elder of Racine District, Waterford, Heart Prairie, Columbus, Watertown, Berlin and Waupun, making in all thirty-one years of active ministerial life. Sixteen years ago he asked for a superannuated relation. He was sixty years of age and in failing health. For about ten years he lived in Beaver Dam, then moved to Garnet, Kan., where he spent the last six years of his life. He has found his long-wished-for rest. Brother Grumley was not only a good man, but he was a good preacher. He would frequently soar in flights of eloquence when preaching on the great themes of the Gospel. He was a grand doctrinal preacher and he loved the doctrines of our loved Methodism and fearlessly defended them.

Elijah Robinson was born in the town of Jamaica, Vt., in the year 1817. He died in Evansville, Wis., March 10, 1887. He was twice married. The first time to Ellen B. Brown, who died in 1881. A second time he was married to Mrs. C. B. Eldredge, who yet survives. He was a successful pastor and preacher at Evansville, Whitewater, and Grand Avenue, Milwaukee. He had sustained a superannuate relation to the Wisconsin Conference for a period of twenty-five years. That he was compelled to pass so many years in inaction was the supreme trial of his life. Through all these years of quiet he bore himself with manifest patience and Christian resignation. He was a preacher of unusual ability and a pastor of marked power. He was a man of large spirit and full of zeal. He died full of peace and the Holy Ghost.

Daniel Sears Howes was born in North Adams, Mass., Nov. 30, 1847. He died Nov. 23, 1887, at Utica, Wis. On Sept. 27, 1877, he was married to Miss Amy Vincent, who survives him. In the fall of 1878 he joined the Wisconsin Conference on trial, served Ashland one year, Amherst two years, Port Washington one year, Bristol three years, and Utica one year. But the last year's service was regarded as the most useful of all, and many, no doubt, will thank God for his ministry at Utica. At last his work was done, and the spirit took its flight. His last hours were precious ones, for his peace was complete, his trust unwavering, and his prospect of bliss without the least dimming veil. He was an earnest, conscientious, faithful Christian, and minister of our Lord Jesus Christ.

California Conference.

John B. Hill was a native of New Jersey, born in 1828, in Newark. He was licensed to preach, and admitted on trial in the New Jersey Conference in 1850. In the spring of 1852, and before his reception into full membership, he was transferred by Bishop Janes to the Oregon and California Mission Conference. On his arrival in San Francisco he was sent up the Sacramento River some three hundred miles to organize a circuit in the mines. His field of labor embraced the whole of Shasta and Trinity Counties. He traveled on foot and visited regularly the populous mining camps of that vast region of country, embracing between its extremes of latitude and longitude a territory sufficiently extensive for an Annual Conference. Returning from that boreal land in the summer of his second year in that work, on his twenty-fifth birthday, he was united in marriage with Miss Matilda Cosper, whose acquaintance he had formed on shipboard between New York and San Francisco. In 1854 he was received into full membership and ordained a deacon by Bishop Simpson; and in 1856 he was ordained elder by Bishop Scott at the Conference session in San Jose. After rendering efficient service for a number of years in pioneer fields he was sent to more prominent charges in the more populous towns and cities. He was stationed in Grass Valley, Nevada City, Stockton, Santa Clara, and San Francisco. He rendered most valuable service as presiding elder of the Sacramento and Marysville Districts. He served as Conference secretary for a period of eleven consecutive years. In 1868 he was a member of the General Conference in Chicago. In 1872 he was appointed agent of our Book Depository in San Francisco, doing his work with tireless energy and distinguished success. He remained at that post of service fourteen years. He was, in whatever field called to labor, a man of one work; he served the Church with fidelity, never turning aside in the slightest degree from what he conceived to be the line of duty. He commanded confidence, respect, and affection of his brethren, both in the ministry and membership of the Church. He was of the stuff of which martyrs are made, braving hardship, toil, and persecution, and going directly to the goal to which conscience and conviction of duty to God pointed. Some two or three weeks before his work was finished Brother Hill came into the enjoyment of a rich and precious religious experience, of which, on occasions, he would make mention in well-chosen words, and with much humility. His health partially failed him some eighteen months before the end came. Conscious of his waning energies, he wrote to Phillips & Hunt, proposing to resign his position as agent. On the morning of Oct. 5, 1886, he ceased to work and live.

George Jennings was born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 9, 1814. April 25, 1845, he was appointed on the Mount Holly work; from then until 1854, he filled various appointments in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, his last appointment, before starting West, being at Pottsville, Pa. In the spring of 1854 he came West, on account of ill health, and soon after joined the Iowa Conference, preaching at Council Bluffs during the Mormon excitement, but he soon had to give up the ministry entirely on account of his health. He then moved to where Omaha now is, in 1855, remaining there until the great excitement at Bellevue, Neb., where he moved, and remained until the spring of 1861, when he moved to Factoryville, Neb., living there until Aug. 10, 1873, when he started for the Pacific Coast. Soon after his arrival in California he joined the Nevada Conference, and was stationed that fall in Gold Hill, Nev. From thence he was sent to Independence, Cal., thence to Loyalton, next to Eureka Mills and The Buttes, afterward preaching at Unionville, Elko, Tuscarora, Cedarville, Susanville and Genoa. A little over two years ago he took a superannuated relation on account of ill health, and located at Reno, Nev., where he died, Feb. 22, 1887, in great peace. Brother Jennings was a man of much vigor, both of body and of mind. As a preacher he was of more than ordinary power, and he greatly delighted in telling the story of redeeming love. Among his brethren he was always a brother beloved, both for his genial ways and his earnest sympathy. A large part of his life was spent upon the frontier, and his work there will more and more appear as the years go by. He was quick of apprehension, brave in execution, and zealous in every good word and work. He feared not death, but passed away in the full assurance of a blissful immortality.

West Wisconsin Conference.

Ransom Gould died at Mount Vernon, Ia., in 1887. He was received on trial in the Wisconsin Conference in 1854. In the change of Conference boundaries in 1856 he fell into the West Wisconsin Conference, and was received into full connection in the Conference at its first session held in Madison in the same year, he being a deacon when admitted. He served as pastor in the following places: Monticello, Cadiz, Spring Grove, Poynetta and Prairie du Sac. In 1865 he received a superannuated relation to the Conference, which relation he held for twenty-two years up to the time of his death. He was a man of fair pulpit abilities, and, although his effective relation to the Conference was but eleven years, he did good work for the Master. During his long superannuation he continued to maintain his Christian character, and now "rests from his labors."

Joseph C. Aspinwall was born at Bradford, Vt., April 5, 1809. On the 8th of June, 1831, at Hallowell, Me., he united with the Maine Conference on trial. In July, 1834, he was ordained deacon at the Conference held in Gardiner, and in 1836 he was ordained elder at the Conference held in Bangor, Me. His appointments in this Conference were: Cherryfield, Calais, Penobscot, Hampden, Belfast, Prospect, Augusta, Portland and Gardiner. In July, 1840, he was transferred to the New Hampshire Conference, and was stationed at Crattsbury. In 1844, by change of boundaries, he was placed in the Vermont Conference, and was appointed to Springfield. At the close of his two years there he was appointed to Springfield District as presiding elder, where he remained a full term. At its close he was elected delegate from his Conference to the General Conference of 1852 held in Boston. In 1855 he was transferred to the Wisconsin Conference and was pastor at Fall River and afterward at Appleton. In 1858 he was transferred to the West Wisconsin Conference, in which he spent twenty-nine years, leaving behind him in every place where he labored a sweet and holy influence. The appointments he successively filled in this Conference were: Madison, Platteville, Hazel Green, Mineral Point District as presiding elder for four years, Monroe, Brodhead, Oregon, Boscobel, Lodi, and one year as presiding elder of Madison District, when, on account of feeble health, he was compelled to leave the district and ask a supernumerary relation, after having spent forty-seven years in the effective work. This relation was given him by the Conference and continued until 1885 when he asked "to be promoted to the honorable list of the superannuates," which relation he sustained to the time of his death. Brother Aspinwall was emphatically a good preacher; his sermons were evangelical to the very core, and full of the fire and the Holy Spirit. He was an excellent pastor, and knew and loved all the people. He was eminently a peacemaker, and through his entire ministry had the faculty of pouring oil upon the troubled waters. In his Conference relations he was congenial and agreeable. His religious experience was sound and clear. In the love-feast he ever found an agreeable place, and a feast to his soul. In his domestic relations he has passed through more than ordinary trials and bereavements, having followed to the grave three companions and several children. About twenty years ago he was united to his present bereft companion, which was a most happy union, and doubtless added many days to his sojourn on earth. His last sickness was short. Although feeble for several years he has been able to preach occasionally. Only about two weeks before he died he preached.

Erie Conference.

John Akers was born July 1, 1824, at Sutton, Yorkshire, England. He was converted when fourteen years old. In 1850 he emigrated to America, and connected himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Ravenna, O., then within the bounds of the Erie Annual Conference, and the next year he was recommended to the traveling connection. He did such work as is common for Methodist preachers to do, but the major part of his time was spent near the shore of Lake Erie, and largely in Erie County, Pa. Our deceased brother was a man of undoubted integrity, deep piety, and great industry. He was full of labors for the Master, and in these labors systematic and exact. Modest and unassuming, he did well the work assigned him, and was in every sense a successful minister of the Lord Jesus. His sickness, which terminated fatally, was of two months' duration. At times his sufferings were very great, but grace was sufficient to sustain and comfort, and his testimony to the blessedness of God's promises very emphatic. His soul grew happy in prospect of eternal life, and his sick-room became a Bethel. He closed his earthly life Sept. 6, 1887, and was buried in the new cemetery at Corydon, Pa.

Edwin Hull was born Oct. 15, 1815, in the town of Camillus, Onondaga County, N. Y., and died at his home in Phoenix, Pa., Oct. 18, 1886. A short time after his conversion he became impressed that it was his duty to preach the Gospel. He at once responded to the divine call, and began to prepare himself for the work of the ministry. He was admitted to the Erie Conference in 1840. The following charges he served during his effective relation with the Conference: Gerry, Wattsburg, Oil Creek, Washington, Clintonville, Shippensville, Hendersonville, Cooperstown, Punxsutawney, Corsica, Pleasantville, Tionesta, Perrysburg, Ellery, Riceville. Thereafter he sustained a supernumerary or a superannuated relation. For a number of years he was agent of the American Bible Society. In this capacity he labored as faithfully for the welfare of Christ's kingdom as when engaged in pastoral work. As a preacher he was earnest, practical, and successful. His efforts were accompanied with the outpouring of the Spirit, and resulted in fruitful revivals of religion. As a Christian man he had positive convictions of the principles of right, and maintained them with the strictest integrity. In the last years of his life his physical ailments were the source of much suffering, but in this he seemed patient and trustful, always expressing an unwavering confidence in the sustaining grace of God. The autumn of his life was beautifully tinged with the brighter hues of a ripened Christian experience. His remains were laid to rest in Mount Zion Cemetery.

W. B. Trevey was born Sept. 26, 1855, in Amherst County, Va. His conversion occurred in early childhood. His religious life was one of pre-eminent characteristics, a life distinguished for ardent devotion, for heavenly-mindedness, for the constant fellowship of the Spirit, for a walk close with God. He spent much of his time in prayer. His study was his trysting-place, where he held joyous communion with God. His family altar ever bore incense to heaven. He deeply impressed all who either saw or heard him, that he was an embassador from the skies. Brother Trevey's presence in the pulpit bespoke a man—both in mind and heart—well equipped for the proclamation of the grace of God. With high natural endowments, and the superadded anointing of the Holy Ghost he was fruitful of good works. The fields committed to his care, in abundant harvests, are the witnesses of his power. He was licensed as an exhorter at the age of eighteen. Three years after he received license as a local preacher, and entered the West Virginia Conference on trial. At the expiration of two years he was discontinued on account of failing health. In 1880 he again joined the same Conference on trial. In 1885 he was transferred to the Erie Conference, ordained elder, and stationed at Saegertown, where he "finished his course" at eleven A. M., Monday, Sept. 12, 1887. He was married, Nov. 2, 1881, to Mary J. Taylor, of Moundsville, W. Va. An affectionate wife, a suitable helpmeet for his chosen life-work, was God's good gift to him. With their three children the widow waits awhile, mourning, but not as those who have no hope. The earthly remains of our departed brother await the resurrection morn from the cemetery near Moundsville. His last illness was of seven weeks' duration. Though his sufferings were at times very extreme, he bore all with a heroism born of Christian faith. His patience was perfect. His hope was indeed "like an anchor." His departure was triumphant. He leaves, as a rich legacy to his bereft kindred and to the Church, the aroma of a pure, unselfish Christian life.

JOHN A. WARD was born in Clymer, N. Y., Aug. 26, 1845, and died in Ridgway, Pa., Nov. 30, 1886. He was clearly prepared for his chosen work by a genuine conversion at the age of twenty years. Having been licensed to preach some time before, he exercised his gifts occasionally in preaching, always with great acceptability to the people. While presiding elder of the Meadville District the writer found him, and had the pleasure of introducing his former Sunday-school scholar into the active ranks of the Erie Conference. The writer cannot speak of his labors at Newcastle, Centerville, Hendersonville, New Lebanon, Sharpsville, and Ridgway. Suffice it to say, over one thousand souls were saved by this laborious servant of God in the twelve years of his itinerant ministry. Few men of his years were better furnished for the work, or more fully equipped to do great things for God; but he whose wisdom is greater than ours has taken him. We would meekly bow our heads and say, "Thy will, O Father, be done."

North Nebraska Conference.

ZEBULON S. RHONE was born in Luzerne County, Pa., Dec. 2, 1844, and died in Central City, Neb., Feb. 5, 1887. He was converted in early life. In 1872 he joined the Central Pennsylvania Conference. He received the following appointments in that Conference: Jamestown Circuit, one year; Montgomery Station, two years; Logan Valley Circuit, two years; and Burnt Cabins, one year. He was then transferred and stationed at Hamline, in the Kansas Conference, where he remained two years. In 1880 he was transferred to the Nebraska Conference and stationed at Republican City. Then followed Kearney, one year; Blair, one year; Schuyler, two years; Grand Island, two years. From this appointment he was made financial agent of the Nebraska Central College. In 1884 he was elected secretary of the Conference and re-elected the two following sessions. As a preacher he held a high place; strong, clear, concise, having one object in view, to glorify God and win souls. For several days before his death his soul wondrously triumphed. The remains were buried at Schuyler.

LEWIS JANNEY was born in Occaquan, Prince William County, Va., April 14, 1810. He was received on trial by the Baltimore Conference in March, 1834. He was transferred by Bishop Andrews to the Pittsburg Conference the following July. In 1837 he was married to Miss Martha A. Brown, of Georgetown, D. C., who proved to be a helpmeet indeed, sharing with him cheerfully the toils and privations of the itinerancy until, through the failure of his health, in 1843, he was compelled to retire from effective work. Upon the recovery of his health he joined the Erie Conference, from which, after traveling several years, he was transferred to the West Virginia Conference; from that Conference he was received on a certificate of location into the Nebraska Conference in 1866, at its session in Plattsmouth. He did effective work until 1879, when he was granted a supernumerary relation. For more than twenty-five years he traveled, and did efficient work for the Saviour he loved so well.

Ohio Conference.

CHARLES HENRY WARREN was born in Caroline County, Md., in the year 1816. He died Sept. 10, 1887. He began at an early age to exercise his gifts, and showed such ability as a preacher that he soon won the regard of his superiors in the ministry. In the autumn of 1842 he was appointed to supply the place of junior preacher on the Jackson Circuit by Rev. John Ferree, presiding elder, with Jacob Delay as preacher in charge. In 1843 he was recommended to the Annual Conference, which met in Chillicothe, Ohio, as a suitable person to be received into the traveling connection. His appointments were as follows: Pomeroy Circuit, Barlow, Athens, Coolville, McArthur, Richmond, Rehoboth, Chester, Jackson, Mount Pleasant, Richmondale, Berlin, Athens Circuit, Stratford, Frankfort, Adelphi, McArthur, Nelsonville, Middleport, and Carroll. He traveled for thirty-three years. In 1876 he asked for and received a superannuate relation to the Conference, which relation he sustained until his death. These years of superannuation, however, were busy years for him, for he was always actively engaged in his Master's work. He was a well-posted theologian, understanding well our doctrines, and presenting them to the people in such a plain and sensible way that he generally carried conviction to the hearts and consciences of his hearers. He was a faithful pastor. His work was always well done, and no interest of the church ever suffered in his hands. His death was a Christian triumph.

South-east Indiana Conference.

REUBEN ANDRUS, D.D., was born in Rutland, Jefferson County, N. Y., Jan. 29, 1824. At the Illinois Conference in Bloomington, 1850, he was admitted on trial as a Methodist preacher. About two weeks prior to that session he was elected principal of the Preparatory Department of the Illinois Wesleyan University, to which position he was duly appointed, and entered upon his work in October, 1850. The following June he was elected to the chair of mathematics in the same institution. As there was no professor of Greek employed, he volunteered to associate that department with his own, doing for that year double work. The strain was too heavy. His health gave way, and he was compelled to resign his position at the close of the second year. In 1852 he received an appointment to the Springfield Mission. About the middle of the Conference year his church edifice was sold under mortgage, but bought in again by friends of the Church for educational purposes. A school was organized under the name of "Central Academy," with Rev. Reuben Andrus as principal. In 1853 he was appointed to Beardstown; in 1854 to Decatur. Within two months of the close of the Conference year he accepted a call to the presidency of the Illinois Conference Female College at Jacksonville. At the end of the first collegiate year he was re-elected to the position as a permanent relation, but he declined the honor, choosing rather to devote his life to the work of an itinerant minister. In 1856–57 he served as pastor at Quincy, and in 1858–59 at Beardstown. In 1860 he was appointed to Springfield, and in 1862–64 to Bloomington. In 1865 he was again stationed in Quincy. In 1867 he was transferred to the Indiana Conference, and stationed in Evansville, where he remained three years. In 1870 he was stationed in Indianapolis, at Meridian Street. All that time the worshipers were occupying only the basement of their splendid edifice, but during his pastorate the whole building was completed. In 1872 Dr. Andrus was elected to the presidency of Indiana Asbury University as successor to Rev. Thomas Bowman, D.D. This position he retained until July, 1875, when he resigned and returned to the regular work of the itinerant ministry. In 1877 he was transferred to the South-east Indiana Conference, and stationed in Central Avenue Church, Indianapolis, where he remained three years. In 1880–81 he was stationed at Rushville, Ind. In 1882, in broken health, he accepted a supernumerary relation to his Conference, and spent his time for two years upon a farm near Kokomo, Ind. In 1884 he was made effective and appointed to Franklin, in which charge he remained until last September. At the Conference at Indianapolis last September he asked for a superannuated relation. At once he placed himself in the hands of skillful surgeons for thorough treatment. But with all that surgery and medicine could do for him he gradually declined. He died at his home in Indianapolis on the morning of Jan. 17, 1887, at the age of 63 years. Dr. Andrus was first married to Emeline Louisa Van Pelt, of Naples, Ill., in 1849. She died in 1851. In 1853 he was married to Matilda Stamper, of Decatur, Ill., who, with one son and a daughter, survives. His last illness was protracted, and at times attended with much suffering and utter prostration. But he bore up with remarkable fortitude; for he was marvelously sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust in God. As a preacher, Dr. Andrus was clear, analytical, logical, and forcible. His preaching was highly instructive and often deeply convincing. At times he was masterly and eloquent. He re-enforced his pulpit work by the values of his large experience and wide observation as educator and pastor. Socially, he was a most superior man. He was fitted, both by nature and acquirement, to be the presiding spirit of the intelligent circles in which he moved. He shone resplendently in his quiet course, illumined by those graces and virtues which adorn the human character and commend the individual man.

William Evans was born in Baltimore, Md., Jan. 5, 1812, and died in his seventy-sixth year, May 3, 1887, at North Vernon, Ind. He spent forty years in the active ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was an honored supernumerary member of the South-east Indiana Conference for several years preceding his death. All his appointments during his forty years' labor cannot now be given. His first appointments were in the Baltimore Conference. He served several charges in Baltimore city. Among the number were Exeter and Fayette Street Churches. He afterward transferred to the Kentucky Conference, and filled acceptably several important charges in that Conference. In one of those—Catlettsburg—the Church received a wonderful baptism of the Spirit, and many souls were saved. In 1871 he transferred to the South-east Indiana Conference, and was stationed at Dillsborough, Versailles, Manchester, and Saint Paul. At the latter place his health failed him, and he took a supernumerary relation. He was twice married; first in Saint Mary's County, Maryland, to Miss Matilda Carpenter, Aug. 1, 1849. His second marriage was to Miss Alice Bealmear, Baltimore, Md., March 17, 1878. She and their one son survive him. He was sick several months. To questions as to his faith he always responded that it was strong and in Christ alone. As a preacher he was earnest, accurate, profound; and his character was best observed when he was laboring in revival meetings, inspired with shouts of new-born souls. His labors are ended, and he has gone to his reward.

Des Moines Conference.

William D. Bennett, D.D., of the Des Moines Conference, died at San Diego, Cal., Sept. 26, 1886. He was born in Livingston, Clark County, Ill., Aug. 13, 1842. He was admitted to the Minnesota Conference in 1866. May 5, 1868, he was married to Miss Lizzie A. Thayer, of Milton, Wis. After laboring as a traveling preacher for eight years his health failed, and he was obliged to take a supernumerary relation. In a few months, however, he, seeking a more southern climate, was appointed to McGregor, Upper Iowa Conference, which church he served until the ensuing fall, when he transferred to the Des Moines Conference, where he remained until a few weeks before his death, filling some of the leading appointments of the Conference. Closing up his Conference year at Winterset, he came to the Southern California Conference, at San Diego, fully expecting to be able to take work, and full of hope and anticipations of years of usefulness here. But the journey across the mountains severely taxed his feeble strength. He took a cold, which settled upon his long-diseased lungs, and he arrived at San Diego very sick. After two weeks of severe suffering he passed peacefully away, a few days after the Conference adjourned. His wife, accompanied by her two little boys, brought his remains to Los Angeles, and the funeral services were held in Fort Street Church. Brother Bennett was a man of wonderful energy and will-power. His was a pure and consecrated life. He loved the work of the Church, and did faithfully and well all that was committed to him.

John Martin Baker was born in Parki County, Ind., Dec. 4, 1826. He was married to Miss Margaret Van Ness, a member of the Methodist Church, March 12, 1846, and it was doubtless through her influence that he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. She died Sept. 11, 1864. In 1858 he was received by the Annual Conference on trial, and appointed to Audubon and Shelby. His following appointments were: Buena Vista, Brooklyn (now Ohio Charge), Corydon, New York, Hopeville, Mount Ayr, Decatur Circuit. His health failed, and, taking a superannuated relation, he located on a farm in Decatur County, where he lived five years, when he moved to Wayne County, thence to Dallas County, where he died Dec. 22, 1886, in great peace. He was married to Miss Charlotte M. Ruby, who survives him, on July 4, 1865.

Central Ohio Conference.

Ira Chase was born in Bangor, Maine, April 12, 1809, and died in Delaware, Ohio, Sept. 25, 1887. He entered the Ohio Conference in 1835. His labors were in north-western Ohio, and were severe and wearing. He remained in the pastorate six years, and then located on account of ill health, but was readmitted in the Central Ohio Conference in 1858, since which time he has borne a superannuated relation. He was a man of rare virtues, patient, kind, thoughtful of others, only anxious to do good. His life was exemplary, and his death triumphant.

Samuel Lynch was born in Ireland, Feb. 2, 1807, and died in Delaware, Ohio, May 31, 1887. He came to America in 1832, and joined the Ohio Conference in 1833, but became a member of the Central Ohio Conference in 1856, at its organization. He was a pastor twenty-five years, a presiding elder ten years, agent for the Ohio Wesleyan University three years, and was superannuated seventeen years. For fifty-three years he was never absent from the roll-call at Conference. He was a man of flaming zeal, loving heart, and working hand. Content with small salary, he gladly accepted the humble, laborious lot of the pioneer, only anxious to save souls. His ministry was successful on all his charges, and he saw many gracious revivals. His preaching was direct, practical, evangelistic, and fervent. As an administrator of large districts he was conscientious, faithful, and influential. He made himself felt in all the walks of life. For many years Brother Lynch and his noble wife enjoyed a very pleasant home in Delaware with their estimable daughter, Mrs. Capt. Miller. His wife and three children survive him. When the end came he was not surprised or disappointed, but sweetly fell asleep in Jesus.

David Bulle was born in Berkeley County, Va., May 2, 1808, and died in Sidney, O., Feb. 9, 1887. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church June 11, 1832. In 1856 Mr. Bulle was received into the Delaware (now Central Ohio) Conference, that being the first session of this Conference. Much of Mr. Bulle's early ministry was spent in the north-west part of our territory; but he performed the labors, endured the hardships, and experienced the privations of a Methodist pioneer minister, not only without complaint, but with religious joyfulness. Brother Bulle's forte was largely in prayer, exhortation, zeal for souls, and his ability to persuade men to turn to God to-day. He and his good wife celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary Dec. 14, 1886, four daughters and a number of grandchildren, together with many other relatives and friends, joining with them in the festivities of that occasion. His last sickness was of two years' duration; his death was that of the righteous, and our departed brother has exchanged mud roads for golden streets, log cabins for the "house not made with hands," bespattered garments for the white robe, and the warrior's sword for the palm of victory.

Oregon Conference.

HARBERT PATTERSON was converted at Hillsborough, Oregon, the latter part of the winter of 1862. He joined the Oregon Conference in 1867, and did most excellent work for eleven years. In 1878, his health having failed, he took a supernumerary relation and settled at Hillsborough. During this year he supplied the Cornelius Charge, and had a most gracious revival. In 1880–81 he supplied the Hillsborough Circuit. His health was so poor, the greater part of the year, that he could not attend to the outside appointments, and they suffered much in consequence, but in Hillsborough he had an extensive revival. After a short illness he quietly passed away Sept. 7, 1886, at his home in Hillsborough. Of him it may be truly said, "Well done, good and faithful servant." He leaves an aged companion to complete the journey of life alone. May the everlasting arms be around her and the Holy Spirit comfort her.

North Ohio Conference.

CHILTON CRAVEN was born near Leesburg, Loudon County, Va., Nov. 3, 1809. He died Sept. 11, 1887. In 1847 he was received on trial in the North Ohio Conference, at Sydney, Ohio. His first circuit was Cherokee Circuit, Logan County, with twelve appointments in two weeks, where he labored two years. His next was Jefferson, Darke County, where he also remained two years. His early ministry was thus among the privations of a new country, amid swamps, corduroy roads, and malaria, enjoying the hospitality of the early settlers, and preaching in their log-cabins and log school-houses. He was next appointed to Chesterville, where he filled the limit of two years. But the overwork and exposure in the malarial region of Western Ohio had so affected his health and that of his family, that he then took a supernumerary relation, which continued for three years. Made again effective in 1856, he preached on Utica Circuit for one year, then on Millersburg Circuit two years. Then on the Utica Circuit again, two years. Then at Amity one year, and on the division of Amity Circuit, he remained at Gambier the second year. In 1862 he was sent to East Delaware and Eden, remaining here one year. Then by request he was sent to Mount Eaton, which he served as pastor for two years. Then Jeromeville Circuit two years. Then Savannah one year, Congress two years, Dalton one year, East Union three years, Bakersville three years, Killbuck one year, Homer three years, Centerton one year. In 1882 he retired from active service, but continued to be a helper to his pastor in the Sunday-school and the pulpit, loyal to the Church he loved, and to all that was good. Under his ministry a number of his charges experienced revivals. As a pastor his influence was conservative of all good. As a preacher he was sound in doctrine, instructive in matter, and pleasant in manner. In 1884 he was united in marriage to Mary A. Beardsley, who was the solace of his last years, and who now mourns his loss.

Pittsburg Conference.

J. V. YARNELL, for twenty-eight years an honored member of the Pittsburg Conference, died in California, Washington Co., Pa., on the 20th of January, 1887. After his graduation at Allegheny College in 1858, Brother Yarnell entered the Pittsburg Conference in 1859, filling the following positions with marked ability: Georgeville, Claysville, Hillsborough, Florence, McGuire Chapel and Phillipsburg, Sandyville, O.; Bentleysville and Scenery Hill. In 1869 he was superannuated. In all these charges he labored with great acceptability, and with marked success, and won the hearts of the people by his faithful and fearless presentation of the truth. He was especially conspicuous as an original thinker, and as an eloquent speaker, always bringing fresh and attractive thoughts before his congregation. He died as he lived—an exemplary, devoted, conscientious minister of God—and passed in triumph to his eternal reward.

Central New York Conference.

ELLIS D. THURSTON was born in the town of Pittsfield, Otsego County, N. Y., Nov. 10, 1821; he fell asleep in the parsonage in Varna, Tompkins County, N. Y., Dec. 20, 1886. He joined the Oneida Conference in July, 1844. In the forty-two years and five months of effective service he lost only three Sabbaths; this interruption by sickness was the only break in his long and useful service. The following charges were favored with his faithful ministry: New Berlin, Westford, Richmondville, South New Berlin, Coventry, Bainbridge, McDonough and Smithville, Green, Plymouth, Guilford, Mount Upton, Earlville, New Berlin, Newfield, Ledyard, Warners, South Onondaga, Euclid, West Dryden and Asbury, Milford, Enfield, McLean, Varna and Etna. Forty-two years of diligent and faithful pastoral work among all classes found in his charges; hearty and loving co-operation in all benevolent and connectional enterprises; a continuous and wise use of the means of grace for the saving of souls; an earnest, faithful preaching of the gospel in which he instructed, comforted, and persuaded, have in every place made known a happy, holy, and useful man. Brother Thurston married with Miss Eleanor A. Lynch, sister of Rev. W. R. Lynch, a deceased member of the Wyoming Conference, Aug. 2, 1846. If men have preached more eloquently, none have lived more divinely than Ellis D. Thurston. After rising and while dressing on the morning of December 17th he was stricken with apoplexy; three days later, in the evening, he was out of the body and present with the Lord.

MILTON HAMBLIN was born in Aurelius, N. Y., Dec. 18, 1843, and died April 17, 1887, in Brooklyn, N. Y. March 25, 1865, he was married to Miss Pamelia T. Warrick, of Cayuga, N. Y., who survives him. Brother Hamblin was received by the Genesee Conference on trial in 1872, and into full connection in 1874. His fields of labor were as follows: Webster, three years; Chili, three years; Troy, Pa., two years; Ithaca, State Street, three years; Syracuse, W. Genesee Street, three years; and he had but fairly entered upon his work in Clyde when the disease, the foundation of which was laid while in the army, and against which he had battled so bravely until the once stalwart man was little save the shadow of his former self, overcame him and he "ceased at once to labor and to live." Brother Hamblin was naturally eloquent—we question that he could have been otherwise without effort—and so carefully were all his sermons and lectures prepared, that his diction was well-nigh faultless. As a preacher he was conspicuous also for the high range of scriptural and philosophical truths with which his sermons were replete. In the language of the late Dr. Porter, of Geddes: "Had health permitted he could have filled any pulpit in the land acceptably." As a matter of course very large audiences waited upon his ministry, and never, in their eyes, was the preacher belittled or his theme minified by undignified speech or action in the pulpit. He has many souls as seals to his ministry. As a pastor he was faithful to the last measure of his strength. In his intercourse with society at large he was exceedingly fortunate, and ever maintained his Christian dignity and a character that was above suspicion.

ANDREW PECK was born in Middlefield, Otsego County, N. Y., April 29, 1800. His span of life stretched out over eighty-seven years, dying May 6, 1887. He belonged to an illustrious family. Five sons were devoted to the ministry by the Christian mother; namely, Luther, George, Andrew, William, and Jesse T. Andrew survived all his brothers, and all but one of his sisters. He began at once to work for the salvation of others. His brother George, in his biography, acknowledges him as the means of his awakening and conversion. The deceased was married three times. To Polly Hudson in 1824, to Electa Gunn in 1833, and to Betsy Finn in 1857, who is still living. Of his children, eight in number, one, Wesley, is now a member of the California Conference, and one, Elbert, a member of the Central New York Conference. Although, by reason of physical infirmity, especially weakness of voice, Brother Peck was actively engaged in pastoral service only twenty-five years, including three as a presiding elder, it was, nevertheless, emphatically true of him that, in some patriotic or philanthropic, as well as Christian enterprise, he was an indefatigable and successful worker till very near the close of his life. He was always in hearty sympathy with the pastor where he lived, heartily co-operating with him in every good word and work, and until his infirmities prevented was regular in his attendance on all the social as well as public means of grace.

ROBERT BREWSTER was born in Perthshire, Scotland. He was ordained a minister in the Wesleyan Methodist Church at Belleville, Ont., June 11, 1854, and received in the Central New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1870. He preached the Gospel and cared for the churches at Brewerton Magnolia Chapel (now Brown Memorial), Oneida, Fayetteville, Lodi, Port Gibson and Blossburg, Pa. With unceasing industry he toiled, and the lives of those converted by his ministry, the memories of the people, and the still more exact books that will be opened have the record of these seventeen years stamped upon them. Suddenly the activities closed when he fell asleep at Blossburg, June 24, 1887, in the sixty-second year of his life, and the thirty-fourth year of his ministry. In his Conference he was gentle, fearless, and loyal; his place in the Conference prayer-meeting was rarely, if ever, vacant. June 20, 1855, he married Miss Malissa J. Roblin. He was turning his thoughts toward provisions for a home for his old age, but the house not made with hands was ready first.

Cincinnati Conference.

RICHARD BRANDRIFF was born in Cumberland County, N. J., Feb. 3, 1803, and died in Piqua, Ohio, July 16, 1887, aged eighty-four years. The story of his religious life and labor can be best related in his own words. He says: "In 1805 my parents removed to Ohio and settled near Cumminsville, in the vicinity of Cincinnati. On the 8th of June, 1817, at a camp-meeting eleven miles below Cincinnati, I embraced religion, and some two weeks afterward united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In August, 1821, I was licensed to preach at a District Conference, held at a camp-meeting near Laurenceburg, Ind., and recommended to the Ohio Conference for admission into that body as a traveling preacher on trial. I was received into the Conference in 1822, and appointed as follows: Greenville, London, Piqua and Troy, Piqua, Salt Creek, Wilmington, Piqua again, Mad River, Urbana, Springfield, Mechanicsburg, and Urbana again. In 1833 I took a superannuated relation, my health having so far failed as to prevent my doing full work. This relation I sustained for several years." In 1836, on account of his antislavery opinions, Brother Brandriff withdrew from the Methodist Episcopal Church and united with the Wesleyan Church. As a result, however, of the abolition of slavery, and by the invitations of the bishops, expressed at their meeting in Erie, Pa., Brother Brandriff, in connection with several other ministers, returned to the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1867. Brother Brandriff was an ardent advocate of the antislavery reform, and after the abolition of slavery he entered with great zeal into the cause of temperance, and became an uncompromising prohibitionist. His death was triumphant. His mind remained clear until the very last moment. Just before he passed into the unseen, and when the power of speech was gone, he indicated by a look of recognition that he knew his faithful daughters who stood by him, and then with a beaming countenance, looking upward as though seeing some one whose appearing gave him special delight, he peacefully closed his eyes to earthly scenes and opened them in heaven.

WILLIAM YOUNG, D.D., was born at Staunton, Augusta County, Va., June 20, 1807, and died at his residence in Loveland, Ohio, Aug. 25, 1887. In 1830 Brother Young was received into the Ohio Conference at Lancaster, and sent to Zanesville Circuit as junior preacher; then, in 1831, to Lancaster. In 1832 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Emory, and appointed to Marietta, and in 1833 to Portsmouth. In 1834 he was ordained elder by Bishop Soule, and sent to Charleston, Va., after which he received the following appointments: Lancaster, Charleston, Urbana, Xenia, Springfield, Piqua, Cincinnati, Zanesville, Agent of Ohio Wesleyan University and Cincinnati Female College, reappointed Agent of Cincinnati Female College, Marietta, Chillicothe, Park Street, Cincinnati, Bethel, Cincinnati, Agent of American Tract Society, Georgetown District, East Cincinnati District, Christie, Cincinnati, Amelia, Troy, Lebanon, Red Lion and Springborough, Morrow, McLean, Cincinnati, Pendleton, McKendree, Cincinnati, City Missionary, Loveland, Winton Place, Agent of Preacher's Relief Society. He was four times a member of the General Conference—1856, 1860, 1864, and 1868. Dr. Young had the courage of his convictions. While at Morrow he made himself odious to the saloon keepers and liquor men by his earnest words and hearty support of the noble Christian women who were engaged in the crusade against the horrid iniquity of intemperance. His enemies threatened his life several times, and one night fired several shots into his study. But, fortunately, in the good providence of God, he had gone out of Morrow that night to be with his sick wife at Lebanon. During his last illness he never murmured, but patiently submitted to the will of God. On the 14th of August he called his family around him and said, "I now realize that the time of my departure is near." On the 23d of August he said to those at his bedside, "Down on your knees and I will pray." Then placing his hands in an attitude of supplication, said, "O Lord," and then after much effort said, "Jesus," which was the last word he ever uttered. He remained conscious until an hour before he passed the river of death. Dr. Young, though delicate in youth, became very robust, and had a powerful physique, with a stentorian voice. He was a strong man and had much of the unction of the Holy Spirit in his preaching. He was an extensive reader, a close observer, a sound theologian, and succeeded in bringing many souls to Christ. He felt that he had a great mission from God to perishing men. With this inspiration he went into the whitened fields, and with a powerful arm gathered sheaves for the Master.

Granville Moody, D.D., was born in Portland, Me., Jan. 2, 1812. On Christmas, 1831, at a quarterly meeting in Norwich, at the close of the love-feast on Sunday morning, young Moody, having first obtained the approval of his parents, united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He now entered upon a course of reading and study, devoting his spare hours to such works as Watson's Institutes, Wesley's Sermons, Fletcher's Checks, and Clark's Commentaries. He was received into the Ohio Conference at the session held in Cincinnati, Aug. 21, 1833, and sent to Springfield Circuit. His next appointment was London Circuit. In 1835 he was appointed to McKendree Chapel, Cincinnati, a very responsible and difficult position, at that time, for a young minister, but his labors were greatly blessed, and many were added to the Church. While serving this charge he was happily married, Jan. 19, 1836, to Lucretia Elizabeth Harris. For fifty years that noble woman nobly fulfilled the vows of the marriage altar, and with such devotion to her family and Church, with such gentle and winning sweetness of spirit, with such womanly and rare tact, that when death wrenched her from her husband's side he mourned like a king discrowned and in exile. In 1836 Dr. Moody was appointed to Wesley Chapel, Cincinnati. In 1837 he was appointed to Troy Circuit. His subsequent appointments, down to the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion, were: Franklin Circuit, Miami Circuit, Oxford, Lebanon, McKendree Chapel (second term), Columbus, Lancaster, Zanesville, Springfield; Raper Chapel, Dayton; Xenia, Piqua, Urbana, and Morris Chapel, Cincinnati. In 1860 he was appointed to Morris Chapel—now St. Paul Church—Cincinnati. While serving this important charge the war-clouds which had been gathering for some years on our southern horizon burst in fury upon the land. Believing it his duty at this period to serve his country in the army of volunteers he, by the advice of his ministerial brethren, resigned his pulpit, and entered the army as colonel of the Seventy-fourth Ohio Regiment. On his return from the army, as soon as his health permitted, he resumed his place in the ranks of the itinerant ministry, serving out the unexpired term of the lamented Rev. John T. Mitchell, on the Cincinnati District. He was afterward stationed successively in Piqua (second term), Ripley, Newport, Ky., and York Street, Cincinnati. He then served as presiding elder of Ripley District four years, and was subsequently stationed in Middletown, Hamilton, and Jamestown, his last charge, to which he was appointed in 1881. In the autumn of 1882, on account of failing health, he took a supernumerary relation, and removed to his farm near Jefferson, Iowa, where he resided until his death on Saturday evening, June 4, 1887.

David Whitmer was born in Lancaster County, Pa., March 10, 1823. In 1844 he was admitted into the Ohio Conference as a traveling preacher, and appointed to Fairfield Circuit. His subsequent appointments were Fletcher, Lewisburg, Camden; Christie Chapel, Cincinnati; North Bend, Batavia, Augusta, Ky., West Union, Highland, Middletown, Winchester, Fletcher (second term), Addison, Fremont, King's Creek, Mingo and Mt. Tabor, Jamestown, Lynchburg, Leesburg, New Burlington, and Union. Of the forty years of his active ministry, twenty-nine were spent in or adjoining three counties—Champaign, Highland, and Greene, showing that where he was best known his services were in greatest demand. In addition to the regular pastoral work above mentioned, Brother Whitmer acted as Financial Agent of the Hillsboro College for three years, rendering most effective and important service in behalf of that institution of learning. On the 15th of May, 1849, Brother Whitmer was married to Miss Hannah J. Fox, of Butler County, Ohio, of whom he says in his journal: "She proved to me a helpmate indeed—intelligent, pious, talented, and prudent, and withal very devoted to the one great work of soul-saving." Her itinerant career, however, was a brief one. While on Highland Circuit, and after a happy married life of a few short years, she passed triumphantly home, leaving two small children, the youngest but eighteen months old. Brother Whitmer was again married July 20, 1857, to Miss Amanda C. Gardener, of Clarksville, Ohio, of whom he writes in his journal as follows: "A married life now of over a quarter century has only confirmed me in the conviction that no one else living could so well have supplied the light and life of our former happy home." Brother Whitmer was an able and successful preacher of the Gospel. His sermons were plain, methodical, evangelical, and often powerful. He was a fearless defender of the faith, and was equally bold in denouncing sin—not merely indulging in glittering generalities, but calling things by their right names, and attacking the enemy in his strongholds. During the Civil War he was intensely patriotic and fearlessly outspoken. On the subject of temperance he was equally decided in his convictions and straightforward in his course. "I first witnessed the work of the Woman's Crusade in Xenia," he says in his journal, "and it called forth all the sympathy of my being, and ever had my most hearty moral and material support." In 1884 Brother Whitmer closed his fortieth year of active ministerial service, having that year completed his term of three years on Union Circuit, his last regular appointment. He purchased a beautiful home in Xenia, where, with his family, he expected, and, no doubt, greatly desired to spend a few restful and quiet years in the evening of life. But even then the doors of the nobler mansion above were opening to his advancing feet, and he dwells now in "the house not made with hands." David Whitmer was, in a high degree, a conscientious man; one, too, whose conscience was as true to duty as the needle to the pole. He had in him the stuff of which martyrs are made. He could have died for Christ, but could never have betrayed him. He walked daily in the pathway marked out by the ten commandments. His life was a beautiful illustration of the religion he preached, and I doubt if any man ever lived in this world sixty-four years who spoke fewer words which, "dying, he could wish to blot." For several weeks he was confined to his room, and generally to his bed, by a complication of disorders, which baffled the skill of the best physicians. In the midst of his sufferings his soul was kept in perfect peace. I was often with him, and his language, in prospect of death, was always that of holy triumph. He gradually grew worse until the morning of Thursday, June 23, 1887, when, surrounded by a loving household, a faithful wife, and loyal and affectionate children, he quietly breathed his last, and "was not, for God took him."

Illinois Conference.

William S. Prentice, D.D., was born in Saint Clair County, Ill., May 21, 1819, and died in Springfield, Ill., June 28, 1887, aged sixty-eight years. He was married Dec. 21, 1842, to Martha Ann Walsh, of Vandalia, Ill., who walked by his side forty-five years, assisting him in his work and sharing with him the joys and sorrows of an itinerant life, and who patiently and trustingly awaits the call to join him in heaven. He was converted in Shelbyville at a remarkable revival under the labors of Rev. James B. Woolard. Soon afterward he was licensed to preach, and in 1849 he was admitted on trial into the Illinois Annual Conference and assigned to Paris

Circuit. He then filled successively the Danville Circuit for two years, and Paris again for one year; then Carlinville two years, Vermont Street Church, Quincy, one year, and West Church, Jacksonville, one year. During the next four years he traveled the Springfield District, and the four years following the Jacksonville District. In 1860 he was appointed to the Second Church, Springfield, as its first pastor, where he labored successfully for three years. Then in succession he traveled the Springfield, Decatur, and Jacksonville Districts, and again the Springfield District, on each a full term of four years. In 1884 he was granted a supernumerary relation, which was changed to superannuated at the last Conference. In 1860 he was elected delegate to the General Conference, and also in 1872, and was successively elected a delegate to each succeeding General Conference during his life. He was not metaphysical in his mode of thought, nor was he poetical to any extent in his mental conceptions, but his analytic power was remarkable. He was a very superior preacher. He seemed to seize upon the salient points, the very essence and marrow of the truth, and so present it that every one who heard him felt moved to accept and appropriate it. He was a true man, honorable and upright in every thing, and possessed strong intellectual powers, well cultivated, of wide mental grasp, but not incapable of entering into minute detail. He was a profoundly religious man, and while he never said much about his religion or his experience, yet when he did speak his testimony was clear and unequivocal. To the last his faith was unfaltering, his testimony clear, and without a shudder he stepped down into the stream of death.

George M. Crays, a superannuated member of the Illinois Conference, died at his home near Armstrong, May 1, 1887. Brother Crays was born in Sangamon County, Ill., Aug. 25, 1833, and was converted in Macoupin County, Ill., in 1853. He was received on trial in the Illinois Conference in 1855, and was appointed junior preacher on the Danville Circuit. He served the following appointments: Sangamon, Greenfield, Augusta and Pulaski, Lima, Nilwood, Mount Sterling, Petersburg and Athens, Chandlerville, Topeka, Mason Circuit, Catlin, Ridge Farm, Bismarck. He was a superannuate from 1881 until the time of his death, though for the last two years of his life he served as a supply on the Gifford Circuit. On Sept. 14, 1859, Brother Crays married Miss Maria Courtney, who survives him. Our brother seemed to be aware of the approach of death. He said to a brother watching with him, "My work is done;" then, as it grew evident that his time was short, he took farewell of children and wife, leaving a dying father's counsel. His composure was remarkable. His death was triumphant and his victory complete.

Blatchley C. Wood was born in Iredell County, N. C., Nov. 5, 1797. He united with the Methodist Church in 1817, and was received in the Tennessee Conference in 1820. The next year he fell into the Kentucky Conference and filled in succession the Somerset, Barren, Bacon Creek, and Green River Circuits. In 1825–26 he was superannuated. In 1827 he was on the Christian Circuit, then for seven years he was superannuated, and in 1835 located. The year after his admission to the ministry he was married, in Pulaski County, to Miss Nancy McCaw, with whom he came, in 1834, to Green County, Ill. The first fourteen years of his life there were devoted to the practice of medicine, when he again resumed his first and most sacred calling, laboring faithfully in Jerseyville, Jacksonville, Upper Alton, Greenfield, Naples, Exeter, and Manchester Charges. In 1863 he was granted a superannuated relation, in which he continued until his death, which occurred near Carrolton, Ill., Jan. 16, 1887, in his ninetieth year. No man had a larger charity for human weaknesses and errors; none had larger hopes for humanity. He constantly kept his finger upon the pulse of the Church, an interested observer of all departments of her work. He often aroused the flagging columns by battle shouts that were freighted with the instinct and assurance of victory. He had a consuming enthusiasm for the success of the great benevolences of the Church, and was for years one of the most valuable supporters of every movement looking toward the spiritual or intellectual elevation of the people, while his private character and disposition were such as to win for him the warmest affection of those who knew him. He was a veritable land-mark in Methodism, thoroughly grounded in her traditions, a most able exponent and defender in her theology and polity, and yet so broad, kind, and catholic in his spirit and practice as to have retained the confidence and good-will of all denominations of Christians. His end was peace.

John S. Kirkpatrick was born in Sangamon County, Illinois, April 1, 1825. On Christmas-day 1845, he married Miss Sarah Bruce, who survives him. He was received on trial in the Illinois Conference in 1852, and traveled in succession the following charges: Liberty, two years; Littleton, Havana and Chili, one year each. In 1857 he was superannuated. The next year he was sent to Pulaski, and for the two following years to Plymouth. In 1861–62 he served as chaplain of the Seventh Missouri Cavalry. In 1863 he was assigned to the Rushville Circuit, and for the three following years to La Prairie. In 1867 he was on the supernumerary list. In 1868–69 he was at Lima, and in 1870 at Mendon. In 1871 he was granted a superannuated relation, in which he continued until his death. Brother Kirkpatrick removed to Kansas in 1876. His health being somewhat improved he was appointed by Rev. W. J. Mitchel, presiding elder, to the Beloit Circuit, North-west Kansas Conference, which he supplied one year. Rev. J. H. Lockwood, presiding elder, secured his labors for three years on the Round Springs Charge, and one year at Saltville. In 1863 his health failed so that he was unable to preach any more. He was a patient sufferer until his death, which occurred at his home in Mitchell County, Kan., Dec. 21, 1886, from hemorrhage of the lungs. His last words were, "All is over." He was a good man, a fair preacher, and a consistent Christian.

John W. Lapham was born near Decatur, Ill., Dec. 18, 1832, and died in California in the summer of 1887. He was converted in the fall of 1850. When the War of the Rebellion broke out he enlisted in the army, serving as captain and major in the One Hundred and Fifteenth Regiment of Illinois Volunteers under Colonel J. H. Moore. After the war he studied theology in Garrett Biblical Institute, and in 1870 was received on trial in the Illinois Conference, in which he served the following charges: Lovington, Arcola Circuit, Oakland, Windsor, South Shelbyville, Palmer, Irving, and Butler, Mount Pulaski, Waynesville, Marshall Circuit, Sullivan, De Witt and Deland. In 1884 he was placed on the superannuated list, on which he continued until his death. Brother Lapham was a man of remarkable zeal and persistence, which, after he entered the ministry, led him to continued efforts to increase the membership of his charges. And in some of his appointments he succeeded in inducing hundreds to unite with the Church. Before his death his mind became seriously affected.

Upper Iowa Conference.

William F. Dove was born in Wick, Saint Lawrence, Somersetshire, England, and died in Beaman, Grundy County, Ia., Dec. 25, 1886, aged forty-eight years. He was converted in early life, and while yet in his teens traveled Barnwell Circuit as a local preacher of the Wesleyan Church. He came to America in 1857 and settled in Iowa. He was married to Miss Elizabeth M. Millar, of Dyersville, in 1860. He connected himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church after coming to America. He was ordained local deacon by Bishop Simpson Sept. 17, 1863, joined the Upper Iowa Conference on trial, and was stationed at Iron Hill. He was received into full connection in the Conference in 1865, and was stationed at Buckingham, and in 1866 at Grundy Center. He was ordained elder by Bishop Janes in 1867, and stationed at Center Point, to which place he was returned the second year. He was then stationed at Otterville, Winthrop, Farley, Ackley, Traer, Springville, Lisbon, Monmouth, Delmar, and Beaman, where, in three months, he fell at his post, being absent from his pulpit but two Sabbaths. He was a light-hearted, sweet-spirited brother, a good preacher, earnest and laborious in the pastoral work. Gracious revivals usually attended his labors, while the Church's prosperity invariably bore testimony to his transforming power. His preaching had no uncertain sound, and his testimony was clear as to his experience of full salvation.

Wesley H. Miller was born in Wayne County, Pa., Dec. 13, 1819, and died at his home in Fayette, April 14, 1887, in his sixty-eighth year. He found peace through faith in Christ when twenty years of age while in school at Cazenovia, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and soon after was licensed to preach. He served charges as a supply during 1843–44. In the latter he was married to Miss Harriett, second daughter of Dr. E. Bowen. He joined the Oneida Conference that fall. In 1845 he was appointed to Smyrna, but early in the year he resigned his charge to take the principalship of Windsor Academy, which place he filled for two years, and then resigned to complete his course at Wesleyan University. After he was graduated he again took work in the Conference, was ordained deacon by Bishop Hamline, and served consecutively the following charges: Vienna, Scipio, McGrawsville, Cincinnatus, Homer and Skaneateles. He then came to Keokuk, Ia., and took charge of an academy for ladies, with his wife as assistant teacher. He united with the Upper Iowa Conference at its session in 1858, and was stationed at Epworth. In the fall of 1860 he removed to Fayette, and for several years acted as financial agent for Upper Iowa University. In 1870 he was married to Mrs. Ruth Lock Parker, and again took work in the Conference, and served the following charges: Rockwell, Maysville, Chelsea, Dysart, Solon and Walker, again superannuating in 1879. Brother Miller was a man of intellectual power and furnishing considerably above the average. His religion was of the Methodist type. There was no uncertainty in his experience. He was deeply in earnest and with positive convictions, yet always manifesting a gentle, humble spirit. Death was caused by an internal cancerous tumor. There was a gradual sinking into unconsciousness, which seemed to stop all pain and separate him from his surroundings several hours before his death, which was quiet and painless.

D. N. Holmes.—[Obituary not received.]

Holston Conference.

Nathaniel G. Taylor was born of wealthy and influential parents at Elizabethtown, Carter County, Tennessee, Dec. 29, 1819. Dr. Taylor was a Lay Delegate from the Holston Conference in the General Conference in 1872, and in October of the same year he joined the itinerant ranks in the Holston Conference, of which he remained a member until his death. In 1842 he was united in marriage with Miss Emma Haynes, who, with six sons and three daughters, survives him, one son, Robert L., being the Governor of Tennessee. In person, voice, manner, intellect, imagination and ready command of language, Dr. Taylor was almost an ideal orator. In the pulpit or on the platform he had few peers. He died at his home in the bosom of his family, April 1, 1887, in the 68th year of his age.

John W. Holden died suddenly of hemorrhage of the lungs, in Titusville, Fla. He was born at Connersville, Tenn., Oct. 29, 1858. Early in life he gave his heart to Jesus and cast in his lot with God's people in the McKendree Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Tennessee, whither the family had moved. From that period until his death his life has been one continued sermon, illustrative of the religion he professed. He loved the house of God, and was never absent from any of its services unless providentially hindered. Like his blessed Master, he went about doing good. Always ready to speak a good word of warning, counsel or encouragement to those whom he met. He joined the Holston Conference, East Tennessee, and entered upon his first charge in the Asylum Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Knoxville, where he preached about thirteen months, when, on account of failing health, he was compelled to give up work there and seek a milder climate. During his eight months sojourn in Florida, he was a sufferer most of the time, but until the last three months of his life he was able to go about and do some business. He bore his sickness with Christian patience and fortitude, awaiting the summons to come up higher, and receive the glorious reward.

Daniel Carter was born, in 1813, and raised in Jefferson County (where his entire life was spent) and was converted in early life. Was licensed to preach, about the year 1850, and worked as local preacher until the the re-organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church, when he became a member of this Conference in which he did six or seven years' work. During the last several years he has held a superannuated relation, doing what labor he could in the ministry. He loved the Church, and aided it out of his means to the best of his ability. He died in faith, August 30, 1887.

J. F. Morrison.—[Obituary not received.]

Dakota Conference.

T. S. Hunt died at Aurora, Ind., July 22, 1887. He was born in Ohio County, Ind., Dec. 17, 1845. In 1869 Brother Hunt married Miss Ellen F. Spoor, who is remembered as an earnest and devoted Christian. He was admitted to the South-east Indiana Conference in September, 1871. He served very acceptably Sugar branch, New Pennington, Moorfield, and Manchester Charges. In 1876 he was transferred to South Kansas Conference. His appointments were El Dorado, Arkansas City, Neodesha, Oswego, Independence, and Chanute. He was transferred to Dakota Conference in 1885. He was stationed at Woonsocket, and by his kind and Christian teaching and holy living he won a warm place in the hearts of all the citizens. The Church was edified in the true sense during his pastorate. One year ago he was appointed to the Rapid City Charge of the Black Hills Mission. The hard work, rigorous climate, and a sad accident hastened his death. While attending a District Conference at Crook City, he was thrown from a buggy backward, striking head-first, tearing the clavicle from the shoulder. This irritated his cough, but as soon as he could he began preaching and held a gracious revival. In the midst of the meeting he was prostrated and called for help. He began preaching as soon as he could speak, though his ministerial and official brethren begged him to desist or only preach short sermons, and that only once a day. But that was impossible for one of his nervous intensity. He never knew what Wesley calls "calm, deliberate enthusiasm." At the close of his third quarter he knew that he was soon to be born into the undying life. He was released from his charge, but could not bear the thought of dying in that wild region, so far from friends and loved ones. He prayed that he might have strength to view again his boyhood home and the face of his mother. The prayer was answered. On the 17th of July he reached the old home, only to die five days later.

WILLIAM H. HOADLEY was born near Rockford, Ill., May 15, 1840. In 1870 he enlisted in the great army of itinerant Methodist preachers, being admitted to the Rock River Conference. He served the following charges: Franklinville, Frankfort, Lisbon, Kankakee, Plattsville, and Peotone. In 1882 he came to Huron and assumed the pastorate of the church. His health failing, in the following spring he resigned his charge and retired for six months to his farm. Brother Hoadley was transferred to the Dakota Conference in 1885 and appointed to Altoona. His health again failing, he retired with his family to Huron, where, amid hosts of friends, he died in great peace Nov. 5, 1886.
